OUSSEP Osaka University Short-term Student Exchange Program

Guide lines

Since the 1996-97 academic year, the Osaka University Short-term Student Exchange Program (OUSSEP) has offered academic lectures taught in English (International Exchange Subjects) under the close coordination of the Center for International Education and Exchange (CIEE).

Language Requirements

- TOEFL iBT 80 or higher
- IELTS 6.0 or higher
- Cambridge English with CEFR B2 level or higher
- Official assessment report (on both receptive and productive skills) of home university's language center
- Official certificate/letter which proves English is the medium of instruction at the student's school/faculty/graduate school

Student Status

Special Auditor (Credited): Applicable for both undergraduate students and graduate students

- Duration: Fixed period (semester based)
 - 1 semester (15 weeks):
From April to August, or from October to February
 - 2 semesters (30 weeks):
From April to February, or from October to August
- Applicant will participate in credited supervised research, and have an option to take other credited courses

Credits and Completion

All OUSSEP courses, including the Japanese Language Program, Independent Study, and Internship Course, are electives. The minimum requirement each semester for the satisfactory completion of OUSSEP is 14 credits and the mandatory participation in that semester's field trip.

The International Affairs Committee of Osaka University will award Certificates of Completion to students who successfully complete OUSSEP. Aside from the International Exchange Subjects, Independent Study Course, Internship Course, and CIEE Japanese Language course, two of Osaka University's regular credits can be counted toward the completion of OUSSEP.

Field Trips

The OUSSEP program offers field trips for students in order to give them opportunities to see as many things and to meet as many people as possible during their full-year or half-year stay in Japan. As a part of the academic courses, students go on trips, including overnight trips, to different parts of the country to meet local people and experience local culture. Students have traveled to Hiroshima to listen to English testimony of atomic bombing survivors, and to Koyasan to stay at one of the mountain temples that was once at the heart of esoteric Buddhism. OUSSEP participants who successfully acquire the required credits for completion will be able to join these field trips without having to pay a fee.

Structure of the Program

International Exchange Subjects are offered by a variety of faculties and are designed mainly for 3rd year undergraduate students. Exchange students for OUSSEP are expected to earn at least 14 credits each semester mostly from International Exchange Subjects (28 credits in an academic year). This includes Independent Study Course, Internship Course, and Japanese language classes. Students can then transfer the credits to their home institutions.

International Exchange Subjects

Osaka University tries to balance the number of students majoring in the natural sciences (including engineering and medicine), the humanities, and the social sciences. Students may select their subjects according to their majors and interests. At the same time, students are encouraged to take subjects outside their own majors as this will help them to broaden their perspective and gain a deeper understanding of Japanese society and culture.

Independent Study Course

One of the unique features of the Full-year and Half-year OUSSEP programs is the Independent Study (2-4 credits per semester). Students can propose a study topic and are then assigned to a supervising professor in an appropriate school/faculty/graduate school. Students may study a particular subject that is not found in the International Exchange Subjects (Individual Study) or conduct a research project on a particular theme (Independent Research). Students and their supervising professor will agree upon the scope and depth of the study at the beginning of the program*. For Full-year OUSSEP students, the Independent Study usually continues for two semesters. At the end of each semester students submit their report on the topic to the supervising professor. Refer to the Guide to Independent Study found on the OUSSEP Website for further details. Those who wish to undertake Independent Study must fill out the Independent Study Proposal along with the other application documents.

*When the amount of work required for the Independent Study is particularly large in scope, the supervising professor and the International Affairs Committee may decide to grant up to 4 credits per semester for graduate students, instead of the usual 2 credits.

OUSSEP Internship Course

From October 2020, OUSSEP launched a new Internship Course to provide an opportunity for participants to gain practical work experience and earn academic credits. In this course, OUSSEP cooperates with partner in the private sector.

CIEE Japanese Language Course

In addition to the aforementioned courses, OUSSEP students may take any of the six levels of Japanese courses (4 credits each semester) according to their proficiency level.

Students' Voices

IRLES VALVERDE David

Doing a student exchange, especially in these days, is not an easy task. It can be hard to leave your home country and dear ones, as well as to prepare everything you need for your stay in a completely different country. However, Osaka University will always try to help all of us as much as possible. A serious and prestigious university, but at the same time close and caring towards its students. During my stay in Japan, I have been able to successfully complement my studies, while at the same time improving my Japanese and opening my mind towards the culture not only of Japan but also of many other countries. I am very grateful to be able to live this experience.

DARMASTUTI Kinanti Kawuryan
(Indonesia)

During my exchange with OUSSEP, I am able to receive the best learning experience with the help of my international family. The staff were very informative in preparing my departure to Japan, the professors were patiently helping me adjust with Japan's learning atmosphere, and the dormitory staff I lived in always made sure I am all prepared for my daily life in Japan. The opportunity to meet people from various countries is also precious. Overall, I really enjoyed the experience!

Frontier Lab

Guide lines

FrontierLab is a unique, long-term exchange program that functions as an academic internship in science and technology. Participants will become student members of a research group in one of Osaka University's internationally renowned science and technology fields and do full-time research work under the academic supervision of a faculty member.

*Please check the list of Osaka University schools/faculty/graduate schools (P4-5) of the Admission Guide that offer positions in their labs. Students are responsible for contacting prospective supervisors.

Students' Voices

Student from USA (Graduate School of Pharmaceutical Sciences)

I have nothing but good things to say about my time in my assigned lab. My research environment was very enjoyable, while conducting research was my primary job. I never felt like I was too busy. My supervisor was very involved in guiding my research during my time in the lab. The senior students were also very helpful whenever I needed help as well.

Student from Germany (Institute for Protein Research)

It is very big campus and has good research opportunities. My supervisor was very professional and friendly. I was treated with same respect as other lab students. Thank you, that you let me be part of this program! It was a very great experience in and off the laboratory.

Student from Indonesia (Graduate School of Engineering)

The tutors were very good and helpful. Japan is a nice country and I loved living here. FrontierLab is an awesome program, especially if you are really into research. Overall, it was really fun experience!

Student from China (School of Engineering)

This program is wonderful for me, giving me a chance to communicate with fantastic supervisor in the lab. During this semester, I've learnt a lot from my supervisor, and students in the lab. It will be an unforgettable experience for me, and I hope this program will go on to attract more and more foreign students. Although it is just a program for half year, I have already strongly bonded to lab members, and I think we will keep in contact even when I come back. A wonderful program! I love it!

Maple Program

Guide lines

The Maple Program is an intensive Japanese language and culture program for exchange students designed by Osaka University's Center for Japanese Language and Culture (CJLC). The program officially starts in September with placement and orientation (classes start in October) and comes to an end in August of the following year. A Certificate of Program Completion will be issued to students who earn 30 or more credits throughout the year. This program was designed to meet the diverse needs of students studying Japanese language and culture. The program offers around 160 credit-bearing subjects, including research subjects, Japanese language subjects, and Independent Study courses. You can put the knowledge and skills you acquire through these courses to use in the Directed Research and Reading (MDR), a required subject that is the core of the Maple Program. The Project-based Learning (PBL) activities of the MDR course focus on developing students' skills to acquire knowledge, convey information, and discuss. It aims to raise talented individuals that can connect with different cultures and their people. At the same time, the program aims to train students to view Japan from a broader point of view and from various angles, and to process and convey their findings.

Course Information

The Maple Program features four courses: Pre-intermediate, Intermediate, Upper-intermediate and Advanced. Students are placed in one of these four courses based on the results of a preliminary placement test.

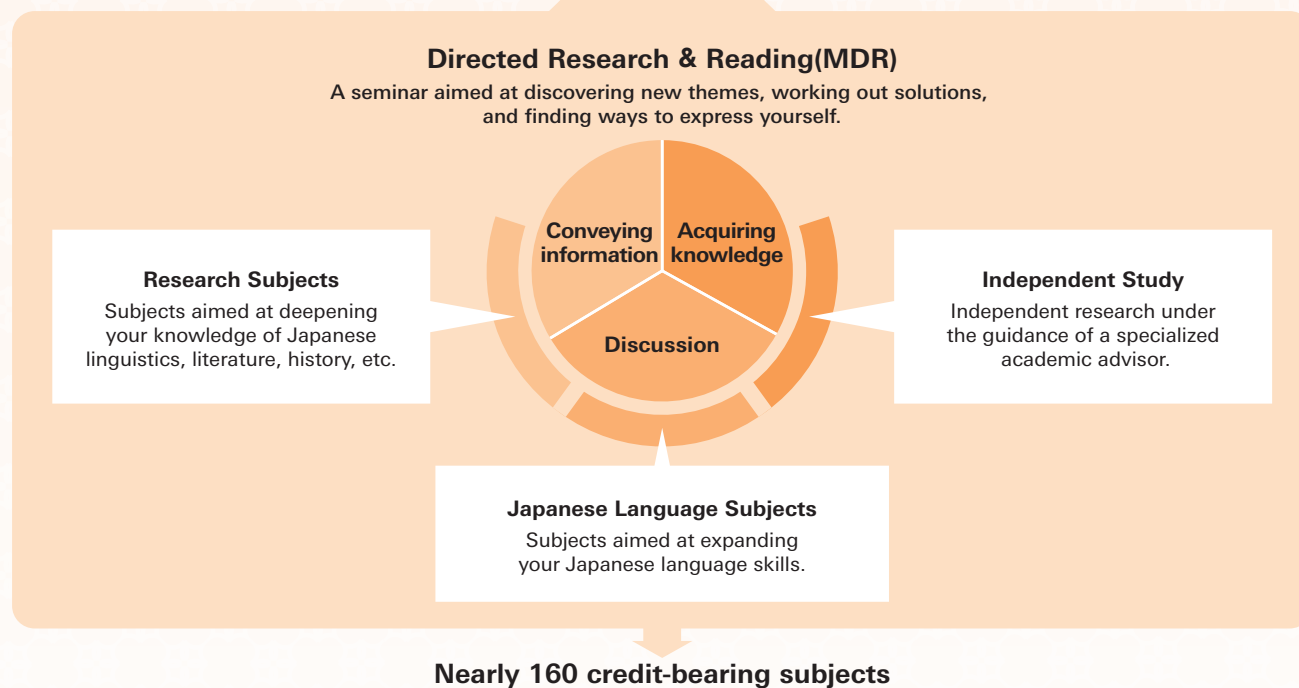

Requirements for the Maple Program

To complete the program, students must earn 30 or more credits in a year.

Category	Course	Credits	Requirements for completion
Required	Directed Research & Reading (MDR)		30 or more credits in a year
Electives	Research Subjects in Japanese Studies (R)	2 credits each
	Independent Study (MIS)
Required (Pre-intermediate Japanese Course)	Pre-intermediate Japanese α: Grammar & Vocabulary (MGVα)	4 credits
	Pre-intermediate Japanese β: Grammar & Vocabulary (MGVβ)	2 credits
Required (Intermediate Japanese Course)	Intermediate Japanese α: Grammar & Vocabulary (MGVα)	4 credits
	Intermediate Japanese β: Grammar & Vocabulary (MGVβ)	2 credits
Electives	Japanese Language Subjects (L)	1 credit each

Learn to connect with different cultures and their people

Develop core skills of conveying information, acquiring knowledge, and discussion

Number of Students: Approximately 80

Program Period:
12 months from September to August

Eligibility

- Students who have Japanese language proficiency equivalent to or higher than Level N4 of the Japanese Language Proficiency Test (JLPT).
- Students who are, in principle, in the third year or higher in an undergraduate program.

Subject Details

Directed Research & Reading (MDR)

This seminar stimulates comprehensive understanding of Japanese language and culture. By experiencing Japanese culture and society first-hand by going on field trips, and by participating in project-based learning guided by teaching assistants (graduate students), you will come closer to this seminar's ultimate goal: a comprehensive understanding of Japanese language, culture, and society. To ensure effective and smooth communication, we will focus on the development of three key skills: acquiring knowledge, conveying information, and discussion.

Japanese Language Subjects

Japanese Language Subjects are designed in such a way that students can register for courses matching their present Japanese language skills. In accordance with the level of each of your language skills, you can choose pre-intermediate, intermediate, upper-intermediate and advanced level Japanese language courses focusing on reading skills, listening skills, writing skills, speaking skills, grammar/vocabulary and kanji/vocabulary.

Research Subjects

Research Subjects are electives aimed at deepening your understanding of Japanese linguistics, language education, literature, history, sociology, Japanese thought and so forth. During these classes students approach the above topics from a comparative-contrastive point of view, analyze them and then discuss their findings. While most classes are conducted in Japanese, we also provide classes in English.

Independent Study (MIS)

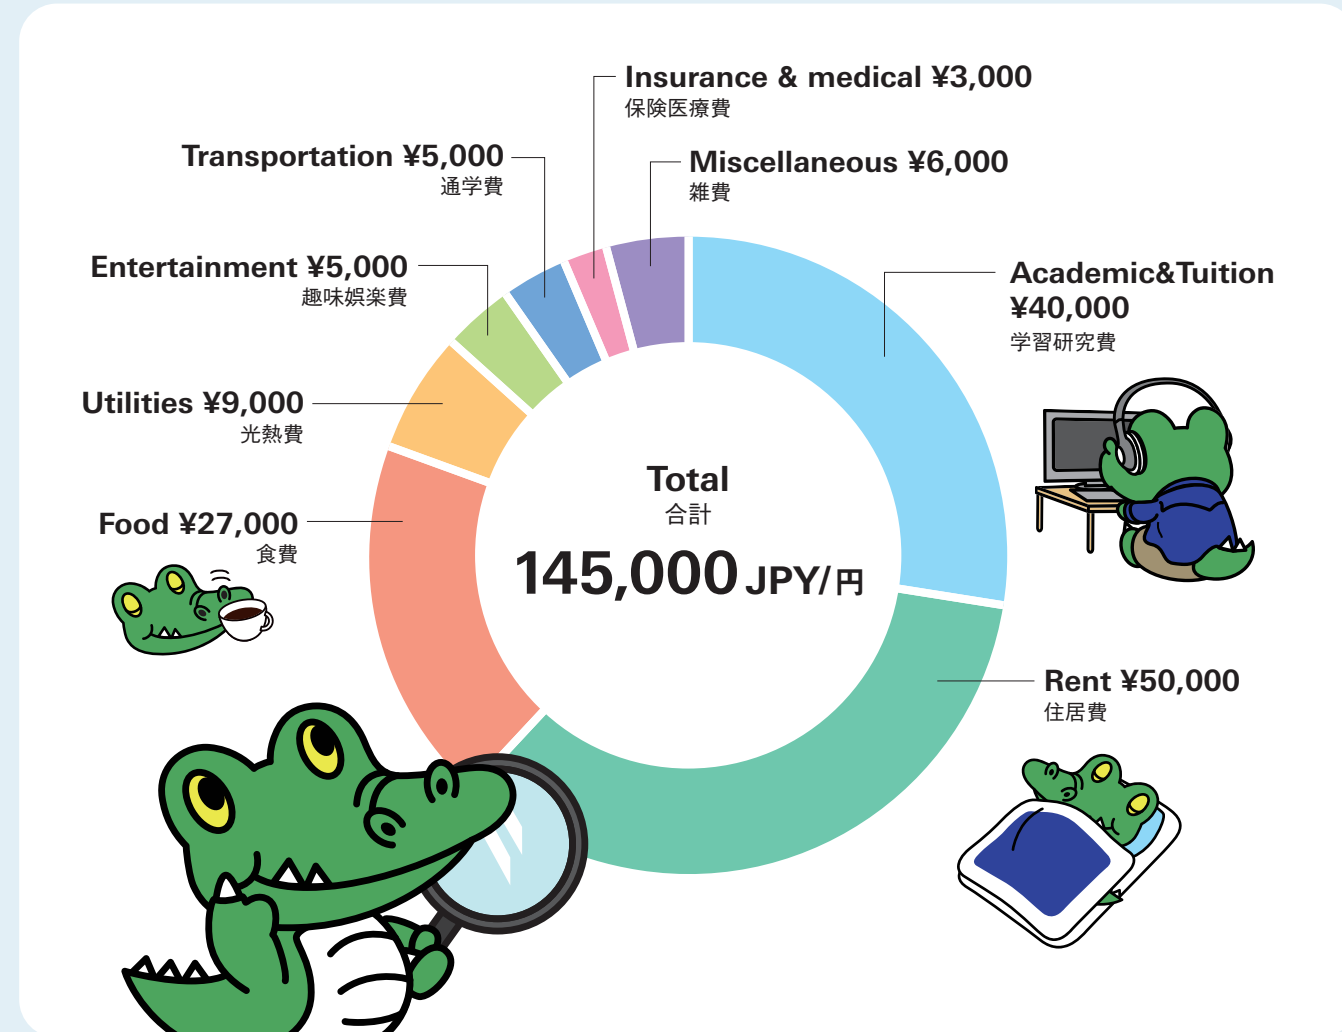

For this elective class students gather and read primary source material, and/or conduct survey research, under the supervision of a specialized academic advisor. Students gather and analyze data autonomously, as a means of gaining a profound knowledge of Japanese linguistics and culture.
