Latest grants for the University of Groningen

Three projects from the University of Groningen have acquired funding. Two of the projects are funded nationally. The Dutch Ministry of the Interior and Kingdom Relations invests €100,000,- in Michel Vols (Faculty of Law). NWO-granted €495,876,- to investigate the role of values and moral emotions. Researchers are Goda Perlaviciute and Linda Steg (Faculty of Social Sciences).

The third grant is part of the European Horizon2020 programme. About the project: AfricanBioServices: Linking biodiversity, ecosystem functions and services in the Great Serengeti-Mara Ecosystem. Han Olff (Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences) is workpackage leader in the project. The project entails an investment of 10 million euros over the next four years. One million euros is awarded to Olff’s workpackage.

Read more about these grants.

Yearbook 2014 Sustainable Society

Sustainable Society proudly presents its first Yearbook! This yearbook represents our work through what we have done and what we advocate. If you like to receive a copy of this yearbook, please contact our secretary. A digital version is also available on our website.

Enjoy reading!
In the spotlight

The website of Sustainable Society has been updated. One of the new items on the website is In the spotlight. We decided to provide a platform for researchers and their research by putting videos on our website. These videos give you insight in the variety of research that is done within the University of Groningen, linked to Sustainable Society. The current researcher in the spotlight is Albert Jan Abma, teacher Science & Society.

COST

Last year Sustainable Society organised an information meeting about COST. Several researchers and other participants presented their experiences with COST. This information and the opportunity for researches to meet each other pays off. Several researchers at the University of Groningen are now involved in a COST programme. Furthermore a growing number of researchers is aware of the opportunities that COST has to offer and they develop new ideas for future “Actions”. Read more