Dear PhD candidate,

The summer of 2017 is all about digitization for the Graduate School for the Humanities. This newsletter is an example of one of these digital changes. Every month, you will receive a newsletter in which we will keep you updated about everything to do with the Faculty, the GSH and all the PhD candidates.

Each newsletter will also contain upcoming PhD ceremonies and an agenda with upcoming events, modules and workshops. As of today, you can find the PhD training programme via the website of the GSH and you can register for each module online! Take a sharp look at the sign-up dates as the deadline for registration is usually two months in advance. That way the GSH is able to create a programme tailored to the wishes and interests of the group of participants.

In this newsletter, we want to pay special attention to the GSH introductory event that will be organised on September 27th. During the afternoon, information about the PhD programme and the role of the graduate school is given. However, the event is mainly to introduce new PhD candidates to each other, as well as to more senior PhD candidates in the graduate school. After the event, the candidates are invited to an informal get-together hosted by the GSH.

For now, we would like to wish you all a wonderful summer and we look forward to seeing you next academic year!
Best wishes,
Graduate School for the Humanities
