2. Cheating includes acts such as the following:
 - cheating during an examination. Anyone who deliberately enables someone else to cheat is considered complicit
 - bringing aids (pre-programmed calculators, mobile phones, books, syllabi, notes, etc.) to the examination, consultation of which is not explicitly permitted
 - having others complete an assignment or part thereof on one's behalf
 - taking possession of the relevant exam questions before the date or time of the examination
 - faking questionnaire or interview answers or research data
 - copying fellow students' work and presenting this as one's own work
 - submitting papers acquired from a commercial institution or written by someone else (whether paid for or not).
3. a. Plagiarism is:

The use of data, images or text fragments from others in a thesis or other paper without stating the source. Plagiarism includes acts such as the following:

 - copying text from printed media such as books, journals or encyclopaedias without using quotation marks or references
 - including translations of texts such as the ones listed above without using quotation marks or references
 - paraphrasing texts such as the ones listed above without properly acknowledging the source – a paraphrase must be indicated as such, by explicitly linking the text to the original author in either the body of the text or a note, to prevent the impression being formed that it represents the student's own ideas.
 - copying data, video, audio or test material from others without mentioning the source and thus presenting it as one's own work
 - submitting previously submitted own work without stating the source and presenting it as original work produced for the course unit in question, unless the course unit or the lecturer explicitly permit this
 - copying fellow students' work and presenting it as one's own work. A student who gives a fellow student permission to copy his or her work is considered complicit to plagiarism
 - if one of the authors collaborating on a joint assignment commits plagiarism, the other authors are complicit to this plagiarism if they

- could or should have known that the other author was committing plagiarism
- submitting papers acquired from a commercial institution (such as a website containing extracts or papers) or written by someone else (whether paid for or not).
- b. Electronic detection programs may be used to detect plagiarism in texts. When submitting a text, the student in question implicitly grants permission for the text to be included in the database of the relevant detection program.
4. When cheating is discovered or suspected: Bachelor's EAR Articles 6.10.1 and 6.10.3 will apply.
 5. The Board of Examiners will determine whether cheating or plagiarism has been committed: Bachelor's OER Articles 6.10.4 and 6.10.5 will apply.
 6. Once cheating or plagiarism is detected, the Board of Examiners will take the following measures:
 - a. In all cases:

 - o denial of permission to participate in all exams or other modes of assessment for a period of 12 months.
 - c. If the student has already been reprimanded in the past:
 - o denial of permission to participate in all exams or other modes of assessment for a period of 12 months.

In the event of very serious cheating or repeated cheating, the Board of Examiners may propose to the Board of the University that the student's registration be definitively terminated.

7. The term 'Board of Examiners' refers to the Board of Examiners of the Honours College.
8. The term 'examination' or 'exam' refers to the assessment (including marking) for each course unit of students' knowledge, understanding or skills.
9. The Board of Examiners of the student's regular degree programme(s) will be informed of all cases of cheating or plagiarism detected.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Definitions

These Regulations apply to all students who participate in an Honours Programme at the University of Groningen Honours College. Although plagiarism can be regarded as a type of cheating, we have chosen to discuss cheating and plagiarism as two separate concepts, as this makes it easier to give definitions and explain the various sanctions.

The definition in Article 1 primarily refers to examination and final assessment situations. However, the Honours Programmes do not always explicitly include such situations – the entire learning process is assessed. In such cases, the stipulations with regard to plagiarism also apply to preparatory documents. In the Honours Programme, the fact that a case of plagiarism concerns, for example, draft chapters or other preparatory documents may be taken into account when applying these Regulations. If a lecturer discovers plagiarism in the preparatory phase of an assignment, he or she may talk to the student in question about this and emphasize that problems will arise if the preliminary text is submitted as a definitive product.

As stated in Article 2, both those committing cheating or plagiarism and any co-perpetrators may be punished. The 'perpetrator' is the person who takes the initiative to commit the crime, in which the 'co-perpetrator' actively participates. Co-perpetrators can be held responsible for displaying – or failing to display – certain behaviour.

Procedure

The examiner will immediately inform the Board of Examiners of any case of suspected cheating or plagiarism. The Board of Examiners will then be responsible for the further procedure. This stipulation prevents undesirable negotiation situations between examiners and students. In addition, the Board of Examiners is able to ensure due care in the procedure as well as legal security for the student.

The sanctions imposed will be recorded in the student's file, i.e. the folder in Progress in which the student's results as well as extra information and decisions with regard to exemptions are recorded, and which is managed by the Honours College.

Appendix 2 of the Ba EAR UGHC

Protocol course replacement – University of Groningen Honours College

- Student fills in an online form to request a replacement.
- Student sends course description and other relevant information to the Board of Examiners through honours.boardofexaminers@rug.nl. Only complete requests will be handled.
- Faculty coordinator is asked for advice on the matter where it concerns a course in the deepening part of the Bachelor programme. The faculty coordinator can in turn ask the teacher of the course to be replaced for advice.
- Honours College Coordinator of Education is asked for advice on the matter where it concerns a course in the broadening part of the programme.
- Honours College Programme Director is asked for additional advice on the matter in case of doubt.
- Board of Examiners decides, taking all advices and the EAR into account.
- Board of Examiners notifies the student of the decision in an email, this will normally take 2-4 weeks after the complete request has been filed. A copy of this message will be sent to the faculty coordinator. The message contains at least:
 - o The decision by the Board of Examiners
 - o The name of the course to be replaced
 - o The name of the replacing course and university
 - o The number of EC to be replaced
 - o The method of grade conversion used by the Honours College (see below)
- Student sends transcript of records accompanied with mail from Board of Examiners to Honours College Student Affairs to have the result registered in Progress.

Grade conversion

The Honours College works with a pass-fail system in converting grades obtained outside the regular Honours College programmes. This means that a passing grade converts to a V for 'voldaan' (pass) and a failing grade converts to an O for 'onafgerond' (fail).

EC conversion

Since not every university uses the EC method, the weight of a course will be converted to EC. However, this will not be more than the number of EC of the course to be replaced. Thus, a replacing course of 3 American credits, which largely converts to 6 EC for most universities, will be converted to a 5 EC Honours College replacement course if the student chose to replace a 5 EC course.

Protocol extension – University of Groningen Honours College

The EAR of the Bachelor Honours Programme states that ‘the student must finish all parts of the Honours Programme, both deepening and broadening, before August 31 of the third year of enrolment in the Honours Programme.

At the student’s request, the Board of Examiners may decide to grant the student as much extension as needed to complete the programme, with a maximum of twelve months, but only if special circumstances are the cause of the delay. Examples are illness, a semester or more abroad, enrolment in two degree programmes, or an administrative year (bestuursjaar).

The procedure is as follows:

- Student discusses the case with the faculty coordinator.
- Student requests an extension at least before the end of year three (Bachelor).
- Student fills in the online form to request an extension through honours.boardofexaminers@rug.nl. Only complete requests will be handled.
- Faculty coordinator is asked for advice on the matter.
- Board of Examiners decides, taking all advice and the EAR into account.
- Board of Examiners notifies the student of the decision in an email, this will normally take 2-4 weeks after the complete request has been filed. A copy of this message will be sent to the faculty coordinator and Honours College Student Affairs. The message contains at least:
 - o The decision by the Board of Examiners
 - o The length of the extension
 - o The end date of the extension
- Honours College Student Affairs adjusts the enrollment date in Progress as soon as also the continuation requirements are met.
