

Communities and Industries in the Arctic: Exploring the relations

- What: Arctic Social Science and Humanities Symposium
- When: 23 March, 2017 from 12:00 to 17:00
- Where: Wageningen University and Research, Wageningen
- Aim: During this symposium we present new social scientific research in Arctic communities, discuss the relevance of these insights for Dutch Arctic policy, and strengthen the Dutch network of social science and humanities researchers working in the Arctic

Tentative programme

- Lunch
- Presentations by:
 - Dr. Maria Tysiachniouk (WUR): Comparing benefit-sharing arrangements between oil companies and communities in Russia and Alaska
 - Dr. Annette Scheepstra (Arctic Centre, University of Groningen): Community and industry relations: insights from the Arctic Council
 - Prof. Jan van Tatenhove (WUR): Industries and societal interests in the Arctic: The social license to operate
- Breakout groups: The policy implications of communities and industry relations
- Panel discussion with the presenters and Jorden Splinter (Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Netherlands)

Organisation, reservations and questions:

- Dr. Machiel Lamers, ENP-WUR: machiel.lamers@wur.nl
- Dr. Judith Klostermann, Alterra-WUR: judith.klostermann@wur.nl