 - v) Pre-MSc Technology and Operations Management (TOM) (60 EC)
 hereinafter referred to as 'the Pre-Master's', 'Pre-Master's programmes' or 'Pre-MSc's'.
2. The degree programmes and Pre-Master's programmes are organized by the Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Groningen (henceforth referred to as 'the Faculty' or 'FEB').
3. These Teaching and Examination Regulations also apply to students of other degree programmes, faculties or institutes of higher education, insofar as they take courses of one of the degree programmes or Pre-Master's programmes.
4. Notwithstanding the provisions in Article 9.9.2, courses of other degree programmes, faculties or institutes of higher education, taken by FEB-students, are subject to the Teaching and Examination Regulations of those programmes, faculties or institutes and to the decisions of the relevant Board of Examiners.
5. These Teaching and Examination Regulations also apply to the Entrepreneurship Minor and the Energy Minor offered by the Faculty, and to students who take (courses of) these minors.
6. These Teaching and Examination Regulations also apply to the Double Degree Bachelor programmes offered by the Faculty in collaboration with foreign partner universities, i.e.:
 - a) Double Degree programme of the BSc Econometrics and Operations Research (FEB) and the Undergraduate Programme in Economics of the Fudan University, School of Economics, Shanghai, China.
 - b) Double Degree programme of the BSc Economics and Business Economics, profiles Economics and Economic Development and Globalization (FEB) and the Undergraduate Programme in Economics of the Fudan University, School of Economics, Shanghai, China.
 - c) Double Degree programme of the BSc International Business (FEB) and

- the International Undergraduate Programme in Business and Economics of the Universitas Gadjah Mada, Faculty of Economics and Business, Yogyakarta, Indonesia.

 - b) MSc Business Administration
 - c) MSc Economic Development and Globalization
 - d) MSc Finance
 - e) MSc Human Resource Management
 - f) MSc International Business and Management
 - g) MSc International Financial Management
 - h) MSc Marketing
 - i) MSc Supply Chain Management
 - j) MSc Technology and Operations Management

1 As of academic year 2019-2020 these matching activities are optional for prospective students.

- will be granted to holders of a Bachelor's degree of an accredited degree programme of a Dutch university of applied sciences with a study load of 240 EC or a Bachelor's degree of an accredited degree programme of a Dutch university with a study load of 180 EC. These prospective students must also have sufficient knowledge of English as set out in Article 2.8.5.
2. In addition to the provisions of Article 2.8.1 direct admission to the special Pre-Master's programmes HBO-AC and HBO-BE and HBO-Finance & Control preparing for the Master's degree programmes Accountancy and Controlling will be granted to holders of one of the certificates set out in Appendix 7.1. Holders of the diploma's listed in Appendix 7.2 are directly admitted to the abbreviated 30 EC variant of the Pre-MSc Marketing or of the Pre-MSc Business Administration. For admission to the Pre-MSc Algemene Economie voor de Lerarenopleiding, the Admissions Board will decide whether a candidate is admitted or not.
 3. Prospective students can, within a period of three years, be admitted to only one of the pre-master's programmes as mentioned in Article 2.8.1. and Article 2.8.2. This admission is valid for one year and is only granted once. It will only be extended – for a maximum of one year – if a student has earned at least 50 EC of 60 EC of the Pre-Master's programme during the year of admission. For the Pre-Master's programme Pre-MSc A&C for HBO-AC and Pre-MSc Algemene Economie voor de Lerarenopleiding the requirement for extension is at least having earned 20 EC of 30 EC. Of the abbreviated 30 EC variants of the Pre-MSc Marketing and the Pre-MSc Business Administration, 25 EC must have been completed to be eligible for extension, and 40 EC must have been completed for the 45 EC programmes of the Pre-MSc Marketing and the Pre-MSc Business Administration to be eligible for extension.
 4. In the event the admission to the Pre-Master's programme is not extended, the prospective student can be admitted to the regular Bachelor's degree programme by request.
 5. Prospective students are deemed to have met the entry requirement of 'sufficient knowledge of English' if they meet one of the following requirements:
 - a) Prospective students who seek admission to a degree programme on the basis of a foreign certificate or degree may be asked by the Admissions Board - before registration - to take a Dutch or English language test, depending on the language of the chosen degree programme. The test is to be administered by an agency stipulated by the Admissions Board.
 - b) The Dutch language proficiency requirement will be met by passing the State Exams Dutch as a Second Language (Nt2).
 - c) The English language proficiency requirement will be met by passing an examination in English at the level of the VWO final exam or by obtaining one of the following minimum test scores:
 - an overall score on an internet-based (iBT) TOEFL test of 80, with a score of 20 for speaking and 20 for writing, or
 - an overall score on an IELTS Academic test of 6, with a score of 6 for speaking and a score of 5.5 for writing, or
 - an overall score on a Cambridge English qualification B2 First, C1 Advanced or C2 Proficiency of 169, with a score of 169 for speaking and 162 for writing, or
 - a score of B2 for all sections of the University of Groningen Language Centre Test, or
 - a level equivalent to the tests mentioned above, such as having command of English as a native-speaker, at the discretion of the Admissions Board.
 6. Prospective students with a Bachelor's degree that does not satisfy the requirements set out in Article 2.8.1 and Article 2.8.2 and prospective students who have completed an equivalent degree programme may apply to the Admissions Board of the Master's degree programmes for admission to a Pre-Master's degree programme.
 7. For prospective students who cannot be directly admitted to the MSc Economics, the Admissions Board of the master programmes can, at the prospective student's request, determine an individual Pre-Master's programme. Article 2.8.3 is applicable, on the understanding that at the same time as the individual programme the progress requirement after 1 year is set.
 8. A pre-condition for registration in one of the pre-MSc programmes for persons who want to enter the programme on the basis of a non-Dutch diploma:
 - a) a completed request for registration, on 1 May prior to the year of registration, in

Studylink, the online application for enrolment or re-enrolment at an institution of higher education in the Netherlands.

- b) a completed registration, on 1 July prior to the year of registration, in OAS, the Online Application System of the RUG.

Article 2.9 Admission to the Energy minor

Article 2.10 Admission to the Entrepreneurship minor

Admissible to the Entrepreneurship minor are students enrolled in a bachelor's degree programme of the University of Groningen on condition that they have successfully completed the propaedeutic phase. Students of a bachelor degree programme offered by the Faculty Economics and Business and students of the bachelor degree programme Industrial Engineering and Management offered by the Faculty of Science and Engineering are not admissible to the Entrepreneurship minor.

Article 2.11 Admission to the Innovation and Entrepreneurship minor

Students who are registered for a bachelor degree programme of the Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Groningen and students who are registered for the bachelor degree programme Industrial Engineering and Management offered by the Faculty of Science and Engineering of the University of Groningen have admission to the Innovation and Entrepreneurship minor, on condition that they have successfully completed the propaedeutic phase of the programme concerned. In some FEB degree programmes this minor can only be taken extracurricular. Definitive admission to the Innovation and Entrepreneurship minor takes place on the basis of a motivation letter, which must be submitted by the student to the minor co-ordinator no later than 1 July preceding the academic year the student wishes to take this minor.

Section 3 Structure of the degree programmes

Article 3.1 Conducting research

1. Students who conduct research in the context of the degree programme do so in accordance with relevant legislation, the Dutch code of conduct for academic integrity, and the requirements of ethically sound research.
2. Throughout the entire research process, the student will adhere to the applicable policies and procedures, which are based on the Faculty's data management policy.
3. Prior to the period of research, the student, together with their supervisor, can draw up a data management plan. This is then stored, in accordance with the faculty's data policy. At a minimum, this plan will address:
 - a) the student's responsibilities concerning the processing of personal data
 - b) the data storage measures (including security measures) used in the course of the research
 - c) the archiving and retention period
 - d) the responsibility for reusing data after the research has been completed.
4. In general, the student holds the copyright on any theses or other independently written assignments that are intended to test their knowledge, understanding, and skills. If anyone else wishes to use the student's thesis or written work, the student must first give permission for them to do so. The University must be free to perform these procedures unconditionally if it is to archive theses and written assignments (whether or not these are under embargo) and to process them in accordance with the rules of the Dutch Inspectorate of Education and the Act. All students are obliged to give their unconditional consent to the aforementioned procedures.

Article 3.2 Types of degree programme

The Bachelor's degree programmes are full-time programmes.

Article 3.3 Structure of study programmes and final assessment

1. The Bachelor's degree programmes are divided into a propaedeutic phase and a post-propaedeutic phase.
2. The propaedeutic phase is not concluded with a final assessment.
3. The Bachelor's degree programmes are concluded with the final assessment for the Bachelor's degree.

Article 3.4 Language of instruction

1. The teaching, the examinations for the Bachelor's degree programme in Business Administration will in principle be taught in Dutch. Deviations from this rule are indicated in Ocasys.
2. The Bachelor's degree programmes in 'Econometrics and Operations Research', 'Economics and Business Economics' and 'International Business' will be taught in English. The examinations and the final assessment will also be held in English.

Article 3.5 Study load

1. The Bachelor's degree programmes have a study load of 180 EC.
2. The propaedeutic phase of a Bachelor's degree programme has a study load of 60 EC.
3. The programme of students enrolled in two Bachelor's degree programmes or two profiles of one Bachelor's degree programme must comprise at least 200 EC worth of post-propaedeutic courses.
4. Study load is expressed in whole EC.

Article 3.6 Contact hours

1. The propaedeutic phase of the Bachelor's degree programme comprises a minimum of 480 contact hours a year.
2. The post-propaedeutic phase of the Bachelor's degree programme comprises a minimum of 200 contact hours a year.
3. The structure of the contact hours is registered in the Student Handbook and/or Ocasys.

Article 3.7 Participation in courses or educational components

1. Students may participate in a course or educational component of the degree programme if they register in time via <https://progresswww.nl/rug/>.
2. Registration for more than 20 EC per block is only possible with the permission of the degree programme of registration.
3. The deadlines for registration in courses are mentioned in the Student Handbook.
4. Timely registration is necessary to be assured of participation in the courses.
5. If the number of registrations exceeds capacity, the Faculty Board may decide to restrict participation in a course. This restriction only applies to students for whom the course in question is not a compulsory part of the curriculum.
6. The Faculty Board may decide to apply selection methods for some courses. This selection method, in the form of an application procedure, will be carried out by or on behalf of the Faculty Board.
7. Students who are registered for the Bachelor's degree programme cannot access the course units of a Master's degree programme.

Section 4 The propaedeutic phase of the degree programmes

Article 4.1 Structure of the propaedeutic phase

1. The propaedeutic courses of the Bachelor's degree programme in Business Administration can be found in Appendix 3.1.
2. The propaedeutic courses of the Bachelor's degree programme in Econometrics and Operations Research can be found in Appendix 3.3.
3. The propaedeutic courses of the Bachelor's degree programme in Economics and Business Economics can be found in Appendix 3.6.
4. The propaedeutic courses of the Bachelor's degree programme in International Business can be found in Appendix 3.10.

5. The University's digital course catalogue Ocasys sets out the learning goals, content and teaching methods of the courses of the various degree programmes in more detail, including the level of prior knowledge preferred, or in some cases compulsory, to take the course in question.
6. In situations of force majeure, when it is not reasonably possible to provide teaching and examinations in the manner stated in Ocasys, alternative modes of instruction and/or assessment may temporarily be used. This is on condition that the prescribed learning outcomes are still achieved upon completion of the degree programme in the opinion of the Board of Examiners.

Article 4.2 Practical assignments in the propaedeutic phase

The propaedeutic courses for which practical assignments must be completed in order to qualify for the examination can be found in Appendix 2.

Section 5 Study progress, including study advice

Article 5.1 Study progress overview

1. In the first year of registration in the propaedeutic phase of the degree programme, students will receive a study progress overview at the end of the first block of the academic year, and no later than the end of the first semester of the degree programme, comprising an overview of the EC earned so far.
2. Additional study progress overviews will be sent to students later in that academic year.

Article 5.2 Preliminary study advice

1. In the first year of registration in the propaedeutic phase of the degree programme, after the end of the regular examinations of the first semester, however before 1 March students will receive a written preliminary study advice.
2. The preliminary study advice should be considered as a warning in case of insufficient study progress, giving students the chance to improve their performance.
3. If the study progress is insufficient to such an extent that the student cannot reasonably be expected before the end of the first year to satisfy the conditions for receiving a positive study advice as listed in Article 5.3.2.a, the student will be invited to a meeting. The aim of the meeting is to discuss the student's study habits, to reassess the choice of degree programme and perhaps to refer to a different degree programme.

Article 5.3 Definite study advice

1. At the end of the first year of registration in the degree programme, after the second semester resits and no later than 31 July, students receive a written definitive study advice.
2. The definitive study advice is
 - a) positive, if the student has earned at least 45 EC of the propaedeutic phase of the degree programme
 - b) negative, if the student has earned less than 45 EC of the propaedeutic phase of the degree programme. A negative study advice is binding on students (BSA) in accordance with Article 7.8.b.3 of the Act
3. When determining the number of EC earned, only those EC awarded upon passing the propaedeutic courses within the meaning of Article 4.1 shall be taken into consideration. EC awarded for one or more exemptions will count towards the total.
4. The Faculty Board will take into consideration concerning the definite study advice:
 - a) extraordinary circumstances within the meaning of Article 5.5 will be taken into account in the decision about which study advice to issue in the first year of registration in the degree programme
 - b) if, due to extraordinary circumstances that occurred in the first year, no assessment can be issued about the suitability for the degree programme of the student, notwithstanding Article 5.3.2, the assessment can be postponed till a later time in the propaedeutic phase. A modified threshold may be used for the student concerned

Article 5.4 Further provisions concerning the definite study advice

1. Students who register for the propaedeutic phase of two or more degree programmes will be issued a study advice for each of the degree programmes for which they have registered. As soon as a student passes the positive BSA threshold for one of the degree programmes, the requirement to pass this threshold lapses for the other degree programme(s).
2. Students who have completed the propaedeutic phase of a university degree programme at the RUG or another Dutch university will not be issued with a study advice as set out in Article 5.3.
3. No study advice will be issued to students who are de-registered as of 1 March of the first year of registration in the propaedeutic phase of the degree programme. If, in a subsequent academic year, they re-register for the same degree programme or a degree programme belonging to the same cluster (see Article 5.7) they are deemed to have started studying anew and consequently the same threshold applies to them that also applies to propaedeutic students who had not registered before for the degree programme.
4. Students who register as of 1 February for the propaedeutic phase of one of the degree programmes and who were not previously registered as a student for that degree programme or for one of the degree programmes for which according to the provisions in Article 5.7, a negative study advice would be applicable that same year, must have earned at least 20 EC in the second semester of their degree programme by the end of the first year of study in order to qualify for a positive study advice. For all students that have been registered before 1 February for shorter or longer periods of time for the same degree programme the threshold of Article 5.3 applies.
5. All students who have been issued with a postponed study advice with either a modified BSA threshold or not, are expected to draw up a study plan in consultation with their assigned tutor, comprising at least the following:
 - a) the propaedeutic courses that have not yet been passed with a time line
 - b) the post-propaedeutic courses that may be followed subsequent to the courses listed in Article 5.4.5.a

Article 5.5 Extraordinary circumstances

1. When deciding whether to issue a negative study advice (BSA), the Faculty Board will take a student's extraordinary circumstances into account at a student's request. The evaluation of extraordinary circumstances will also take into account the student's study behaviour, the agreements made and/or the study plan drawn up in consultation with the study advisor, when the extraordinary circumstances were reported and the study results achieved by the end of the first year of study.
2. To enable the faculty to support a student as well as possible the student must report extraordinary circumstances as soon as possible to the study advisor. At the request of the student the Faculty Board will decide, after advice of the Faculty BSA committee, on an adaptation of the BSA threshold for the student concerned. Also in case the study planning drawn up with the study advisor, whether or not based on adapted BSA threshold, is not achieved the student must still report this as soon as possible to the study advisor.
3. Any study advice that is deferred can still be given as long as the propaedeutic phase has not yet been completed:
 - a) the postponed study advice is converted into a positive advice, if the BSA threshold is achieved whether modified or not.
 - b) the student will still get a negative study advice (BSA), if the student has failed to achieve the threshold whether or not modified, in the second year of registration.
4. Extraordinary circumstances as referred to in Article 5.5.1 do not automatically lead to a successful application for a grant from the Graduation Fund¹.

Article 5.6 Procedure for issuing a study advice

1. The study advice as set out in Article 5.2 and Article 5.3 is issued by the Faculty Board on behalf of the Board of the University. The decision will also state the applicable safeguards of legal rights.
2. Before a negative study advice is issued, the student in question will be notified of this intention and will be given the opportunity to put a case to the Faculty Board or a representative thereof.

Article 5.7 Consequences of a negative study advice

1. A negative study advice bans the student for a period of two years from registering or re-registering for the degree programme(s) to which the advice applies.
2. A negative study advice applies to all profiles of the degree programme(s) for which it has been issued.
3. A negative study advice for the Bachelor's degree programme in Business Administration also applies to the Bachelor's degree programme in International Business.
4. A negative study advice for the Bachelor's degree programme in International Business also applies to the Bachelor's degree programme in Business Administration.
5. It is not permitted to follow courses in a degree programme via a different degree programme or educational institution in order to avoid the consequences of a binding (negative) study advice. No exemptions will be granted for courses completed in this way, nor will such completed courses be recognized within the framework of the degree programme in any other way.

Article 6.6 Hardship clause applicable to the post-propaedeutic phase

The Board of Examiners can rule contrary to the provisions of Article 6.1 to and including Article 6.4 in situations where a substantive change and/or force majeure with respect to the (post)propaedeutic programme demonstrably leads to considerable injustice. In that case, there must be a unique extraordinary circumstance as a result of which admission in all reasonableness cannot be denied.

Section 7 The post-propaedeutic phase of the degree programmes

Article 7.1 Structure of the post-propaedeutic phase

1. The post-propaedeutic courses of the Bachelor's degree programme in Business Administration can be found in Appendix 3.2.
2. The post-propaedeutic courses of the Bachelor's degree programme in Econometrics and Operations Research can be found in Appendix 3.4.
3. The post-propaedeutic courses of the Bachelor's degree programme in Economics and Business Economics can be found in Appendix 3.7.
4. The post-propaedeutic courses of the Bachelor's degree programme in International Business can be found in Appendix 3.11.
5. In Ocasys the learning goals, content and teaching methods of the courses of the various degree programmes are specified, including the level of prior knowledge preferred, or in some cases compulsory, to take the course in question.
6. In situations of force majeure, when it is not reasonably possible to provide teaching and examinations in the manner stated in Ocasys, alternative modes of instruction and/or assessment may temporarily be used. This is on condition that the prescribed learning outcomes are still achieved upon completion of the degree programme in the opinion of the Board of Examiners.

Article 7.2 Practical assignments in the post-propaedeutic phase

The post-propaedeutic courses for which practical assignments must be completed in order to qualify for the examination can be found in Appendix 4.

Article 7.3 Electives and replacement of courses

1. In the post-propaedeutic phase of the degree programmes only post-propaedeutic courses of one of the degree programmes may be chosen as elective courses.
2. Contrary to the provisions of Article 7.3.1, the Board of Examiners, following a substantiated request by a student, may grant prior permission to
 - a) replace a course in the examination programme with another course offered by the University of Groningen or another university in the Netherlands or abroad that dovetails well with the degree programme, or
 - b) use one or more courses followed at the University of Groningen or another university in the Netherlands or abroad as electives in the degree programme. With respect to electives from another degree programme, and requests for alternative exam regulations, the Board of Examiners of that other degree programme is authorized to assess the examinations and decide upon requests.
3. When assessing a request as referred to in Article 7.3.2, the Board of Examiners will always evaluate the coherence of the set of courses (or parts thereof) and the level of the courses followed.

Article 7.4 Open Degree Programme

1. Within the degree programme a student can choose an Open Degree Programme: a programme that is unlike any other specified degree programme. To take an Open Degree Programme and to sit its final assessment the student will need prior approval by the Board of Examiners.
2. An application for the approval of an Open Degree Programme must be accompanied by a letter of motivation by the student, explaining, for instance, how this programme satisfies the learning outcomes of the degree programme.

Section 8 Minors and other programmes

Article 8.1 Minors

1. The third year of the degree programmes contains a minor slot of 30 EC. Students have to choose one from the following options:

 - d) In addition, the Pre-MSc programme of the student must have been approved by or on behalf of the Board of Examiners.
 5. To be eligible for supervision and assessment of the Research Paper for Pre-MSc Marketing, the student must have completed the following courses with at least the mark 6:
 - a) Statistics for Pre-MSc (EBS027A05)
 - b) Research Skills for Pre-MSc (EBS26A05)
 - c) In addition, the student's Pre-MSc programme must be approved by or on behalf of the Board of Examiners
 6. To be eligible for supervision and assessment of the Research Paper for Pre-MSc Business Administration, the student must have completed the following course with at least the mark 6:
 - a) Research Skills for Pre-MSc (EBS026A05)
 - b) In addition, the student's Pre-MSc programme must be approved by or on behalf of the Board of Examiners
 7. Procedures with regard to admission to and supervision of the Research Paper for Pre-MSc are further elaborated in the Regulations for Theses BSc, MSc and Pre-MSc Research papers. These regulations are part of these TER.

Article 9.6 The Bachelor's thesis

1. Two opportunities per year are offered for writing the Bachelor's thesis.
2. The period or periods for writing the bachelor's thesis are published in the Student Handbook.
3. A thesis is exclusively written for one degree programme or profile. No exemption is granted for a writing a thesis on the basis of a thesis written of a different degree programme or a different profile.
4. The assessment procedure of the Bachelor's thesis is included in the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Examiners.
5. Procedures with regard to admission to and supervision at the Bachelor's thesis are included in the Regulations Theses BSc, MSc and Pre-MSc Research Papers. These Regulations are part of these Teaching and Examination Regulations.
6. A Bachelor's thesis is stored for at least 7 years by the Faculty Board.
7. All copyrights to theses and other independently written assignments that aim to assess a student's knowledge, understanding and skills in principle remain with the student in question. Anyone else who wishes to use the thesis or written assignment will need the student's permission. However, the University needs unconditional freedom to handle theses and written assignments in order to archive (possibly under embargo) and process them in accordance with the Dutch Inspectorate of Education and the WHW. All students are therefore required to give the University unconditional permission to perform these actions and must bear in mind that as students they are individually responsible for maintaining academic integrity.

Article 9.7 Oral examinations

1. In the case of an oral exam, no more than one person is examined at the same time, unless the Board of Examiners has determined otherwise.
2. Oral examinations are public, unless the Board of Examiners or the relevant examiner has decided otherwise in a special case, or the student does not agree. A second examiner may be present at the oral exam, at the request of the examiner and/or the student.

Article 9.8 Request extra-regular examination option

1. A student can request the Board of Examiners to grant an extra-regular examination option.
2. If not providing an extraregular examination option to a student were to lead to a 'special case of an unfairness of overriding nature', the Board of Examiners may decide to grant such a provision, contrary to the provisions of Article 9.3.
3. Further rules regarding the extra-regular examination option are included in the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Examiners and in the Regulations Overlapping Examinations.

Article 9.9 Examinations and functional impairments

1. Students with a functional impairment will be given the opportunity to take examinations in a form that will accommodate their impairment as far as possible. If necessary, the Board of Examiners will seek expert advice from a student counsellor of the Student Service Centre (SSC) before making a decision.
2. With regard to examinations for courses taken at other degree programmes by students with a functional impairment, contrary to the provisions of Article 1.1.4, the Board of Examiners of the degree programme that sets the examination shall comply with the facilities permitted by the Board of Examiners of the degree programme for which the student has registered.

Article 9.10 Assessment

1. The results of an examination or assessment are given in whole numbers.
2. A mark of at least a 6 is considered a pass result.
3. The whole marks given as assessment of an examination have the following meaning:
 1. highly inadequate
 2. inadequate
 3. highly insufficient
 4. insufficient
 5. almost sufficient
 6. sufficient
 7. amply sufficient
 8. good
 9. very good
 10. excellent
4. For more regulations concerning assignments that are part of the exam, see the Regulations for Grading Assignments and Partial Examinations.

Article 9.11 Exemptions and Pass

1. At the student's request, notwithstanding Article 5.7.5 and Article 9.6.3, the Board of Examiners, having discussed the matter with the programme director or programme coordinator in question, may grant exemption from an examination on condition that the student:
 - a) either has completed a course of a university or higher vocational degree, in the Netherlands or abroad, that is equivalent in content and level
 - b) or can demonstrate by work experience or otherwise that sufficient knowledge and skills in respect of the course in question has been obtained
2. The stipulations of Article 10.3 apply to exemptions.

3. A course for which an exemption has been granted is indicated in the results list with: VR.
4. Once a result has been achieved for a course, both an exemption already obtained for that course will lapse and requests for an exemption for that course will not be admissible.
5. In certain cases, a pass for a course is awarded with a Voldoende or Pass. This is indicated in the results list with V.

Article 9.12 Marking of examinations and publication of grades

1. After an oral examination, the examiner will grade the examination immediately and if requested will provide the student with a statement upon request.
2. The examiner will mark a written examination and provide the Student Administration Office with the necessary details for publication of the result to be sent to the student. Examination results must be published no later than 10 working days after the date on which the examination was taken. In instances where this cannot be reasonably expected of the examiner, the programme director may set another time period in advance. The examinees will be informed of this before the exam begins. Only results published by the Student Administration Office are legally valid.
3. If an examination is taken in a form other than oral or written, the Board of Examiners will determine in advance how and within which period the student will receive the results.
4. Students can lodge an appeal against the results of an examination with the Central Portal for the Legal Protection of Student Rights (CLRS) within 6 weeks of the date on which the result was announced.

Article 9.13 Validity

1. Examinations that have been passed remain valid indefinitely.
2. The validity period of exemptions granted for courses or parts thereof is identical to that of examination results.
3. Contrary to the provisions of Article 9.13.1, the Board of Examiners may decide to require a student to take a supplementary or substitute examination for a course taken more than 6 years previously before allowing that student to proceed to the final assessment, if the student's knowledge, understanding or skills are demonstrably outdated.
4. In the event of extraordinary circumstances the validity term will be extended for the period during which the student in question is receiving support from the Graduation Fund.
5. The validity period of examinations and partial examinations is regulated in the Regulations Grading Assignments and Partial Examinations.

Article 9.14 Right of inspection

1. The student will be given a period of 6 weeks after the day on which the results of a written examination have been published, but no later than 5 working days before the date of the next resit of the relevant course, to exercise the right of inspection of the corrected work. Also on request and during the same period, the student will be provided with a copy of the work at cost price, i.e. the student's answers.
2. Within the timeframe stipulated in Article 9.14.1, any person involved may request that they be allowed to peruse the examination paper and -if possible- the assessment criteria.
3. The examiner(s) of the examination in question will stipulate the place, date and time for this inspection or perusal. The Board of Examiners may formulate guidelines for this purpose.
4. This inspection and perusal may be organized for all students at the same time.

Article 9.15 Board of Examiners and examiners

1. The Board of Examiners is the independent body that determines whether individual students have the knowledge, understanding and skills required to be awarded the degree.
2. The Faculty Board appoints the members of the Board of Examiners on the basis of their expertise in the field of the degree programmes in question.
3. The Board of Examiners must comprise at least:
 - a) one member who is a lecturer affiliated with one of the degree programmes that

- belong to the group of degree programmes and
 - b) one member from outside one of the degree programmes that belong to the cluster of degree programmes.
4. Members of the Faculty Board or other people who have financial responsibilities in the institution may not be appointed as members of the Board of Examiners.
 5. The Board of Examiners will appoint examiners to set examinations and to determine the results or to assess Bachelor's theses and Pre-MSc Research Papers.
 6. The Board of Examiners will set out the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Examiners to assess and determine the results of examinations.

Article 9.16 Fraud and plagiarism

1. Fraud is an act or omission by a student designed to partly or wholly hinder the forming of a correct assessment of one's own or someone else's knowledge, understanding and skills.
2. Fraud also includes plagiarism, which is copying one's own or someone else's work without correct reference to the source.
3. Students are obliged to give the University permission to use a plagiarism scanner to check their theses and written assignments for plagiarism. Each student is individually responsible for maintaining academic integrity.
4. If a student commits fraud, the Board of Examiners may exclude the student from participation in one or more examinations or assessments for a maximum of one year.
5. In the event of very serious fraud, the Board of Examiners may request a proposal to the Board of the University that the student's registration be definitively terminated.
6. The Board of Examiners will set out its course of action in the event of fraud in the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Examiners.

Article 9.17 Invalid examination

In the event of irregularities with regard to an examination that are so serious that an accurate assessment of the examinee's knowledge, understanding and skills cannot be made, the Board of Examiners may declare the examination of part thereof invalid for either an individual examinee or a group of examinees.

Article 9.18 Judicium abeundi (termination of registration)

1. In extraordinary cases of reprehensible behaviour and/or statements made by a student, the Board of the University may, on the recommendation of the Board of Examiners or the Faculty Board, terminate a student's registration.
2. The Board of the University will not make a decision as referred to in Article 9.18.1 until after the student in question has been given the opportunity to respond to the proposed decision and the interests of the student and the institution have been carefully assessed and it has become reasonable to assume that the student's behaviour and/or statements prove the student to be unsuitable for one or more of the professions which the student is being trained for in the degree programme, or for the practical preparation for the profession.
3. In such cases the Faculty Board, the Board of Examiners and the Board of the University will follow the Protocol Judicium Abeundi as approved by the Nederlandse Federatie van Universitaire Medische Centra [Netherlands Federation of University Medical Centres] on 1 November 2010.
4. The stipulations in the University of Groningen Regulations for Registration and Tuition Fees apply.

Article 9.19 Assessment plan

For every programme there is an assessment plan that has been determined by the Faculty Board. This assessment plan is part of the TER and comprises the following topics:

- a) the learning outcomes of the degree programme
- b) the courses of the degree programme and the specific learning goals of each course
- c) the interrelationship between courses and learning outcomes of the degree programme
- d) the assessment method to be used and the test periods for each course
- e) the test design and assessment procedures and assessment criteria used
- f) the person or persons responsible for the implementation of the various components

- of the assessment policy
- g) the method of periodical evaluation

Section 10 Final assessments of the degree programmes

Article 10.1 Final assessment

1. Each of the degree programmes is rounded off with a final assessment.
2. The final assessment of the degree programme may not be taken before the student has earned definitive admission to the post-propaedeutic phase.
3. The final assessment for the Bachelor's degree can only take place after approval of the student's study programme by or on behalf of the Board of Examiners. The Board of Examiners will determine regulations for the assessment of the degree programmes. If the student exceeds the relevant deadlines of these regulations, the Board of Examiners may postpone the graduation date. This date may then be in the academic year following the year in which the last examination was passed.
4. The Board of Examiners determines the result of the final assessment as soon as the student has passed all the required examinations, thus having acquired the required academic training, and to that end the Board of Examiners issues a certificate.
5. Before the final assessment can be determined, the Board of Examiners may decide to test a student's skills, knowledge and understanding of one or more courses or aspects of the programme, if and in as much as the marks for these courses provide a reason for doing so.
6. The student is deemed to have passed the final assessment if a pass (a mark of 6 or higher) for each examination has been obtained.
7. In determining the result of the final assessment, the Board of Examiners also commits itself to a speedy processing of the degree certificate ceremony.
8. If a student wishes to postpone the date of graduation due to extra examinations that still need to be taken, a request to this end must be submitted to the Board of Examiners no later than two weeks after the determination of the intended final assessment date.
9. The graduation date is the date on which the final assessment is marked as a pass, as determined by the Board of Examiners in accordance with the provisions of Article 10.1.4. The date on which the degree certificate is presented does not influence the graduation date.
10. All assignments submitted for the final assessment as referred to in Article 10.1.1 will be kept on file by the Faculty Board for a period of at least 7 years after the graduation day.

Article 10.2 Degree

1. A student who has satisfied all the requirements of the Bachelor's degree programme shall be awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science in the degree programme in question.
2. The degree awarded shall be registered on the Bachelor's degree certificate.

Article 10.3 Conditions for awarding a University of Groningen degree

1. A Bachelor's degree can only be awarded if at least half of the courses of the degree programme were taken at the University of Groningen, during the student's period of registration as a Bachelor's student at the University of Groningen.
2. For Double Degree Bachelor's degree programmes offered together with an institution abroad, at least half of the programme must have been followed at the University of Groningen, during the student's period of registration as a Bachelor's student at the University of Groningen.

Article 10.4 Degree certificate

1. Students shall receive a certificate issued by the Board of Examiners as proof that they have passed the final assessment. Article 10.3 is applicable.
2. A student receives only one degree certificate per degree programme.
3. The Board of Examiners will issue an International Diploma Supplement with each degree certificate.
4. If relevant, the results obtained in the Bachelor's Honours Programme and relevant focus areas will also be recorded on the Diploma Supplement that accompanies the Bachelor's degree certificate.

Article 10.5 Judicia cum laude and summa cum laude

1. The Board of Examiners shall determine whether or not the Bachelor's degree certificate will be awarded a judicium predicate.
2. The following conditions apply:
 - a) The mark for the thesis must satisfy the following minimum conditions:
 - cum laude: the mark for the thesis must be at least 8.0
 - summa cum laude: the mark for the thesis must be at least 9.0
 - b) The weighted average (not rounded off) for all curricular components, excluding the thesis, of the approved examination programme is:
 - greater than or equal to 8.0 for 'cum laude'
 - greater than or equal to 9.0 for 'summa cum laude'
3. The judicium predicate is awarded on condition that the examinations for the courses were taken only once.
4. The judicium predicate may only be awarded if no single course was awarded a mark less than 7.0.
5. To obtain a judicium cum laude or summa cum laude, no exemption may be registered for any course.
6. The results and grades of the Bachelor's Honours programme are excluded from the award of the judicium.
7. No judicium predicate will be awarded if a decision by the Board of Examiners has been taken to the effect that a student is no longer eligible for an honours predicate because fraud/plagiarism has been found.
8. In certain circumstances, the Board of Examiners may depart from the provisions set out in Article 10.5.2, Article 10.5.3, Article 10.5.4, Article 10.5.5, Article 10.5.6.

Section 11 Study progress supervision

Article 11.1 Study progress administration

1. The Faculty Board takes care of the registration of the results of each student.
2. If requested the Faculty will provide each student with an overview of these results at least once a year.
3. In respect of the Double Degree programmes offered by the Faculty Economics and Business it is the joint responsibility of FEB and the partner universities to exchange obtained results.

Article 11.2 Study progress supervision

1. The Faculty Economics and Business will organize the introduction and study progress supervision of students enrolled in one of the degree programmes, partly to encourage their progress and partly with a view to potential study options within and outside the degree programme.
2. With an eye to issuing a study advice for the propaedeutic phase, the student study progress meetings will be registered. This registration process will pay special attention to student privacy.

Section 12 Transitional and final provisions

Article 12.1 Amendments

1. Any amendments to these Regulations will, following a recommendation by and/or upon the approval of the Programme Committee and in consultation with, and where necessary upon the approval of, the Faculty Council, be confirmed by the Faculty Board in a separate decree.
2. Any amendments to these Regulations will not apply to the current academic year, unless it may reasonably be assumed that the amendment will not harm the interests of students.
3. Amendments may not influence to the detriment of students any decision taken as a consequence of these Regulations concerning an individual student.

Article 12.2 Status of the Dutch and English version of the TER/OER

In case of divergencies of interpretation between the Dutch language version and English language version of these Teaching and Examination Regulations the Dutch version (the OER, 'Onderwijs- en Examenregeling') shall prevail.

Article 12.3 Evaluation

1. The Faculty Board will ensure that the TER is regularly evaluated, assessing at least – for the purpose of monitoring and if necessary adapting the student workload – the amount of time students need to complete their duties as set out therein.
2. The Faculty Board evaluates the educational process periodically.

Article 12.4 Publication

1. The Faculty Board shall duly publish these Teaching and Examination Regulations, the Rules and Regulations formulated by the Board of Examiners, including supplementary documents, and any amendments to these documents.
2. Copies of the documents referred to in Article 12.4.1 are digitally available via the Faculty Education Office. These documents can also be found on the website of FEB (via Student Portal).

Article 12.5 Date of commencement

These regulations shall take effect on 1 September 2022.

Approved by the Programme Committees and Faculty Council on the legally determined parts on or before 31 August 2022.

As decreed by the Faculty Board on or before 31 August 2022.

Appendix 1 Aims and learning outcomes of the degree programmes

Graduates have the necessary skills to conduct research, and applying the relevant disciplinary standards of responsible research, and to report on such research in a way that satisfies the recognized standards in the field.

Appendix 1.1 BSc Business Administration

The aim of the Bachelor's degree programme BSc Business Administration is to train students to systematically analyse and improve organizations and processes. To this end, BSc Business Administration Bachelor's graduates have knowledge of business administration disciplines and the most important functional areas, such as Marketing, Finance and Accounting, Operations Management, Organizational Theory, Design and Behaviour and Human Resource Management. They are able to apply this knowledge in a methodologically sound way when dealing with organizational questions. BSc Business Administration Bachelor's graduates are business professionals with an academic and investigative attitude and a problem and solution-oriented way of working. To this end, they possess academic and social communication skills, a broad knowledge of methods and techniques of research and the ability to apply this knowledge in a responsible way when solving research and design questions. BSc Business Administration Bachelor's graduates have specialized in Accountancy and Controlling, Business and Management or Technology Management and have thus acquired in-depth knowledge and research skills in a recognizable subfield of the field of business administration. BSc Business Administration Bachelor's graduates qualify for a wide range of national and international specialized Master's degree programmes in the field of business administration, as well as entry-level positions in the job market, both in government institutions and the business world.

A Knowledge

BSc Business Administration Bachelor's graduates possess a thorough academic knowledge of theories, models and methods from the most important basic disciplines and functional areas in the field of business administration and are able to determine the best combination of theories and methods to describe, analyse and solve organizational issues.

BSc Business Administration Bachelor's graduates have academic knowledge and understanding at a basic or solid/upper intermediate level of the most important models, methods, techniques and theories presently used in the following fields:

- A.1 Organization Studies and Behaviour in Organizations
- A.2 Operations Management and Information Management
- A.3 Finance and Accounting
- A.4 Marketing
- A.5 Strategy Determination and Environmental Analysis
- A.6 Law and Corporate Responsibility

B Research

BSc Business Administration Bachelor's graduates have knowledge of the most important methods of business research and are able to apply this knowledge. They are able to set up and conduct research tailored to the situation, applying the various steps of the design cycle, and provide organizational advice on the basis of this. In addition, they demonstrate a critical, investigative and reflective attitude, are able to critically assess their own work and that of others and are able to account for the theories, models and methods used. They are also able to think logically and analytically and to differentiate between main and side issues.

BSc Business Administration Bachelor's graduates are able to:

- B.1 describe, diagnose and redesign organizations or parts thereof
- B.2 critically assess research within the business domain
- B.3 conduct supervised research in a methodologically sound manner
- B.4 interpret and reflect on academic research results and to derive distil knowledge from such research to help solve business problems

C Skills

BSc Business Administration Bachelor's graduates are able to cooperate and communicate effectively. To this end, they possess a combination of academic, professional and social communicative skills and the ability to reflect on their own behaviour, enabling them to participate professionally in organizational processes and in change processes.

BSc Business Administration Bachelor's graduates have the following skills:

- C.1 consultancy skills, including asking questions, listening and reasoning
 - C.2 project management skills, including leadership, planning, effective cooperation and monitoring progress
 - C.3 presentation skills, including academic writing and presenting
- Besides, BSc Business Administration Bachelor's graduates are able to:
- C.4 integrate insights from the core areas in their analyses of organizational issues
 - C.5 reflect on their own learning process

Appendix 1.2 BSc Econometrics and Operations Research

The aim of the bachelor's degree programme BSc Econometrics and Operations Research (EOR) is to graduate students able to apply mathematical models on an academic level to the field of economics and business. More specifically, BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates are able to analyse economic and business problems through a combination of mathematics, economics and statistics using appropriate software. They have a research oriented attitude, have knowledge of the most important models in Econometrics and Operations Research as well as actuarial science and mathematical economics, and are able to transform the outcomes of the models in relevant results for the application field. Furthermore, graduates have acquired the necessary background in mathematics and statistics and are able to communicate mathematical or quantitative results to peers and non-specialists.

Upon completion of the programme, BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates can continue their studies in various Master's programmes (e.g. EORAS, Research Master E&B, Educational Master). Alternatively, they could probably fulfil a wide variety of positions in government and industry (at a junior level), but this is not supported by evidence since virtually all BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates continue their studies at the master level.

A Knowledge

BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates have academic knowledge and understanding of the most important models, methods, techniques and theories -at the level of an intermediate textbook- presently in use in the main areas:

- A.1 Actuarial Science
- A.2 Econometrics
- A.3 Mathematical Economics
- A.4 Operations Research

BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates are able to apply knowledge and understanding in these areas to model, analyse and solve practical problems e.g. in economics or business.

BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates have basic academic knowledge and understanding of:

- A.5 Microeconomics and Macroeconomics
- A.6 Finance

In particular those parts suited for a modelling approach BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates are able to apply knowledge and understanding in these areas to solve practical problems.

BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates have a thorough knowledge and understanding of those parts -needed for the main areas- of:

- A.7 Mathematics
- A.8 Statistics and Stochastics
- A.9 Programming

BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates are able to apply this knowledge and understanding in the areas A1-A6 in order to solve practical problems.

BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates:

- A.10 have insight into the relationships between the subjects mentioned under A.1-A.9

B Research

Within the main areas of the programme BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates are able to:

- B.1 critically assess scientific information like theories or argumentations
- B.2 translate a practical problem into questions in terms of a mathematical model, collect relevant quantitative data, and translate the outcomes of a mathematical model into practical answers
- B.3 apply the appropriate scientific methods and techniques, mathematics, economics, statistics and software
- B.4 conduct supervised routine research
- B.5 write and present reports and articles in English

C Skills

Within the main areas of the programme BSc Econometrics and Operations Research Bachelor's graduates are able to:

- C.1 work in a team: in particular they have the social skills to communicate about their work with colleagues from their own and other disciplines
- C.2 logically, clearly and convincingly express the argumentations and concepts of the main discipline both orally and in written form
- C.3 reflect critically on their own and other people's work paying attention to both logical coherence and practical relevance and is able to adjust and give feedback

Appendix 1.3 BSc Economics and Business Economics

The Bachelor's degree programme BSc Economics and Business Economics aims to provide a solid academic training focused on an international orientation, combining insights from business economics, economics and (international) economic development, embedded in an international setting, and using English as language of communication. The scientific domain of the programme consists of business economics (with an emphasis on finance), economic theory and policy, as well as the related field of the theory of international economics and economic development.

During the programme students choose either a Business Economics profile, an Economics profile, or an Economic Development and Globalization profile. The Business Economics profile approaches the behaviour and characteristics of profit and not for profit organizations from an analytical economic point of view. The Economics profile focuses on problems of macroeconomic and microeconomic theory and policy. The Economic Development and Globalization profile focuses on international economic development and globalization and its impact on firms' strategies and government policies. BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates have acquired an adequate knowledge and understanding of the relevant methods of research and they are able to communicate the results, the analyses and diagnoses in reports and presentations. Furthermore, they have completed a Minor of 30 EC consisting of coherent courses. After having completed the programme.

A Knowledge

BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates (all three profiles) have academic knowledge and understanding at a basic or solid level of the most important models, methods, techniques and theories presently in use in the following main areas:

- A.1 Corporate Finance and Financial Markets (solid)
- A.2 International Economics (solid)
- A.3 Macroeconomics (solid)
- A.4 Microeconomics (including Industrial Organization) (solid)
- A.5 International Business, Financial Accounting, Banking and Financial Institutions, Marketing (basic)

BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates (all three profiles) have necessary knowledge and understanding, in order to be able to do research at an intermediate level in the field of Economics and Business Economics, of:

- A.6 Quantitative Methods (Mathematics, Statistics, Econometrics)

BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates with a profile in Business Economics have academic knowledge and understanding at a basis or upper intermediate level of the most important models, methods, techniques and theories presently in use in the following areas:

- A.7 Accounting, Corporate Finance and Financial Markets (upper intermediate)
- A.8 Operations and Logistic Management, Human Resource Management, Marketing Research (basic)
- A.9 Ethics of Business (basic)

BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates are able to apply the acquired knowledge and understanding in these areas to analyse and solve practical problems in business economics.

BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates with a profile in Economics have academic knowledge and understanding at a basis or upper intermediate level of the most important models, methods, techniques and theories presently in use in the following areas:

- A.10 Macroeconomics and Microeconomics (upper intermediate)
- A.11 broadening subjects within the subdomain of economics (basic)

BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates are able to apply the acquired knowledge and understanding in these areas to analyse and solve practical problems in economics.

BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates with a profile in ED&G have academic knowledge and understanding at a basis or upper intermediate level of the most important models, methods, techniques and theories presently in use in the following areas:

- A.12 International Economics and International Economic Development (upper intermediate)
- A.13 Ethics of Business (basic)

BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates are able to apply the acquired knowledge and understanding in these areas to analyse and solve practical problems in economic development and globalization.

BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates (all three profiles) have:

- A.14 developed insight into the relationships between the different areas within Economics and Business Economics
- A.15 by completing a Minor, either broadened their knowledge and understanding of an area that differs from the domain of Economics and Business Economics, or deepened their knowledge and understanding within the domain of Economics and Business Economics.

B Research

BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates (all three profiles):

- B.1 have critically assess scientific information like theories, research methods and argumentations within the fields which comprise Economics and Business Economics
- B.2 formulate research questions and collect relevant quantitative and qualitative data
- B.3 apply scientific methods and techniques, employing mathematics, economics, statistics/econometrics and applied informatics in an appropriate way given the context, to conduct supervised routine research and derive sound conclusions

C Skills

BSc Economics and Business Economics Bachelor's graduates (all three profiles):

- C.1 have social communication skills to logically, clearly and convincingly express the arguments and concepts of the main discipline, both spoken and in written form
- C.2 have a good command of the English language (both written and spoken), and are able to use this skill to further pursue academic studies or to successfully function within an (international) work environment
- C.3 write and present reports and articles in English
- C.4 reflect on new and evolving scientific theories, economic or societal phenomena, including the functioning of organizations from an ethical viewpoint
- C.5 are able to work toward a solution in a focused and systematic way, both independently and as member of a (possibly international and multi-cultural) team
- C.6 are able to reflect critically on their own and other people's work, taking into account its logical coherence and economic relevance, and can both acknowledge and provide feedback and corrections when necessary

Appendix 1.4 BSc International Business

The BSc International Business is an interdisciplinary academic programme with a focus on practical issues. It aims to provide graduates with a solid academic grounding in the functioning of and interventions in organizations that operate in various countries and cultures. BSc International Business Bachelor's graduates will be able to combine general business management with the international context of the organizations they operate in. They will have knowledge and understanding of general business and management, the main areas of international business and management and research methodology. BSc International Business Bachelor's graduates will be able to use an interdisciplinary and integral approach in defining, analysing and solving problems in multinational organizations. BSc International Business Bachelor's graduates will also be able to conduct research that complies with scientific norms in management and in academia. They will have the language and social communication skills that are necessary for operating in an international and intercultural context. Upon completion of the programme, BSc International Business Bachelor's graduates can opt for an academic career by continuing with a Master's programme or can fulfil junior positions in (multinational) corporations and (international) governmental organizations.

A. Knowledge

BSc International Business Bachelor's graduates have academic knowledge and understanding:

- A.1 at an intermediate level of theories, models and frameworks in the area of general management
- A.2 at an intermediate level of theories, models and frameworks in the main areas of international business
- A.3 of the nature, variety and development of the theory and practice of managing international business organizations. This encompasses the management challenges associated with developing international strategies and managing the operations of companies whose activities extend across national boundaries

B. Research

BSc International Business Bachelor's graduates:

- B.1 have knowledge of the general methods of international business research, encompassing both qualitative and quantitative methods, and their application
- B.2 are able to organize and conduct supervised routine research appropriate to international business, applying the various steps in the research cycle and making organizational recommendations on that basis

Appendix 8 Substitution and transition regulations

Appendix 8.1 General

1. Three options can be distinguished in the substitution regulations:
 - option 1: with respect to content, the substitution course does not differ or differs hardly from the course in the old programme. Although, name, course code, language of instruction or semester block may have changed. In case the block has changed students can only take the substitution course in the new block; also the (resit) examination can only be taken in the new block.
 - option 2: the substitution course differs, in respect of content (a lot) from the course in the old programme. In that case, the student has a choice to either take the substitution course and to also take the exam in the substitution course or to take the resit examination of the course in the old programme. In 2022-2023 there will be two opportunities to take this resit. This applies only to courses offered for the last time in 2021-2022. The resit examinations for the old programme will be scheduled parallel with the regular examinations of the substitution course.
 - option 3: there is no substitution course replacing a course of the old programme. In that case two resit opportunities will be offered in 2022-2023 for the course of the old programme. This applies only to courses offered for the last time in 2021-2022. The resit examination periods may deviate from those of the academic year 2021-2022.

- The notes in Appendix 8.1.1 apply to the substitution and transition regulations of all Bachelor's degree programmes and Pre-MSc programmes including DD Bachelor's programmes (part UG).
- Transition regulations are designed for students who follow the new curriculum of their programme and who have rounded of (a) course(s) in (an) older programme(s).

1. The Faculty Economics and Business participates in the University of Groningen Master Honours programme. This Master's Honours programme is not a part of the regular Master's curriculum.
2. Students admitted to one of the government-funded Master's degree programmes of the Faculty can take the Master Honours programme, if they are selected by the Dean of the University of Groningen Honours College. The selection procedure for the Honours programme can be found in the Teaching and Examination Regulations of the University of Groningen Honours College.
3. The total study load of the Master's Honours programme is 15 EC.
4. The Master Honours Programme is subject to the Teaching and Examination Regulations of the University of Groningen Honours College.
5. The results of the Master's Honours programme are recorded on the Diploma Supplement of the Master's degree certificate.

Article 5.2 Double Degree Programmes

1. The Faculty offers the Double Degree Master programmes as listed in Article 1.1.5, in collaboration with foreign partner universities.
2. A completed Double Degree Master programme gives entitlement to a master diploma of both participating institutes.
3. Substance and scope of the Double Degree Master programmes can be found in Appendices 2 till 13.

Article 5.3 Internship Masters FEB

1. For a period of approximately 4 months full time (possibly spread over a longer period part time) students can do an extra-curricular internship at an organisation where they are involved in projects and tasks related to their study programme.
2. Internship Masters FEB (EBM189A15) is available in all FEB master programmes except the Research Master and Executive Masters.
3. Students need to be registered as a student at the University of Groningen during the internship.
4. The credits (EC's) for Internship Masters FEB (EBM189A15) are extra-curricular credits but will be listed on the diploma supplement.

Section 6 Examinations of the degree programmes

Article 6.1 General

1. Each course is assessed by means of an examination.
2. The examination assesses students' academic development and mastery of the learning goals of the course.
3. An examination can consist of several parts. The results of these parts together determine the examination result.
4. The way in which the multiple parts of an examination together determine the result of the examination is included in the Regulations for Grading Assignments and Partial Examinations.

Article 6.2 Participation in examinations

1. A student who registers for a course unit in the degree programme in accordance with Article 3.5 of the TER is automatically registered for the examination for that course unit.
2. Notwithstanding the provisions of Article 6.2.1, students can register and deregister for examinations during certain periods to be further defined.

Article 6.3 Examination frequency and periods

1. Students will be given the opportunity to sit examinations twice per academic year for the courses of the degree programmes. This does not apply to Executive master's degree programmes whose graduation paper consists of a portfolio.
2. Students may sit an examination for a course that is no longer part of the curriculum twice in the year after it has been removed from the curriculum.
3. The examination periods will be published in the Student Handbook. Partial examinations may be set outside the stated periods.
4. Contrary to the provisions of Article 6.3.1, Article 6.3.2 and Article 6.3.3 examinations for courses of the Master's degree programme Research Master in Economics and Business may be sat during or directly after the end of the course. If a resit is required, this will be announced in good time.
5. Contrary to the provisions of Article 6.3.1 and Article 6.3.2, certain parts of the examination may be taken once a year due to the nature of the assessment.

Article 6.4 Types of examinations

1. Examinations will be taken in the manner stated in Ocasys. In situations of force majeure, when it is not reasonably possible to provide teaching and examinations in the manner stated in Ocasys, alternative modes of instruction and methods of assessment may temporarily be used. This is on condition that the prescribed learning outcomes are still achieved upon completion of the degree programme in the opinion of the Board of Examiners.
2. At a student's request, the Board of Examiners may allow an examination to be taken in a form different from stated in Article 6.4.1.
3. Mock versions of each examination will be made available to practice.

Article 6.5 Compulsory order of examinations

1. Participation in examinations for the Executive Master of Accountancy is subject to the regulations set out in Appendix 15 of this TER.
2. Participation in examinations for the Executive MBA is subject to the regulations set out in Appendix 16 of this TER.
3. Participation in examinations for the Executive Master of Finance and Control is subject to the regulations set out in Appendix 17 of this TER.
4. Participation in examinations for the Executive Master Mergers & Acquisitions and Valuation is subject to the regulations set out in Appendix 18 of this TER.
5. Second-year courses in the Research Master in Economics and Business programme may only be taken once the requirements set by the degree programme have been satisfied.
6. To be eligible for supervision and assessment of the Master's thesis of any of the degree programmes, students must have met the following requirements:
 - a) they must have been admitted to the degree programme, and
 - b) they must have successfully completed at least 20 EC worth of Master's courses, and
 - c) their Master's study programme must have been approved by the Board of ExaminersContrary to the provisions of Article 6.5.4.b, students of the Research Master in Economics and Business must have successfully completed at least 40 EC in courses, including the courses Learning and Practising Research (EBM878B10), and Philosophy of Science and Research Meth. (EBM185A05). Exceptions may be granted by the Board of Examiners in the interest of study progress.
7. Students of the Executive Master of Finance and Control must have successfully completed all other courses before they may participate in the oral defence of their thesis.

Article 6.6 The Master's thesis

1. Two opportunities per year are offered for writing the Master's thesis.
2. The period or periods for writing the Master's thesis are published in the Student Handbook.
3. No exemptions are granted for theses based on a thesis written for a different degree programme or a different profile.
4. The assessment procedure of the Master's thesis is included in the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Examiners.

5. Procedures with regard to admission to and supervision at the Master's thesis are included in the Regulations Theses BSc, MSc and Pre-MSc Research Papers. These Regulations are part of these Teaching and Examination Regulations.
6. A Master's thesis is stored for at least 7 years by the Faculty Board.
7. All copyrights to theses and other independently written assignments that aim to assess a student's knowledge, understanding and skills in principle remain with the student in question. Anyone else who wishes to use the thesis or written assignment will need the student's permission. However, the University needs unconditional freedom to handle theses and written assignments in order to archive (possibly under embargo) and process them in accordance with the Dutch Inspectorate of Education and the WHW. All students are therefore required to give the University unconditional permission to perform these actions and must bear in mind that as students they are individually responsible for maintaining academic integrity.

Article 6.7 Oral examinations

1. Unless the Board of Examiners decides otherwise, an oral examination may only be taken by one student at a time.
2. Oral examinations are public, unless the Board of Examiners or the relevant examiner has decided otherwise in a special case, or the student does not agree.
3. A second examiner may be present at the oral exam, at the request of the examiner and/or the student.
4. Oral examinations in the Executive Master of Accountancy may be attended by an external expert.

Article 6.8 Request extra-regular examination option

1. A student can request the Board of Examiners to grant an extra-regular examination option.
2. If not granting an extra-regular examination option to a student would lead to a study delay that is unacceptable, the Board of Examiners may decide to grant an extra-regular examination option, in derogation from the provisions of Article 6.3.
3. Further rules regarding the extra-regular examination option are included in the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Examiners and in the Regulations Overlapping Examinations.

Article 6.9 Examinations and functional impairment

1. Students with a functional impairment will be given the opportunity to take examinations in a form that will accommodate their individual impairment as far as is possible. If necessary, the Board of Examiners will seek expert advice from the student counsellor of the Student Service Centre (SSC) before making a decision.
2. With regard to examinations for courses taken at other degree programmes by students with a functional impairment, contrary to the provisions of Article 1.1.4, the Board of Examiners of the degree programme that sets the examination shall comply with the facilities permitted by the Board of Examiners of the degree programme for which the student has registered.

Article 6.10 Assessment

1. The results of an examination or assessment are given in whole numbers. Only the results of partial examinations may be rounded off to a tenth.
2. A mark of at least a 6 is considered a pass result.
3. The whole marks given as assessment of an examination have the following meaning:
 1. highly inadequate
 2. inadequate
 3. highly insufficient
 4. insufficient
 5. almost sufficient
 6. sufficient
 7. amply sufficient

8. good
 9. very good
 10. excellent
4. For more regulations concerning assignments that are part of the exam, see the Regulations for Grading Assignments and Partial Examinations.

Article 6.11 Exemptions

1. Notwithstanding Article 6.6.3, at the student's request, the Board of Examiners, having discussed the matter with the programme director/coordinator in question, may grant exemption from an examination on condition that the student either:
 - a) has completed part of a university or higher vocational degree that is equivalent in content and level, or
 - b) can demonstrate to possess sufficient work experience or knowledge and skills in respect to the course in question
2. An examination for which an exemption has been granted will be registered with VR.
3. Once a result has been achieved for a course, both an exemption already obtained for that course will lapse and requests for an exemption for that course will not be admissible.

Article 6.12 Marking of examinations and publication of grades

1. After an oral examination, the examiner will grade the examination immediately and if requested will provide the student with a pass sheet.
2. The examiner will mark a written examination and provide the Student Administration Office of the Faculty with the necessary details for written confirmation of the result to be sent to the student. Examination results must be published no later than 10 working days after the date on which the examination was taken. In those cases where an examiner cannot be reasonably expected to comply with the foregoing, the programme director may determine a different period in advance. Participants shall be informed of this prior to the beginning of the examination. Only results published by the Student Administration Office are legally valid.
3. Notwithstanding the period stated in Article 6.12.2, a marking period of 15 working days shall apply to the Executive Master of Finance and Control and 8 weeks to the Executive Master of Accountancy, the Executive MBA and the Executive Master Mergers & Acquisitions and Valuation.
4. If an examination is taken in a form other than oral or written, the Board of Examiners will determine in advance how and within which period the student will receive the results.
5. When the results of an exam are published the students is reminded of the right of inspection, as stipulated in Article 6.14.1, as well as of the possibility of an appeal to the Board of Appeal for Examinations.

Article 6.13 Validity

1. Examinations that have been passed remain valid indefinitely.
2. The validity period of exemptions granted for course units or parts thereof is identical to that of examination results.
3. Contrary to the provisions of Article 6.13.1, examinations that have been passed in the Executive Master of Accountancy, the Executive MBA, the Executive Master of Finance and Control and the Executive Master Mergers & Acquisitions and Valuation shall remain valid for 6 years, on condition that the programme has not been fully completed, calculated from the examination date recorded on the exam notification.
4. Contrary to the provisions of Article 6.13.1, the Board of Examiners may decide to require a student to take a supplementary or substitute examination for a course passed more than 3 years previously before allowing that student to proceed to the final assessment, only if the student's knowledge is demonstrably outdated.
5. In the event of extraordinary personal circumstances the validity term will be extended for the period during which the student in question is receiving support from the Graduation Fund.
6. The validity of partial assignments and partial examinations is regulated in the Regulations Grading Assignments and Partial Examinations.

Article 6.14 Right of inspection

1. Within a period of 6 weeks after the day on which the results of a written examination have been published, but no later than 5 working days before the date of the next resit of the relevant course, the student has the right to inspect the corrected work. Also on request and within the same period, the student will be provided with a copy of the work, i.e. the student's answers, at cost price.
2. Within the timeframe stipulated in Article 6.14.1, any person involved may request that they be allowed to peruse the examination paper and -if possible- the assessment criteria.
3. The examiner(s) of the examination in question will stipulate the place, date and time for this inspection or perusal. The Board of Examiners may formulate guidelines for this purpose.
4. This inspection and perusal may be organized for all students at the same time.

Article 6.15 Board of Examiners and examiners

1. The Board of Examiners is the independent body that determines whether individual students have the knowledge, understanding and skills required to be awarded the degree.
2. The Faculty Board appoints the members of the Board of Examiners on the basis of their expertise in the field of the degree programmes.
3. The Board of Examiners must comprise at least:
 - a) one member who is a lecturer affiliated with one of the degree programmes that belong to the group of degree programmes and
 - b) one member from outside one of the degree programmes that belong to the cluster of degree programmes.
4. Members of the Faculty Board or others who have financial responsibilities in the institution may not be appointed as members to the Board of Examiners.
5. The Board of Examiners will appoint examiners to set examinations and to determine the results or to assess Master's theses.
6. The Board of Examiners approves the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Examiners, among other things, in order to assess and determine the results of exams and examinations.

Article 6.16 Fraud and plagiarism

1. Fraud is an act or omission by a student designed to partly or wholly hinder the forming of a correct assessment of one's own or someone else's knowledge, understanding and skills.
2. Fraud also includes plagiarism, which means copying one's own or someone else's work without correct reference to the source.
3. Students must grant the University permission to use a plagiarism scanner to check their theses and written assignments for plagiarism. Each student is individually responsible for maintaining academic integrity.
4. If a student commits fraud, the Board of Examiners may exclude that student from participation in one or more examinations or final assessments for a maximum of one year.
5. In the event of very serious fraud, the Board of Examiners may propose to the Board of the University that the student's registration be definitively terminated.
6. In the event of fraud, the Board of Examiners will set out the course of action in the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Examiners.

Article 6.17 Invalid examination

In the event of irregularities with regard to an examination that are so serious that an accurate assessment of the examinee's knowledge, understanding and skills cannot be made, the Board of Examiners may declare the examination of part thereof invalid for either an individual examinee or a group of examinees.

Article 6.18 Termination of registration (Judicium abundi)

1. In extraordinary cases of reprehensible behaviour and/or statements made by a student, the Board of the University may, on the recommendation of the Board of Examiners or the

- Faculty Board, terminate a student's registration.
2. The Board of the University shall not make a decision within the meaning of Article 6.18.1 until after the student in question has been given the opportunity to respond to the proposed decision, and after the interests of the student and the institution have been carefully assessed and it has become reasonable to assume that the student's behaviour and/or statements prove to be unsuitable for one or more of the professions for which the student is being trained in the degree programme, or for the practical preparation for the profession. The relevant provisions in the University of Groningen Regulations for Registration and Tuition Fees 2021-2022 apply.
 3. In such cases the Faculty Board, the Board of Examiners and the Board of the University will follow the Protocol Judicium Abeundi as approved by the Nederlandse Federatie van Universitaire Medische Centra [the Netherlands Federation of University Medical Centres] on 1 November 2010.
 4. The stipulations in the University of Groningen Regulations for Registration and Tuition Fees apply.

Article 6.19 Assessment plan

For every programme there is an assessment plan that has been determined by the Faculty Board, comprising the following topics:

- a) the learning outcomes of the degree programme
- b) the courses of the degree programme and the specific learning outcomes of each course
- c) the interrelationship between courses and learning outcomes of the degree programmes
- d) the assessment method to be used and the test periods for each course
- e) the test method and structure and assessment procedures and assessment criteria used
- f) the person or persons responsible for the implementation of the various components of the assessment policy
- g) the method of regular evaluation

Section 7 The final assessment of the degree programmes

Article 7.1 Final assessment

1. Each of the degree programmes is rounded off with a final assessment.
2. The final assessment for the Master's degree can only take place after approval of the student's study programme by the relevant Board of Examiners. The Board of Examiners will determine regulations for the assessment of the study programmes. If the student exceeds the relevant deadlines of these regulations, the Board of Examiners may postpone the graduation date. This date may then be in the academic year following the year in which the last examination was passed.
3. The Board of Examiners determines the result of the final assessment as soon as the student has passed all the required examinations, thus having acquired the required academic training, and to that end the Board issues a certificate.
4. Before the outcome of the final assessment can be determined, the Board of Examiners may itself decide to test a student's skills, knowledge and understanding of one or more courses or aspects of the programme, if and in as much as the marks for these courses provide a reason for doing so.
5. The student is deemed to have passed the final assessment of the Master's degree programme if a pass (at least the grade 6) has been obtained for each examination.
6. In determining the result of the final assessment, the Board of Examiners also commits itself to a speedy processing of the degree certificate ceremony.
7. If a student wishes to postpone the date of graduation due to extra examinations that still need to be taken, a request to this end must be submitted to the Board of Examiners within two weeks after the date of the final assessment has been set.
8. The graduation date is the date on which the final assessment is marked as a pass, as determined by the Board of Examiners in accordance with the provisions of Article 7.1.3.
9. All assignments submitted for the final assessment as referred to in Article 7.1.1, will be kept on file by the Faculty Board for a period of at least 7 years after the graduation day.

Article 7.2 Degree

1. A student who has satisfied all the requirements of the final assessment shall be awarded the degree 'Master of Science'.
2. The degree awarded shall be registered on the degree certificate.

Article 7.3 Conditions for awarding a University of Groningen degree

1. The award of the certificate for the Master's examination of the degree programme is conditional on the completion of at least half of the study load of the degree programme by means of course units provided by the University of Groningen during the period in which the student was registered as a Master's student at the University of Groningen.
2. For Double Degree Master's degree programmes offered together with an institution abroad, at least half of the study load of the programme must have been completed at the University of Groningen, during the student's period of registration as a Master's student at the University of Groningen.

Article 7.4 Degree certificate

1. Students shall receive a certificate issued by the Board of Examiners as proof that they have passed the final assessment. Article 7.3 is applicable.
2. Even if a student successfully completes more than one profile/track within a Master's degree programme, only one degree certificate will be awarded.
3. The Board of Examiners will issue an International Diploma Supplement with each degree certificate.
4. If relevant, the results obtained in the Master's Honours Programme will also be recorded on the Diploma Supplement that accompanies the Master's degree certificate.
5. If a Master's student earns at least 20 EC more than is required for the degree programme, whether as a thesis with an increased study load, or in the form of relevant Master's level courses, at the request of the student the Board of Examiners may permit an entry on the diploma supplement that indicates that the student completed a programme with an increased study load.

Article 7.5 Judicia cum laude and summa cum laude

1. The Board of Examiners shall determine whether or not the Master's degree certificate will be awarded a judicium predicate.
2. For the Executive MBA the following conditions apply:
 - a) For cum laude the average mark of the EMBA Integration Project courses needs to be at least 8.0 and at least 7.0 for each course. For summa cum laude the average mark needs to be at least 9.0 and at least 7.0 for each course. This applies to the following EMBA Integration Project courses per track:
 - Energy Transition: EMBA Integration Proj. I EMBA Energy Transition (EBE073A05), EMBA Integration Proj. II EMBA Energy Transition (EBE075A05) and EMBA Integration Proj. III EMBA Energy Transition (EBE078A05);
 - Food & Retail: EMBA Integration Proj. I EMBA Food and Retail (EBE039B05), EMBA Integration Proj. II EMBA Food and Retail (EBE043B05) and EMBA Integration Proj. III EMBA Food and Retail (EBE047B05);
 - Health: EMBA Integration Proj. I EMBA Health (EBE079A05), EMBA Integration Proj. II EMBA Health (EBE082A05) and EMBA Integration Proj. III EMBA Health (EBE085A05);
 - Sustainable Business Management: EMBA Integration Proj. I EMBA SBM (EBE086A05), EMBA Integration Proj. II EMBA SBM (EBE089A05) and EMBA Integration Proj. III EMBA SBM (EBE092A05).
 - b) The weighted average (not rounded off) for all approved curricular courses of the programme (excluding the above mentioned EMBA Integration Project courses) is:
 - greater than or equal to 8.0 for 'cum laude'
 - greater than or equal to 9.0 for 'summa cum laude'
3. For the Executive Master of Accountancy the following conditions apply:
 - a) The mark for the courses Afronding Accountancy Portfolio deel III (EBE032A06) and Afronding Accountancy Mondeling (EBE033A04) must satisfy the following minimum conditions:
 - cum laude: the mark for both courses is at least 8.0 on average and at

- least 7.0 for each course
- summa cum laude: the mark for both courses is at least 9.0 on average and at least 7.0 for each course
- b) The weighted average (not rounded off) for all approved curricular courses of the programme, excluding the two above mentioned courses, is
 - greater than or equal to 8.0 for 'cum laude'
 - greater than or equal to 9.0 for 'summa cum laude'
- 4. For the Executive Master Mergers & Acquisitions and Valuation the following conditions apply:
 - a) The mark for the courses M&A and Valuation Portfolio Part III (EBE051A05) and M&A and Valuation Portfolio Part IV (EBE057A10) must satisfy the following minimum conditions:
 - cum laude: the mark for both courses is at least 8.0 on average and at least 7.0 for each course
 - summa cum laude: the mark for both courses is at least 9.0 on average and at least 7.0 for each course
 - b) The weighted average (not rounded off) for all approved curricular courses of the programme, excluding the two above mentioned courses, is
 - greater than or equal to 8.0 for 'cum laude'
 - greater than or equal to 9.0 for 'summa cum laude'
- 5. For the other degree programmes the following conditions apply:
 - a) The mark for the thesis must satisfy the following minimum conditions:
 - cum laude: the mark for the thesis must be at least 8.0
 - summa cum laude: the mark for the thesis must be at least 9.0
 - b) The weighted average (not rounded off) for all approved curricular courses of the programme, excluding the thesis is
 - greater than or equal to 8.0 for 'cum laude'
 - greater than or equal to 9.0 for 'summa cum laude'
- 6. The judicium predicate is awarded on condition that the examinations for the courses were taken only once.
- 7. In order to obtain the distinction 'cum laude' or the distinction 'summa cum laude', no exemption may be registered for any course.
- 8. The judicium predicate may only be awarded if no single course was awarded a mark less than 7.0.
- 9. Contrary to the provisions of Article 7.5.7 an exemption for the course Learning and Practising Research (EBM878B10) for students in the Research Master in Economics and Business will not be taken into account in determining a judicium.
- 10. The results and grades of the Master's Honours programme are excluded from the award of the judicium.
- 11. No judicium is awarded if a decision by the Board of Examiners has been taken to the effect that a student is no longer eligible for an honours predicate because fraud among which plagiarism has been found.
- 12. In certain circumstances, the Board of Examiners may depart from the provisions set out in Article 7.5.2, Article 7.5.3, Article 7.5.4, Article 7.5.5, Article 7.5.6, Article 7.5.7, Article 7.5.8, Article 7.5.10.

Section 8 Study supervision

Article 8.1 Study progress administration

1. The Faculty Board takes care of the registration of the results of each student.
2. If requested the Faculty will provide each student with an overview of these results at least once a year.
3. In respect of the Double Degree Programmes it is the joint responsibility of the Faculty and the concerning partner university to exchange obtained results.

Article 8.2 Supervision

The Faculty Board will ensure that the student has sufficient supervision for the duration of the degree programme, and will pay particular attention to possible changes deemed necessary to ensure the chosen curriculum is compatible either with conducting academic research or exercising a profession outside the university.

Article 8.3 Research Master in Economics and Business study advice

1. Results of students on the degree programme Research Master in Economics and Business are evaluated by the Board of Examiners every six months.
2. In the event of insufficient results, a student may be advised to switch to one of the other Master's degree programmes offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business.

Section 9 Transitional and final provisions

Article 9.1 Amendments

1. Any amendments to these Regulations will, following a recommendation by and/or upon the approval of after due consultation with the Programme Committee and in consultation with – and where necessary upon the approval of – the Faculty Council, be confirmed by the Faculty Board in a separate decree.
2. Any amendments to these Regulations will not apply to the current academic year, unless it may reasonably be assumed that the amendment will not harm the interests of students.
3. Amendments may not influence to the detriment of students any decision taken as a consequence of these Regulations concerning an individual student.

Article 9.2 Status of the Dutch version and English version of the OER/TER

In case of divergencies of interpretation between the Dutch language version (OER) and English language version (TER) of these Teaching and Examination Regulations the Dutch version shall prevail.

Article 9.3 Evaluation

1. The Faculty Board will ensure that the OER/TER is regularly evaluated, assessing at least – for the purpose of monitoring and if necessary adapting the student workload – the amount of time students need to complete their duties as set out therein.
2. The Faculty Board evaluates the educational process periodically.

Article 9.4 Publication

1. The Faculty Board shall duly publish this Teaching and Examination Regulations, any rules and guidelines formulated by the Board of Examiners, and any amendments to these documents.
2. Copies of the documents referred to in Article 9.3.1 are available from the FEB Education Office. These documents can also be found on the FEB website.

Article 9.5 Date of commencement

These regulations shall take effect on 1 September 2022.

Approved by the Programme Committees and Faculty Council on the legally determined parts on or before 31 August 2022.

As decreed by the Faculty Board on or before 31 August 2022.

Appendix 1 Aim and learning outcomes of the degree programmes

Graduates have the necessary skills to conduct research, and applying the relevant disciplinary standards of responsible research, and to report on such research in a way that satisfies the recognized standards in the field.

Appendix 1.1 MSc Accountancy and Controlling

The aim of the MSc degree programme Accountancy and Controlling is to equip students with advanced academic knowledge and understanding of Accountancy and Controlling. The MSc programme in Accountancy and Controlling focuses on the reliability of the information used to manage organizations and to report on their policies and policy implementation to (internal and external) stakeholders. The reliability of information depends on its accuracy, its completeness and whether it is communicated on time. The MSc programme has two specializations, Accountancy and Controlling. The Accountancy specialization is concerned with organizations' external stakeholders and is subject to national and international financial accounting regulations. It prepares students for the follow-up postgraduate programme in Accountancy, which enables students to qualify as Chartered Accountant or Certified Public Accountant. The Controlling specialization is concerned with organizations' internal stakeholders, in particular its management. This specialization prepares students for the postgraduate programme in Finance and Control, which enables students to qualify as Chartered Controller.

Specifically, the aim of the Accountancy profile is to provide students with advanced knowledge in the areas of Auditing, Internal Control, Financial Accounting and Corporate Governance. The aim of the Controlling profile is to provide students with advanced knowledge in the areas of Management Accounting, Internal Control, Financial Management and Change Management. Both specializations look at organizations' strategic problems in depth. In addition, students learn how to analyse and diagnose complex practical problems and to put forward and implement solutions, both individually and as part of a team. They also learn how to take an integrated approach to complex practical problems. Lastly, attention is devoted to acting from an independent and impartial attitude.

A Knowledge

The MSc Accountancy and Controlling graduates of both profiles have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

A.1 Internal Control

A.2 Strategy and Organization in relation to Accountancy and Controlling

The MSc Accountancy and Controlling graduates of the Accountancy profile have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

A.3 Auditing

A.4 Financial Accounting

A.5 Corporate Governance in relation to Auditing, Internal Control and Financial Accounting

The MSc Accountancy and Controlling graduates of the Controlling profile have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

A.6 Management Accounting

A.7 Financial Management

A.8 Change Management in relation to Management Accounting and Internal Control

B Research

The MSc Accountancy and Controlling graduates of both profiles are able to:

B.1 critically evaluate academic and professional information within the framework of Accountancy and Controlling

B.2 analyse and diagnose organizational problems, and formulate a problem definition for theory and practice

B.3 apply specific research methods and collect quantitative and qualitative data

B.4 analyse, interpret and synthesise data

B.5 develop an argument, draw conclusions, identify limitations of their research, generalize their findings, put forward solutions, make recommendations, and give an advice, for theory or practice.

B.6 appraise academic and professional developments in the field of Accountancy and Controlling and in related areas

B.7 identify theories and models of Accountancy and Controlling in an organisation and to put them in the broader perspective of the organization

C Skills

The MSc Accountancy and Controlling graduates of both profiles:

C.1 have social and communication skills enabling them to formulate relevant information in a logical, convincing and clear manner, both orally and in writing and for an audience of both fellow professionals and non-experts

C.2 are able to reflect critically on other people's work and provide feedback

C.3 are able to selectively use feedback and make adjustments to improve their work

C.4 are able to reflect from a social and ethical point of view on academic ideas, the way organizations function and possible solutions. They are also aware of the need for an independent and impartial attitude

C.5 developed skills to systematically plan, design and execute projects

Appendix 1.2 MSc Business Administration

The MSc degree programme Business Administration is focused on the definition, analysis and evaluation of real and complex managerial problems and on the design of possible solutions in one of the following areas of Business Administration: Change Management, Health, Management Accounting and Control, Small Business and Entrepreneurship, Strategic Innovation Management. Graduates will have conceptual academic knowledge in one of these profiles. They will also have research skills that are crucial to management's ability to analyse business environments. They have academic, social and communicative skills to operate in the context of a professional business.

Graduates of the profile Change Management will have academic knowledge in change processes, including the impact that change may have on individual, group or (inter) organizational levels. This includes knowledge on change strategies and intervention tools. Graduates Change Management are also able to apply tools to manage change effectively. Graduates of the Change Management profile can develop in many directions, for example through consultancy projects. They can also start work as a management trainee, internal consultant, policy consultant or member of a project team in profit as well as non-profit organizations.

Graduates of the profile Health will have academic knowledge of how to analyse and intervene in the organization of care with an eye on the consequences for health, experienced quality of care and costs involved. Graduates have an understanding of the health system in its economic and socio-political environment and can reflect on the strategic consequences of changes therein for the stakeholders involved. They are knowledgeable of the conceptual and methodological issues involved in the economic evaluation of healthcare improvements and innovations. Future employment opportunities may include (inter-)national healthcare organizations, consultancy agencies, insurance companies, or (semi-)governmental organizations.

Graduates of the profile Management Accounting and Control will have academic knowledge on how managers can use systems to control their organization to ensure that the behaviours and decisions of the people in an organization are consistent with the organizations' objectives and strategies. Graduates Management Accounting and Control understand how the process of effective management control system can be designed (for instance budgeting systems and performance management systems), taking into account a number of contingencies such as characteristics of activities, the external business environment and the culture of the organization. Important topics are (financial) information gathering and decision-making in a dynamic organizational context. Graduates Management Accounting and Control will fulfil positions such as assistant manager, management trainee, policy officer, assistant controller, financial manager, organization consultant and researcher.

Graduates of the profile Small Business and Entrepreneurship will have academic knowledge on the specific characteristics of smaller companies and new ventures and the major role that small and entrepreneurial companies play in modern economies. Graduates Small Business and Entrepreneurship will have a profound understanding of theories on small business strategy, management, economics, and entrepreneurship. Future job opportunities are e.g. all-round business administrator for SMEs (small to medium-sized enterprises), independent entrepreneur, organization advisor for SMEs or employee of an organization that concentrates on SMEs, e.g. banks, accountancy offices or government bodies.

Graduates of the profile Strategic Innovation Management have academic knowledge on the strategic management of innovation within companies and between companies. They have a profound understanding of how to stimulate innovation, how to organise the firm internally for innovation; how and with whom the firm should cooperate to maximise innovation; and how to capture value from innovation. Graduates of the profile Strategic Innovation Management find jobs as business developers and innovation managers, working with innovation within the firm; as strategic consultants, advising the firm on their innovation processes; as bankers, evaluating firms and their innovations; and as policy advisors, working on stimulating innovation at the regional, national, and international levels.

In order to achieve this aim, the programme is designed to provide general and specific learning outcomes.

A Knowledge

The MSc Business Administration graduates of all profiles:

- A.1 have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of Research and Skills in their specialist field

The MSc Business Administration graduates of the Change Management profile have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

- A.2 Change and Human Factors
- A.3 Theories & Approaches of the change management
- A.4 Agents and Instruments of Change
- A.5 Managing Technological Change

The MSc Business Administration graduates of the Health profile have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

- A.6 Innovation in Healthcare Organizations
- A.7 Economic Evaluation in Healthcare
- A.8 Healthcare Operations

The MSc Business Administration graduates of the Management Accounting and Control profile have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

- A.9 Management Accounting Change
- A.10 Management Accounting Techniques
- A.11 Financial Management for MAC
- A.12 Research in Management Control

The MSc Business Administration graduates of the Small Business and Entrepreneurship profile have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

- A.13 Small Business Management
- A.14 Strategic Analysis for Small Business
- A.15 Business Diagnosis and Design
- A.16 New Ventures & Entrepreneurship

The MSc Business Administration graduates of the Strategic Innovation Management profile have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

- A.17 Organizing for Innovation
- A.18 Strategic Innovation Management
- A.19 Capturing Value from Innovation
- A.20 Cooperating for Innovation

B Research

The MSc Business Administration graduates of all profiles are able to:

- B.1 recognise and analyse a problem in the specialist field
- B.2 find relevant literature on a theme, and are able to critically review academic publications in terms of theories used, research methodologies used, technical analyses and implications
- B.3 draw strong theoretical linkages between academic publications in order to synthesize research and identify how their research can make a contribution to the literature
- B.4 make a research design of a complex problem in the specialist field and employ specific research methods
- B.5 collect quantitative or qualitative data using appropriate data collection methods
- B.6 analyse and interpret data to provide relevant managerial and theoretical implications, and identify research limitations in the specialist field
- B.7 reflect upon the practical relevance of scientific methods and techniques in the specialist field
- B.8 assess and explain the scientific contribution of publications in the specialist field
- B.9 interpret interrelationships and can draw links between the results of academic and nonacademic publications, and relevant (international) developments

C Skills

The MSc Business Administration graduates of all profiles:

- C.1 have professional communication and English language skills to logically, clearly and carefully express their own activities, assumptions, opinions, solutions and decisions both to non-professionals as to fellow professionals in the same or different fields
- C.2 are able to apply these theories, models and frameworks to analyse complex managerial situations
- C.3 are able to reflect critically on the use of theories to understand management

- practice
- C.4 are able to reflect critically on their own and other peoples' work, paying attention to both logical coherence and economical relevance, and are able to adjust and give feedback or corrections if necessary
 - C.5 are able to answer questions and to defend work
 - C.6 have the necessary skills to reflect critically on their own learning process, professional skills and attitude
 - C.7 are able to identify and reflect on ethical dilemmas within the specialist field

Appendix 1.3 MSc Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies

The aim of the MSc programme Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies is to graduate students able to apply mathematical models on an advanced academic level to the field of economics and business. More specifically, MSc Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies graduates are able to analyse economic problems through a combination of mathematics, economics and statistics using appropriate software. They have a research-oriented attitude, and knowledge of the most important models used. They are able to transform the outcomes of the models in relevant results for the application field. MSc Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies graduates are able to develop mathematical models for real life, in complicated situations. Hence, instead of over-simplifying or adjusting the real-life problem in order to allow for the use of known tools, models or theories (BSc level), the MSc Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies graduates are able to apply modern methods and techniques and develop mathematical or statistical tools when appropriate.

Profile Econometrics is especially concerned with the interpretation of observed (economic) data based on econometric analysis. Economic problems are analysed using data sets in order to find or verify relations or assess the effect of interventions, either for simulation or forecasting, or for policy decisions. Modern econometrics is applied to both macro and microeconomics, and also in other fields like financial economics or marketing.

Profile Operations Research is especially concerned with decision problems on e.g. logistics and finance, like vehicle routing, time schedules for railway systems, supply management, production planning, service planning, queuing, investment, portfolio management or asset liability management. Both deterministic and stochastic models are used.

Profile Actuarial Studies is especially concerned with topics related to pricing and management of insurance, for instance life insurance, risk insurance and reinsurance. Insurance is closely related to investment strategies, supervision, social security, negotiations between employers and employees on pensions, et cetera.

Electives are offered in the field of industrial organisation, in applied statistics, quantitative finance. In addition students can partake in suitable modules from other FEB master programmes, from the LNMB (Dutch Network on the Mathematics of Operations Research), the Actuarial Institute or from master programmes elsewhere, e.g. Actuarial Sciences of the University of Amsterdam.

In this Master's degree programme, students will be prepared for a wide variety of careers in business, industry, and government. A large percentage obtains a job in the financial services, but MSc Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies graduates also find employment in e.g. (service) logistics, consultancy or government agencies such as Statistics Netherlands. Alternatively, MSc Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies graduates may continue their studies as a PhD candidate (mostly after following a one-year Research Master programme, obtaining a second MSc title).

A Knowledge

The MSc Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies graduates of all profiles have in depth knowledge to:

- A.1 use, adapt creatively, or develop mathematical and statistical models to analyze and optimize quantitative problems in economics and/or business
- A.2 form an opinion on the practical relevance of such (mathematical) models and be able to critically assess the application of these theories and models
- A.3 use, adapt creatively, or develop programming tools for the numerical quantitative analysis of problems in economics and/or business
- A.4 understand how the core models and theory of the three profiles below relate and strengthen the knowledge of their own profile

The MSc Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies graduates of the Econometrics profile:

A.5 obtain in depth knowledge and solid understanding of recent (mathematical) theory, methods and scientific developments in data analysis, estimation and inference

The MSc Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies graduates of the Operations Research profile:

A.6 obtain in depth knowledge and solid understanding of recent (mathematical) theory, methods and scientific developments in optimization, decision making and evaluation

The MSc Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies graduates of the Actuarial Studies profile:

B Research

The MSc Econometrics, Operations Research and Actuarial Studies graduates of all profiles:

B.1 are able to read the up to date international literature in their field, to apply knowledge and understanding when analyzing non-routine practical problems and are able to contribute to the advancement of knowledge in a professional environment

B.2 are able to independently formulate a problem definition, employ specific research and analysis methods and plan and conduct research

B.3 are able to translate a practical problem into questions in terms of a mathematical model, to collect relevant quantitative data and to translate the outcomes of a mathematical model into answers for the original practical problem

B.4 are able to apply scientific methods and techniques in mathematics, economics, statistics and software within the correct context

B.5 are able to independently conduct research on real-life non-routine problems

B.6 have the ability to interpret the interrelationship of the knowledge areas and can draw links between the results concerning the knowledge area found in international scientific and subject-specific publications and relevant social developments

B.7 have an investigative and critical attitude towards the possibilities and limitations of scientific content and development of the knowledge area and are able to take a stand in a debate

C Skills

The MSc EORAS graduates:

C.1 have social communication skills to logically, clearly and convincingly express her/his own activities, assumptions, opinions, solutions and decisions in the main specialization both orally and in written form in English, both to nonprofessionals as well as to fellow professionals in the same or different field (like economists, mathematicians, managers, scientists, technicians)

C.2 are able to reflect critically on their own and other peoples work, paying attention to both logical coherence and practical relevance and are able to adjust and give feedback or corrections if necessary

C.3 are able to reflect on scientific theories, economic or societal phenomena and on the functioning of organisations from an ethical viewpoint

C.4 are able to read the up to date international literature in at least three additional subfields from either the chosen or another specialization and on at least two additional subfields from mathematics, economics or business, including the specializations from the programme

C.5 are able to use at least one programming environment and have knowledge of relevant computer applications in their field and they are able to use these as required for functioning in a professional environment

C.6 have the necessary learning and study skills to be able to reflect on their own learning process and professional skills and attitude and are able to act on that

Appendix 1.4 MSc Economic Development and Globalization

The MSc-programme Economic Development and Globalization strives to ensure that graduates will have state-of-the-art knowledge of the drivers of economic growth and economic development. They will have a similarly deep understanding about globalization, in the form of international trade but also other forms of cross-border economic activity, such as international investments. The emphasis in the programme is on using analytical tools from the field of economics to diagnose and analyse modern-day challenges.

The programme also provides training in the skills and competencies to apply the acquired knowledge in specific settings, with an emphasis on clear communication and argumentation, to prepare students for a professional career in firms with an international orientation (financial institutions, multinationals, consultancy firms), in international organizations, or in government agencies with an international focus.

In order to achieve these objectives the MSc Economic Development and Globalization programme has been modelled by specific intended learning outcomes or qualifications.

A Knowledge

The MSc Economic Development and Globalization graduates have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

- A.1 Globalization, notably International Trade and International Financial Economics
- A.2 Economic Development
- A.3 Quantitative research methods, such as econometrics

B Research

Within the area of Economic Development and Globalization the MSc Economic Development and Globalization graduates are able to:

- B.1 independently formulate a problem definition, and plan and conduct research
- B.2 critically assess the relationships between theoretical concepts, research methodologies and empirical findings in international (scientific) publications
- B.3 apply appropriate scientific methods and quantitative techniques to address a problem definition
- B.4 collect relevant quantitative and qualitative data, to analyse, interpret and synthesise this data to form an opinion, to create an argumentation, to design a solution, to solve problems, to draw a conclusion, and/or to give advice
- B.5 reflect on the outcome of the research and its limitations in light of the existing body of knowledge

The MSc Economic Development and Globalization graduates:

- C.1 have professional communication and English language skills (in listening, reading, writing, presenting and discussing) to logically, clearly and carefully express their own activities, assumptions, opinions, solutions and decisions both to professionals and non-professionals
- C.2 can use quantitative (digital) methods to analyse and assess economic problems
- C.3 are able to work solution-focused, systematic and methodically accurate in a professional environment
- C.4 are able to work in an international interdisciplinary context and to act professionally, taking into account cultural differences
- C.5 have critical thinking skills to define the possibilities and limitations of the discipline to address social questions and developments and are able to take a standpoint from an ethical viewpoint
- C.6 are able to reflect critically on their own and other people's work, paying attention to both logical coherence and economical relevance and are able to give feedback and use feedback and make changes based on this feedback
- C.7 are able to reflect on their own learning process, and professional skills

Appendix 1.5 MSc Economics

The aim of the Master's degree programme Economics is to equip students with knowledge and understanding of economic theory at a high analytical level and to familiarize them with the application of theory and research methods to economic policy and practice. MSc Economics graduates will have in-depth knowledge of contemporary economic theories in core fields of the economics discipline and will be able to apply these theories to practical economic problems and policies. Graduates of the programme will also be able to independently conduct economic research. Such a combination of rigorous academic thinking with practical experience and analytical skills is essential for any profession in economic policy and/or research. Students of the Master's degree programme Economics will receive an academic training for positions in which they contribute as an economist to decision-making in (inter) national government bodies, public organizations, and private corporations, such as financial institutions, multinationals and consultancy firms.

In order to achieve these objectives, the Master's programme Economics gives students specific intended learning outcomes or qualifications.

A Knowledge

To classify the economic literature the Journal of Economic Literature uses the JEL Classification System (website American Economic Association: www.AEAweb.org, JEL classification code guide). Since this system is widely accepted within the economics discipline, it will be used to define the knowledge areas and related learning outcomes of the degree programme below.

The MSc Economics graduates have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas in economics:

- A.1 Microeconomics, Industrial Organisation (JEL-codes D, L)
- A.2 Macroeconomics, Monetary Economics (JEL-code E)
- A.3 Mathematical Methods and Quantitative Methods (JEL-code C).

The MSc Economics graduates have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of one or more of the following sub-fields in economics:

- A.4 Public Economics Law and Economics (JEL-codes H, K)
- A.5 Economic History and Economic Development, Technological Change, and Economic Growth (JEL-codes N, O)
- A.6 Econometrics, Operations Research, Actuarial Sciences, Finance, or international Economics and Business (JEL-codes C, F, G)
- A.7 Health (JEL-code I1)
- A.8 Monetary Policy (JEL-code E5)
- A.9 Antitrust, Regulation (JEL-codes L4, L5)

B Research

Within the fields of Economics the MSc Economics graduates are able to:

- B.1 formulate a critical assessment of the interrelationships between theoretical concepts, research methodologies and empirical findings in international academic publications
- B.2 independently formulate a problem definition, apply specific research and analysis methods and plan and conduct research
- B.3 collect quantitative and qualitative data, analyse, interpret and synthesize this data, create an argument, develop a solution, solve problems and/or give theory and evidence-based advice
- B.4 apply scientific methods and techniques in economics, mathematics, statistics and applied informatics within the appropriate context
- B.5 contribute independently to the body of applied knowledge within the Economics domain

Furthermore, the MSc Economics graduates:

- B.6 can critically identify the potential and limitations of the economics discipline, and science in general, to address social questions and developments and are able to take up a position from an ethical viewpoint

C Skills

The MSc Economics graduates:

- C.1 have social communication and English language skills (in reading, writing, presenting and discussing) to logically, clearly and convincingly express their own activities, assumptions, opinions, solutions and decisions both to nonprofessionals and fellow professionals
- C.2 are able to reflect critically on their own and other people's work, paying attention to both the logical coherence and the economic relevance and are able to adjust and give constructive feedback or corrections if necessary
- C.3 know the most important sources of international literature and is able to find and use this academic literature to solve concrete and complex problems

Appendix 1.6 MSc Finance

Graduates of the MSc degree programme Finance will have knowledge, understanding and skills required to define, analyse and evaluate real and complex financial problems on both a societal level and the level of companies and institutions, and to design solutions for these problems. Graduates of the MSc programme Finance will have advanced academic knowledge of finance theory and research methods in finance. More specifically, they will have advanced knowledge in a selected number of specific sub-fields in finance, such as derivative instruments, corporate finance, corporate valuation, responsible finance and investment, banking and insurance, portfolio theory, institutional investment management, corporate governance, behavioural finance, and finance and development.

Graduates of the MSc programme Finance will have both academic and professional skills. With respect to academic skills, the programme focuses on collecting and analysing data, planning and designing a research project, and academic writing. Examples of professional skills are computer model building for business decisions, presenting in public, identifying and analysing problems, and working in teams.

Graduates of the MSc degree programme Finance are trained for positions in which they contribute as a specialist in finance to decision-making in private (multinational) companies and financial institutions, consultancy firms, (international) institutional organizations such as the IMF, World Bank, ECB, et cetera, and governmental institutions. The curriculum of the programme offers several options to develop a specific labor market orientation. By selecting specific sets of courses, students may develop one of four labor market profiles, i.e. corporate finance, investing, banking and finance and development.

A Knowledge

The MSc Finance graduates have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

- A.1 finance theories and models in the fields of corporate finance and asset pricing
- A.2 research methods in finance

B Research

The MSc Finance graduates are able to:

- B.1 recognise and analyse a finance related problem
- B.2 do a literature search and make a critical assessment of theoretical concepts, research methodologies and empirical findings in international academic publications
- B.3 independently formulate a problem definition, select appropriate research and analysis methods and plan and conduct research
- B.4 collect quantitative and/or qualitative data, analyse, interpret and synthesise these data, create an argument, develop a solution, solve problems and give theory and evidence-based advice
- B.5 apply research methods in finance within the appropriate context
- B.6 contribute independently to the body of applied knowledge within the finance domain

Furthermore, the MSc Finance graduates have:

- B.7 an investigative and critical approach towards the potential and limitations of research in the finance discipline

The MSc Finance graduates:

- C.1 have social communication and English language skills (in reading, writing, presenting and discussing) to logically, clearly and convincingly express their own activities, assumptions, opinions, solutions and decisions both to nonprofessionals and fellow professionals
- C.2 are able to reflect critically on their own and other people's work, paying attention to both the logical coherence and the economic relevance and are able to adjust to constructive feedback or corrections if necessary

Appendix 1.7 MSc Human Resource Management

The MSc Human Resource Management aims to graduate students who are able to define, analyse, and evaluate complex problems related to the management of work and employment of people in organizations. MSc Human Resource Management graduates will have acquired rigorous academic thinking and scientific and professional skills to consider and explore how Human Resource Management policies and practices can be developed and applied to ensure the availability, employability, commitment, and vitality of employees needed to accomplish organizational goals.

MSc Human Resource Management graduates are highly employable and find a broad variety of jobs in HRM-related domains in all kinds of organizations. Some examples of positions are: junior human resource manager, recruitment and selection officer, training and development officer, personnel consultant, organizational advisor, or policy officer for personnel affairs.

Besides a professional career, MSc Human Resource Management graduates may opt for an academic career and apply for a position as a scientific researcher in a PhD programme at a university.

In order to realise these goals, the programme is designed to achieve general and specific learning outcomes.

A Knowledge

The MSc Human Resource and Management graduates have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the principles theories, models, and methods of the following areas:

- A.1 Strategic Human Resource Management
- A.2 Work Design, Team Processes and Leadership
- A.3 Personnel Instruments

B Research

The MSc Human Resource and Management graduates are able to:

- B.1 take a research-driven approach to underpin Human Resource and Management policies and practices on the best available scientific evidence
- B.2 select and synthesize theories, models, and methods to define and conceptualize research questions relevant to the Human Resource and Management field
- B.3 collect, analyze, and interpret data to draw research-based conclusions and make justifiable recommendations in addressing Human Resource and Management issues
- B.4 write, present, defend, and discuss a scientific research report

C Skills

The MSc Human Resource and Management graduates:

- C.1 have the communication skills to logically, clearly, and convincingly express their own assumptions, analyses, conclusions, decisions, opinions, and activities, both orally and in written form
- C.2 can reflect critically on their own and other people's knowledge, skills, and abilities and are able to act on that
- C.3 have the necessary analytical and social skills to cooperate effectively in multidisciplinary teams composed to address comprehensive organizational problems and issues with Human Resource and Management dimensions
- C.4 apply theoretical insights when defining, analyzing, and evaluating complex questions and issues related to the management of work and employment of people at a relatively advanced level

Appendix 1.8 MSc International Business and Management

The MSc International Business and Management degree programme is focused on the business and management aspects related to the multinational enterprise. MSc International Business and Management graduates will have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of leadership issues within multinational companies, international financial management, advanced international business and comparative institutional approaches. They will also have specific research skills that are crucial to management's ability to analyse new environments and pertinent developments and the necessary social communication skills to operate in an international context.

The aim of the MSc International Business and Management degree programme has been translated into the following intended learning outcomes:

A Knowledge

The MSc International Business and Management graduates have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

- A.1 strategic decision-making and organizational structure in the international competitive environment
- A.2 relationships between international activities of firms and the institutional environments of home and host countries
- A.3 the complexities of operating in different cultural environments at regional, national and sub-national levels
- A.4 current challenges for firms competing in an international context, for example emerging markets, sustainability, and corporate social responsibility

Furthermore, the MSc International Business and Management graduates are able to apply knowledge and understanding of these areas when analyzing new, complex problems in an international business and management context

B Research

Within the area of International Business and Management the MSc International Business and Management graduates are able to:

- B.1 formulate a critical assessment of the relationships between theoretical concepts, research methodologies and empirical findings in international scientific publications
- B.2 independently formulate a problem definition, employ specific research methods and plan and conduct research
- B.3 collect relevant quantitative and qualitative data, to analyse, interpret and synthesize this data with the purpose to form an opinion, to create an argumentation, to design a solution, to solve problems and/or to give an advice
- B.4 correctly apply scientific methods and techniques in the field of International Business and Management

The MSc International Business and Management graduates:

- C.1 have professional communication skills (writing, presenting/discussing) to logically, clearly and carefully express their own activities, assumptions, opinions, solutions and decisions to non-professionals and fellow professionals
- C.2 are able to work solution focused, systematic and methodically accurate in a professional environment
- C.3 are able to reflect critically on their own work and learning process and other persons' work, paying attention to both logical coherence and economical relevance and are able to adjust and give feedback or corrections if necessary
- C.4 are able to apply this knowledge and skills in the context of an international multidisciplinary work environment and are able to work in an intercultural context and to act professionally, taking into account differences in traditions, norms and habits with regard to the functioning within the international organization

Appendix 1.9 MSc International Financial Management

The aim of the MSc degree programme International Financial Management (IFM) is to equip students with knowledge, understanding and skills required to define, analyse and evaluate real and complex international financial management problems on both a societal level as well as on the level of companies and institutions, and to design solutions for these problems. Graduates of the MSc programme International Financial Management will have advanced academic knowledge of theoretical concepts in (international) financial management and will be able to apply research methods enabling them to analyse and solve financial problems multinational companies are faced with. They will have advanced knowledge in a selected number of specific sub-fields in international financial management (e.g. international corporate finance, international risk management, and international management accounting and control). They will also have advanced knowledge in different aspects of the international business and international economic environment in which multinational companies operate. Graduates of the MSc degree programme International Financial Management will be able to fulfil positions in which they contribute as a specialist in international financial management to decision-making in multinational companies and financial institutions, consultancy firms, multinational public organizations such as the IMF, World Bank, ECB, et cetera, and governmental institutions.

A Knowledge

The MSc International Financial Management graduates have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

- A.1 theories, frameworks and models in international management accounting, international risk analysis, financial management of multinationals and international institutions and governance
- A.2 research methods in international financial management

B Research

The MSc International Financial Management graduates are able to:

- B.1 recognise and analyse an international financial management related problem
- B.2 do a literature search and make a critical assessment of the interrelationships between theoretical concepts, research methodologies and empirical findings in international academic publications
- B.3 independently formulate a problem definition, apply specific research and analysis methods and plan and conduct research
- B.4 collect quantitative and qualitative data, analyse, interpret and synthesise this data, create an argument, develop a solution, solve problems and/or give theory and evidence-based advice
- B.5 apply research methods in international financial management within the appropriate context
- B.6 contribute independently to the body of applied knowledge within the international financial management domain

Furthermore, the MSc International Financial Management graduates have:

- B.7 an investigative and critical approach towards the potential and limitations of research in the international financial management discipline

C Skills

The MSc International Financial Management graduates:

- C.1 have social communication and English language skills (in reading, writing, presenting and discussing) to logically, clearly and convincingly express their own activities, assumptions, opinions, solutions and decisions both to nonprofessionals and fellow professionals
- C.2 are able to reflect critically on their own and other people's work, paying attention to both the logical coherence and the economic relevance and are able to adjust to constructive feedback or corrections if necessary

Appendix 1.10 MSc Marketing

The aim of the MSc Marketing programme is to educate students to become experts in Marketing who can use advanced marketing (research) theories and methods to analyse marketing problems and to come up with sound solutions based on consumer insights. The aim of the profile Marketing Management is to provide students with advanced academic knowledge on conceptual marketing topics, such as marketing strategy and consumer behavior, and empirical marketing research methods. After fulfilling this profile, graduates are qualified for positions such as brand, product, or category manager in both the public and private sector. The aim of the profile Marketing Analytics and Data Science is to provide students with advanced academic knowledge on marketing theory and analysis techniques to generate data-based consumer insights. After fulfilling this profile, graduates are qualified for positions such as marketing- and customer intelligence analyst, marketing researchers, and data scientist in both the public and private sector. For this, the MSc Marketing programme offers state-of-the-art academic knowledge on marketing management and marketing research with advanced research-based courses. By this, MSc Marketing graduates will have profound academic and research skills that are crucial to a marketing manager or researcher to analyse marketing problems, as well as social and professional communicative skills to translate the resulting insights into a sound recommendation for the organization.

A Knowledge

The MSc Marketing graduates of both profiles have:

- A.1 knowledge of the several basic topics in the field of Marketing, i.e. Strategic Marketing, Marketing Research Methods, and Consumer Psychology

The MSc Marketing graduates have advanced academic knowledge and understanding on one of the following areas:

- A.2 Marketing Management
- A.3 Marketing Analytics and Data Science

B Research

The MSc Marketing graduates of both profiles are able to:

- B.1 formulate a critical assessment of the relationships between theoretical concepts,

- research methodologies, and empirical findings in scientific marketing publications
- B.2 independently formulate, using relevant market and company information, a problem definition based on an extensive analysis of the available information and marketing theory
- B.3 independently develop theory- and analytically-based solutions for derived marketing problems
- B.4 display an investigative and critical attitude towards the possibilities and limitations of marketing science for practical marketing questions
- B.5 take a standpoint on marketing issues from an ethical perspective
- The MSc Marketing graduates of the profile Marketing Management are able to:
- B.6 collect relevant quantitative and qualitative data, to analyse, interpret and synthesize this data with the purpose to form an opinion, to create an argumentation, to design a solution, to solve problems, and/or give an advice
- B.7 apply scientific methods and techniques to the field of Marketing Management in a scientific integer manner

The MSc Marketing graduates of the profile Marketing Analytics and Data Science are able to:

- B.8 collect, store and process relevant online and offline market and customer data; to analyze these data with econometric methods; and to interpret and synthesize this data with the purpose to form an opinion, to create an argumentation, to design a solution, to solve problems, and/or give an advice
- B.9 apply scientific methods and techniques from data science and econometrics to the field of Marketing in a scientific integer manner

C Skills

The MSc Marketing graduates of both profiles:

- C.1 have professional communication and English language skills (in listening, reading, writing, presenting and discussing) to logically, clearly, and carefully express their activities, assumptions, opinions, solutions and decisions both to non-professionals as to fellow professionals
- C.2 are able to reflect critically on their own and other peoples work, paying attention to both logical coherence and marketing relevance and are able to adjust and give feedback or corrections if necessary
- C.3 are able to work effectively in teams and to critically assess their contribution to the team's performance necessary

Appendix 1.11 MSc Supply Chain Management

The aim of the Master Supply Chain Management is to educate students how to design and coordinate supply chains and to plan and control logistics operations in order to deliver high quality products and services in a fast, efficient, and resilient way. A supply chain can be seen as a chain or network of organisations working together to fulfil customer orders. Supply chain managers contribute to this process by managing the whole supply chain and all operations included that are related to flows of materials, information and services. Logistics has become an important tool in planning and controlling these flows. Effective supply chain management and logistics can provide competitive advantage. Technology and ICT innovations, sustainability issues and market trends, such as increased internet sales, require changes in the management of supply chains.

A student in the academic Master Supply Chain Management will focus on the design, coordination of supply chains and planning, control and improvement of supply chain operations and will learn how to deal with relevant trends. Core aspects include supply chain strategies, logistics, network design, planning and control of operations in production, distribution and service environments, coordination and cooperation strategies, and (continuous) improvement. MSc Supply Chain Management graduates are able to define, diagnose and analyse supply chain decision problems and propose and evaluate effective solutions and strategies.

With a mixture of rigorous academic learning and practical applicability, graduates can develop supply chain theories, models, methods and best practices to increase supply chain quality, flexibility, and reliability and to increase delivery speed and efficiency in the order fulfilment process. MSc Supply Chain Management graduates will be able to communicate orally and in writing results both to an audience of researchers and managers. Students will be prepared in this master for a career as a supply chain manager of an (international) organization, a logistics, production or purchasing manager in a production, distribution or service environment or as a consultant in the supply chain management practice. Alternatively, they might opt for an academic career and start as an PhD researcher.

A Knowledge

The MSc Supply Chain Management graduates have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the principle theories, models and methods in:

- A.1 strategic, tactical and operational supply chain management
- A.2 the design of sustainable supply chain networks
- A.3 the control and coordination of logistics and supply chain operations

B Research

The MSc Supply Chain Management graduates are able to:

- B.1 recognise and review/assess recent scientific developments in the field of Supply Chain Management
- B.2 formulate a problem definition, select the right literature and methodologies, and come up with a research design and planning for research projects within the field of Supply Chain Management.
- B.3 select information from the literature, theories and models to generate new knowledge and/or to improve supply chain design
- B.4 critically deal with a lack of information and with uncertainty in the decision making process and they are able to translate this in assumptions and modelling choices.
- B.5 analyse data and/or design a solution approach in the field of Supply Chain Management
- B.6 draw conclusions, make recommendations, generalise findings and identify limitations on their research in the field of Supply Chain Management

C Skills

MSc Supply Chain Management graduates:

- C.1 can report on conclusions and research results both orally and in writing to both audiences of researchers and supply chain professionals
- C.2 have developed skills to systematically plan, design and execute projects
- C.3 can analyse and solve complex decision problems at a company level and at a supply chain level
- C.4 can design supply chain strategies and design models for supply chain logistics
- C.5 can identify pitfalls and benefits of opportunities related to innovations in technology and ICT, trends, governmental policy and regulations and market changes that impact supply chain decision making

Appendix 1.12 MSc Technology and Operations Management

The MSc Technology and Operations Management aims to teach students effective decision-making in the operations domain. Students will learn to apply quantitative methods to improve processes in important areas such as logistics, manufacturing, services, energy and healthcare. They will understand the implications, opportunities and limitations of the latest technologies, and are able to consider these in analysing operations-related problems and designing solutions. MSc Technology and Operations Management provides an introduction to data science, allowing students to develop competences such as data analysis, visualization, diagnostics, interpretation, and data-driven decision making.

MSc Technology and Operations Management is set up around several core courses, which focus on different aspects central to the Technology and Operations Management domain, such as data analysis and programming, modeling and simulation, asset management and planning and control. The knowledge and skills of MSc Technology and Operations Management graduates are highly valued by today's and tomorrow's employers.

MSc Technology and Operations Management graduates are likely to find a career as operations manager, data analyst, consultant, project manager or production engineer, in production, distribution or service environments. Alternatively, they might opt for an academic career and start as a PhD student or work in the government sector.

A Knowledge

The MSc Technology and Operations Management graduates have advanced academic knowledge and understanding of the principle theories, models and methods in:

- A.1 technology management

- A.2 operations management
- A.3 operations modelling and data analysis

B Research

The MSc Technology and Operations Management graduates are able to:

- B.1 critically reflect and assess literature in the field of Technology and Operations Management
- B.2 formulate a problem definition, select the right literature and methodologies, and come up with a research design and planning for research projects within the field of Technology and Operations Management
- B.3 select information from the literature, theories and models to generate new knowledge and/or to improve operations in organisations
- B.4 critically deal with a lack of information and with uncertainty in the decision making process and they are able to translate this in assumptions and modelling choices
- B.5 analyse data and/or design a solution approach in the field of Technology and Operations Management
- B.6 draw conclusions, make recommendations, generalise findings and identify limitations on their research in the field of Technology and Operations Management

C Skills

The MSc Technology and Operations Management graduates:

- C.1 can report on conclusions and research results both orally and in writing to a broad audience of researchers and practitioners
- C.2 have developed skills to systematically plan, design and execute projects
- C.3 are able to analyse and solve complex operational and tactical decision problems of organisations
- C.4 are able to design planning and control concepts to improve processes
- C.5 can assess the social and organisational impact of process improvement concepts and technological innovations
- C.6 can analyse, design and apply technological innovations in processes

Appendix 1.13 MSc Research Master in Economics and Business

MSc Research Master graduates are able to set up and conduct innovative academic research in Economics and/or Business. Furthermore they are able to communicate their findings orally and in publishable research papers. They have a profound knowledge and understanding of state-of-the-art theories and methods in their field of specialisation.

MSc Research Master graduates will often become members of the academic community, either as PhD researchers or as researchers at national or international, public or private research institutes. Upon completion of this two-year programme, graduates receive a Master's degree (MSc). The language of instruction is English. Only a small group of enthusiastic and highly motivated students with an exceptional talent for research is selected for admission to the programme.

A Knowledge

MSc Research Master in Economics and Business graduates have:

- A.1 a broad overview of important contemporary issues in economics and business and a detailed knowledge of important issues in their area of specialization
- A.2 advanced knowledge and understanding of theoretical models in economics and business, especially in their area of specialization
- A.3 advanced knowledge and understanding of research methodology and methods in economics and business
- A.4 advanced knowledge and understanding of suitable and feasible research designs and methods of data collection in different types of research as well as expertise and experience in the adequacy, applicability and factual application of such research designs and methods of data collection

MSc Research Master in Economics and Business graduates have:

- B.1 comprehensive ability to select, understand and integrate relevant scientific

- B.2 literature, and to evaluate it on the basis of the available information expertise and experience in the elaboration of a research project, i.e., a clearly formulated research problem that is innovative, while building on theory in the domain of economics and business and that is firmly supported by the extant research in the field
- B.3 comprehensive ability to choose and apply appropriate research methodologies, methods and statistical techniques, and to critically evaluate the resulting research outcomes
- B.4 expertise and experience with the integration of theory and empirical research and experience in the full process of research, including reporting on the research results
- B.5 comprehensive ability to reflect on social and ethical responsibilities linked to the application of knowledge and judgements, as well as on social and ethical consequences of implications of research results on policy-making and subsequent research
- B.6 comprehensive ability to integrate theory and empirical research ('theory-guided empirical research') into a scientific report, which is comparable to the level of a publishable research paper
- B.7 comprehensive ability to search for information and to retrieve, document and archive data according to general scientific standards

C Skills

MSc Research Master in Economics and Business graduates have the comprehensive ability to:

- C.1 communicate (orally and in writing) conclusions, and the knowledge and rationale underpinning these, to specialist (e.g., scientists) and non-specialist audiences (e.g., executives, policymakers, journalists) clearly and unambiguously, including the underpinnings as well as limitations of the conclusions
- C.2 communicate policy implications of scientific research, taking into account the limitations of the information and scientific insight on which the practical recommendations are based
- C.3 write coherently at an academic level
- C.4 reflect on the implications of one's work for the development of theories in economics and business

Appendix 1.14 MSc Executive Master of Accountancy

The MSc Executive Master of Accountancy is the postgraduate part of the theoretical RA (Register Accountant) programme. The MSc Executive Master of Accountancy is a professional education in which students are trained to independently find scientific knowledge in the solution of practical problems, to critically reflect on this and to apply this in the practice of practicing the profession of accountant. The MSc Executive Master of Accountancy aims to ensure that its graduates are good and effective professionals at the scientific level. The students combine the professional education with a job as an assistant accountant -or with another relevant position- in the development towards Register Accountant. The MSc Executive Master of Accountancy is aimed at what the graduate needs to know, understand and be able to perform in the social duties of an accountant. In particular, it concerns the following aspects:

- a) theoretically oriented and thorough research orientation
- b) professional orientation focused on national and international practice
- c) a scientific, investigative and a professional critical attitude
- d) think from multiple perspectives: following the social and scientific debate

MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates are also able to analyse unusual practical situations by identifying a relevant and sound scientific theory on the basis of systematic literature research and applying this theory as a structure for further analysis and solution of the identified problem. The emphasis is on interdisciplinarity and the fruitful connection of theory and practice. In this way the identity of the MSc Executive Master of Accountancy as a scientific professional education is shaped.

A Knowledge

General: The MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates have in-depth, specialised academic knowledge of and insight in the subject areas of accountancy and is able to apply these in new or unfamiliar circumstances and is able to make an original contribution to the renewal of that knowledge in a professional environment. Knowledge and insight mean that graduated masters understand the most important theories, models and frameworks/parameters and that they can also generate new knowledge and insights and use these when analysing complex (financial) business situations and when solving complex (financial) practical problems. The MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates have – within the field of accountancy have in depth, specialized academic knowledge of and insight of the following areas:

- A.1 Auditing
- A.2 Internal Control
- A.3 Corporate Governance
- A.4 External Reporting

Furthermore, MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates have -within the field of accountancy-

- A.5 knowledge of the systems and techniques in Accountancy

General:

The MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates have in-depth knowledge of and insight into academic methods and techniques and academic skills, and an academic attitude, to the extent that graduates are able to assess the (financial) functioning of organisations in the professional practice, that they are able to approach complex practical problems in organisations in an integrative manner, to solve these and to supervise processes of change. MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates are able on the basis of incomplete or limited information to make assessments while taking into account social and ethical responsibilities. MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates have an open attitude towards various academic disciplines, that from their specific perspective focus on aspects of issues in the domain of accountancy and controlling and are aware of the fact that an independent and impartial attitude is a prerequisite. The MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates are able to:

- B.1 diagnose a practical problem in a scientifically justifiable manner
- B.2 to critically assess and apply scientific information such as scientific theories or a scientific argument and to assess and exploit their practical use within the parameters of the accountancy domain
- B.3 to distinguish between main and minor issues and to gather relevant data, to analyse, interpret and synthesize these, with the objective of forming an assessment in relation to a practical problem, to formulate/reason, to draw up an appropriate solution, to advise and/or to supervise a process of change
- B.4 to apply (international) scientific methods & techniques, information and analysis techniques at the right time and in the right context, and to set up and execute independent academically justified result-driven research to solve practical problems

General:

The MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates have social communicative skills required to be able to contribute independently and in a team to the (financial) proper functioning of organisations. MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates are able to supervise a team in the implementation of solutions or processes of changes in an organisation. The MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates have skills required to manage their own learning process and to reflect on their own knowledge and skills and they are able to adjust their way of thinking and working. The MSc Executive Master of Accountancy graduates:

- C.1 have social communicative skills enabling them to express relevant information in a logical, convincing and clear manner, both in writing and orally and both to fellow professionals and non-experts
- C.2 have the ability to work independently and also in a team in a problem-solving manner and according to a plan and are able to manage a team in the professional practice
- C.3 have the ability to reflect critically on own and other's work and where necessary make adjustments and give feedback

C.2 are able to work independently, but also in teams, in a solution-oriented and planned manner and they are able to lead and steer in the professional practice

C.3 are able to critically reflect on own work and work of others so as to, if necessary, to adjust and to give feedback or corrections

C.4 have the necessary learning and study skills to be able to critically reflect on their own learning process, professional skills and attitude

Appendix 1.16 MSc Executive Master of Finance and Control

The MSc Executive Master of Finance and Control is a part-time degree programme for financially orientated business economists and business administrators with at least two years of relevant professional experience. Characteristic of the Groningen MSc Executive Master of Finance and Control degree programme is the close cooperation between the fields of business administration and economics, which has proved fruitful for both teaching and research. Controllers trained in Groningen are ideally equipped to set financial-economic problems in a wider business context, with the result that their contribution to administration and management provides important added value. The degree programme is also characterized by ample attention to professional norms and values, and how to deal with ethical dilemmas, through the academic nature of the programme, its small scale, personal attention and individually tailored teaching.

The MSc Executive Master of Finance and Control meets all the content-related requirements of the Dutch Association of Registered Controllers (VRC). Once a university MSc Executive Master of Finance and Control certificate is gained, graduates can apply to the VRC for the professional title RC (Register Controller). In order to keep this professional title, holders must satisfy the PE (permanent education) requirement, among other things.

The degree programme also facilitates opportunities to satisfy the PE requirement. The professional requirements set by the VRC and the academic requirements of the MSc Executive Master of Finance and Control have thus been united in a single degree programme. The MSc Executive Master of Finance and Control trains controllers who know how to operate quickly and efficiently in demanding financial-economic positions. At the end of the programme, the controller is able to bear the final responsibility for internal and external economic reporting for organizations and for the economic rationality of the decisions taken in the organization. To this end, the controller has state-of-the-art content-related knowledge, an understanding and overview of the business and information processes and how they are related to their environments, and the skills to identify gaps in how the organization functions, in a responsible way. A controller has integrity, is objective and solution-orientated. During discussions within the management team, the controller can objectify the discussion by substantiating the standpoints with objective data/information. In order to achieve these goals, the degree programme has designed the teaching units around the following specific learning outcomes.

A Knowledge

The MSc Executive Master of Finance and Control graduates have in-depth, specialized academic knowledge and understanding of the following areas:

- A.1 Management Accounting and Control
- A.2 Financial Accounting
- A.3 Accounting Information Systems
- A.4 Finance
- A.5 Strategy, Business Administration and Risk Management
- A.6 Taxation Law and Corporate Law

B Research

The MSc Executive Master of Finance and Control graduates are able to:

- B.1 reflect critically on the usefulness of academic information (such as theories and practical recommendations based on this) within the discipline of the controller
- B.2 distinguish between relevant and irrelevant information, to analyze this information and to arrive at a diagnosis, a judgment and / or advice to solve a practical and/or a scientific problem
- B.3 independently find scientific theories and adapt to the practical problems they face
- B.4 carry out application-oriented scientific research independently in the field of controllers issues

The MSc Executive Master of Finance and Control graduates:

- C.1 have social communication skills enabling them to participate in decision making and articulate relevant information in a logical, convincing and clear way, both orally and in writing, for both management and others within an organization
- C.2 are able to work independently or in teams in a solution-orientated and well-planned way and are able to lead and guide in professional practice
- C.3 are able to reflect critically on scientific and practical developments in the field
- C.4 have insight into the ethical dilemmas associated with the exercise of the profession of controller, are capable of independently making professional assessments and have knowledge of the code of conduct of the VRC

Appendix 19 Practical exercises

There are no courses with a practical component that is a condition for admission to the examination.

Appendix 20 Compulsory level of knowledge

Compulsory level of knowledge, if applicable, is mentioned in Appendix 2 to Appendix 18.

Appendix 21.1 General

- Three options can be distinguished in the substitution regulations:
 - option 1*: with respect to content, the substitution course does not differ or differs hardly from the course in the old programme. Although, name, course code, language of instruction or semester block may have changed. In case the block has changed students can only take the substitution course in the new block; also the (resit) examination can only be taken in the new block.
 - option 2*: the substitution course differs, in respect of content (a lot) from the course in the old programme. In that case, the student has a choice to either take the substitution course and to also take the exam in the substitution course or to take the resit examination of the course in the old programme. In 2022-2023 there will be two opportunities to take this resit. This applies only to courses offered for the last time in 2021-2022. The resit examinations for the old programme will be scheduled parallel with the regular examinations of the substitution course.

- option 3: there is no substitution course replacing a course of the old programme. In that case two resit opportunities will be offered in 2022-2023 for the course of the old programme. This applies only to courses offered for the last time in 2021-2022. The resit examination periods may deviate from those of the academic year 2021-2022.
2. The notes in Appendix 21.1.1 apply to the substitution and transition regulations of all Master's degree programmes including DD Master's programmes (part UG).
 3. Transition regulations are designed for students who follow the new curriculum of their programme and who have rounded off (a) course(s) in (an) older programme(s).

III Regulations Overlapping Examinations

Article 1. Introduction

1. Examinations are to be scheduled as much as is possible so as to avoid any overlap. In addition, the following extra restrictions also apply:
 - a) in one Bachelor's degree programme, the examinations for propaedeutic and second-year courses shall not overlap,
 - b) examinations for second-year and compulsory third-year courses in one Bachelor's degree programme shall not overlap,
 - c) examinations of compulsory third-year courses and profile specific courses in one programme shall not overlap (this does not apply to the different profile specific courses),
 - d) resit examination will as much as is possible be scheduled in the second part of an examination block and the regular examinations in the first part of each examination block,
 - e) examination schedules will be published per semester at the same time as the course schedules and will in principle not change afterwards.
2. By taking the provisions of Article 1.1 above into consideration when scheduling examinations overlapping examinations will be avoided as much as is possible. Because all examination dates are published well in advance of the deadline for course registration students can see in good time if two examinations are scheduled in at the same time and they can adapt their choice.
3. If, despite the measures listed above, two examinations are scheduled at the same time and the student wishes to sit them both the student will then under certain conditions be given the opportunity to sit the two examinations immediately one after the other.

Article 2. Criteria for assigning individual arrangements

1. Students can only derive rights from the regulation set out below if they submit a request in good time. A student who wishes to invoke the regulation must complete and send the online form 'Request for arrangement regarding overlap in examinations' no later than the last working day before the start of the examination enrolment. After that the student must sign up for both examinations during the regular enrolment period via the Progress application. Should a request not be submitted in time the Board of Examiners shall decide whether or not the student is eligible for consideration.
2. In case this concerns (re-)examinations of compulsory courses then the student is in any case entitled to an individual arrangement that will enable him/her to take both examinations in the relevant block. An employee of the Student Administration Office will check whether the student has filled in all details correctly (examination times, et cetera) and inform the student of the subsequent procedure.
3. If one or both courses are unrelated electives an appointment must be made with the study advisor to assess whether taking both, overlapping examinations is necessary to avoid large study delay problems. The study advisor will then send a reasoned advice to the Board of Examiners. The latter will take the final decision whether or not an individual arrangement is to be offered. The study advisor will inform the student and possibly the lecturer of the decision and hands the completed form in at the Student Administration Office of the Faculty, from where it will be processed further on.

Article 3. The individual arrangement

1. An individual arrangement means in principle that the student is given the opportunity to take the examinations one after the other: one at the regular time and the other either immediately before or immediately after the regular exam, with a maximum break of one hour between the two examinations.
2. Both examinations are taken in a separate room and an invigilator is to be present.

Article 4. First point of contact and subsequent procedure

1. The Student Administration Office of the Faculty is the first point of contact. The Student Administration staff can use the Student Handbook to determine whether the student satisfies the criteria for an alternative arrangement (see Article 2). The student will be referred to the study advisor and must make an appointment if the criteria are not met (see Article 2.3)

2. If the request is approved, then an employee of the Student Administration Office will organize a room - naturally after co-ordinating with the secretary of the contact lecturer of the course to be examined - (see Article 3.2), a copy of the examination paper plus accessories, et cetera.

Article 5. Final provisions

In case of divergencies of interpretation between the Dutch language version and the English language version of these Regulations, the Dutch language version shall prevail.

IV Regulations Theses BSc, MSc, and Pre-MSc Research papers

Article 1. Introduction

1. These Regulations comprises general rules that apply to all theses of the bachelor and master degree programmes, and the research papers of the pre-MSc programmes of the Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Groningen
2. These Regulations are supplemented, insofar as it concerns the authority and responsibility of the Board of Examiners, in Article 16 of the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Examiners.
3. These Regulations will be further detailed and complemented in a Manual on theses and an Assessment form for theses. The latter documents may vary per programme.
4. The Manual referred to in section 1.3 includes in any case further information about the requirements in respect of admission, the registration procedure, the topic, the form and structure and the learning outcomes of the thesis or research paper as well as information about supervision and the assessment procedure.
5. The form referred to in section 1.3 is a list of assessment aspects that are explicitly used in the determination of the final grade.
6. The documents referred to in section 1.3 are determined each academic year and made available at the start of the thesis or research paper.

Article 2. Admission, time-path

1. Programmes can formulate entry requirements for final theses or research papers in terms of study phase and/or courses or units of the skills path.
2. Programmes set obligatory times for the start and rounding off of the thesis or research paper.
3. A student must register timely for a final thesis or research paper via the Progress application.
4. In case a student, due to extraordinary circumstances, is unable to comply with the set date of rounding off then an extension can be granted by the Board of Examiners at the request of the student.
5. In case a student, due to extraordinary circumstances related to the nature of the final thesis or research paper, is unable to comply with the set date for rounding off then, at the request of the student, the programme director may grant an extension to the student.

Article 3. Subject

1. The Bachelor's thesis and the Pre-MSc Research paper, in principle, consist of a specific assignment, and can be combined with a period of preparation.
2. The subject of the Master's thesis or portfolio fits in with the research of the research group with which the degree programme is linked in terms of substance. Within this framework, the subject, on the proposal of the student, will be determined in consultation with the thesis coordinator. If there is a difference of opinion, the relevant education coordinator or programme director will decide.

Article 4. Form and structure

1. A thesis, portfolio or research paper can comprise one or more parts.
2. The thesis, portfolio or research paper can take the form of theoretical research, e.g. a literature survey, empirical research, or research into a problem relating to an organization (final project). Degree programmes or profiles can prescribe one of these forms and/or set additional requirements in respect of these forms, if desired.
3. Programmes or profiles may set specific requirements relating, for example, to the title page, style, language, typography, summary, or the maximum or minimum number of pages. In the absence of such guidelines, agreements between the student and the supervisor must be made in advance.

Article 5. Learning goals and learning outcomes

1. The learning goals of the thesis, portfolio or research paper must correspond to the learning outcomes of the degree programme concerned.
2. The number of credits, expressed in ECTS credits for a thesis, portfolio or research paper depends on the (degree) programme and is laid down in the relevant Teaching and Examination Regulations. If a degree programme allows for differences in credit load then this must be approved beforehand by the Board of Examiners by means of the approval of the bachelor or pre-MSc programme as stipulated in Article 10.2.1 of the Teaching and Examination Regulations Bachelor's degree programmes and Pre-master's programmes or the approval of the Master's degree programme as stipulated in Article 7.1.2 of the Teaching and Examination Regulations Master's degree programmes.
3. Writing a thesis or research paper or composing a portfolio is an individual accomplishment. Both in the setting up of the thesis, portfolio or research paper and in relation to relational, methodological and content-related aspects, the student shows the ability to be able to function independently and professionally and the ability to keep to agreements.

Article 6. Supervision

1. The Faculty is responsible for the supervision and assessment of the final thesis, portfolio or research paper. Programmes can set additional requirements in respect of the procedure to be followed for allocating a supervisor.
2. Prior to the scheduled start of a final thesis or research paper study load in EC and minimum and maximum number of pages must be set and a supervisor allocated.
3. Supervision of a thesis or research paper consists, at least, of an intake interview, a discussion of the problem definition and/or research approach, feedback on one or more interim reports and discussion of the final draft.
4. The supervising lecturer always gives feedback within 10 working days on drafts submitted per agreement.

Article 7. Involvement external parties in the research

1. For the research involvement of external parties may be necessary or desirable. This involvement can range from making information available to formulating a research assignment. If an external party attaches conditions to the use of the information or to the results of the research, the student must ensure that in spite of these conditions it is possible to satisfy the graduation requirements in the required manner. Draft contacts with external organizations must be submitted in advance to the Faculty for approval¹.
2. If a student in the context of the final project is on an internship with an external party, the student is obliged to conclude a final project contract via the Career Services Department of the Faculty Economics and Business.
3. Responsibility for the supervision of students rests exclusively with the Faculty. The Faculty supervises the research as a learning process and assesses the research process and the results in accordance with the applicable academic standards.
4. The University of Groningen in its capacity of university has covered its liability by means of a liability insurance² to cover its liability as a university and to cover the liability of its students during intern activities, with the exception of intern activities in the United States of America and Canada. Damage to persons, goods and financial loss is covered. In respect of the latter also loss as a result of 3rd flow of funds is covered, but not patent infringement. Excess and maxima apply. The excess for injury to persons is €15.000, to goods is €2.500 and financial loss is €2.500. The maximum per claim is €2.500.000, however, for financial loss €250.000. The maximum per year is €5.000.000 and for financial loss €500.000.

Article 8. Administration and archiving

1. The student submits a digital version of the thesis or research paper to the university library.

1 For each Master's thesis or portfolio involving third parties a contract with the relevant organisation is obligatory.

2 This refers to insurance covering damage caused by the student. Other types of insurance must be taken care of by the student herself/himself.

2. The thesis or research paper will only be made available via the internal catalogue. The theses in the programme archive are to be kept for at least 7 years under the supervision of the Faculty Board for visitation and accreditation purposes.

Article 9. Disputes

1. In the event of a dispute between the student and the supervisor, the relevant programme coordinator or programme director shall mediate.
2. If a solution is not forthcoming, the Faculty Board shall take a decision.

Article 10. Final provisions

1. In case of divergences of interpretation or doubt between the Dutch language version and the English language version of these Regulations, the Dutch language version shall prevail.
2. In cases not covered by these Regulations, the Faculty Board shall decide.

V TER PhD 2022-2023

Teaching and Examination Regulations PhD programme for PhD scholarship students 2022-2023

Section 1 General provisions

Article 1.1 Applicability of the TER

1. The Teaching and Examination Regulations set out the specific rights and obligations that apply to each PhD programme taught at the University of Groningen, for both the PhD scholarship students and the PhD programme. The University-wide section of the Student Charter sets out the rights and obligations that apply to all PhD scholarship students.
2. These Teaching and Examination Regulations apply to the PhD programme in Economics & Business hereinafter referred to as the PhD programme, and to PhD scholarship students enrolled in this programme.
3. The PhD programme is provided by the Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Groningen, hereinafter referred to as the Faculty.
4. The University of Groningen PhD Regulations also apply to these Teaching and Examination Regulations.

Article 1.2 Definitions

The following definitions apply to these Regulations¹:

| o. | Faculty Board (Fb): | the Board of the Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Groningen. |
| p. | University Board (CvB): | the Board of the University of Groningen. |
| q. | Hora Finita: | the online registration system for PhD students at the University of Groningen. All processes relating to the PhD, from enrolment to thesis submission, are managed by this system. |

Section 2 Admission and selection procedure

Article 2.1 Admission

Admission to the PhD programme as a PhD scholarship student can be granted to anyone who:

1. successfully defends a proposal for PhD research, written under the supervision or with the approval of the intended primary supervisor, in the presence of the Admissions Board, and
2. satisfies the conditions set out in Articles 2.2 and 2.3 of these regulations.

Article 2.2 Admissions procedure for the PhD programme

1. The Faculty Board will make the final decision on admission to the programme. The Faculty Board of the intended primary supervisor mandates the decision on admissions to the Admissions Board, of which the Director of the Graduate School is a member.
2. The intended primary supervisor assesses the knowledge and skills of the candidate as part of the admissions procedure for the PhD programme.
3. The Director of the Graduate School is responsible for providing prompt notification of available places on the PhD programme, and for the application procedure that PhD candidates must follow.
4. Students register for the admissions procedure by submitting the following documents before the closing date:
 - a) a Curriculum Vitae
 - b) an overview of academic results achieved within the framework of a Higher Education degree
 - c) a letter outlining the prospective PhD scholarship student's motivation for selecting this particular programme, including the student's expectations and interests
 - d) a short proposal for PhD research
 - e) in the case of international students: proof of proficiency in English (e.g. IELTS test score) and upon request the results of a GMAT or GRE test
5. The Admissions Board assesses the qualifications of the candidate on the basis of the documents provided, and possibly an interview, and decides on behalf of the Faculty Board whether the prospective PhD scholarship student will be admitted to the PhD programme. They will inform the prospective PhD scholarship student about the qualification for admission at least one month before the starting date of the programme.
6. Reasons will be provided if an application is refused. The prospective PhD scholarship student will be informed about the possibility of an appeal to the University of Groningen Disputes Committee (Geschillencommissie).

Article 2.3 Time of admission

1. The starting date is 1 September of each year, but exemptions can be made to be decided upon by the Admissions Board.

2. Students must register as a PhD scholarship student at the University of Groningen and pay the tuition fees due before being allowed to start the programme. In certain cases, the Board of the University can decide to reduce or waive the tuition fees.
3. Admission is granted on the condition that on the starting date concerned, the candidate has met the requirements as stated in Article 2.1. Prospective PhD scholarship students who have not yet obtained their Master's or a comparable degree at the time of the selection procedure, but who would normally be expected to do so before the PhD programme begins, may be granted provisional admission. These students must then pass their final assessment before the starting date of the PhD programme.

Section 3 Organization and content of the PhD programme

Article 3.1 The aim of the PhD programme

1. The aim of the PhD programme is to prepare PhD scholarship students as well as possible for the writing and defence of a thesis, with due regard for the relevant provisions of the PhD Regulations. PhD scholarship students will also be prepared to fill both academic positions and positions in society for which experience with academic research is required.
2. The programme provides a framework for learning to conduct academic research and for training general and research-specific skills, so that students can fill academic positions or positions in society for which experience in conducting and publishing academic research is essential. The programme focuses on developing verbal and written skills for reporting research results, with a view to writing and defending a thesis.
3. The thesis is the end product of the programme. The PhD scholarship student must submit the thesis to the UG PhD Board in order to be allowed to proceed to the UG defence ceremony in accordance with the provisions of the PhD Regulations.
4. In addition to the stipulations of Article 3.1.3, the PhD scholarship student must also successfully complete the teaching component of the PhD programme of the Faculty as agreed in the TSP, including the Career Perspectives learning pathway (or part thereof).

Article 3.2 Learning outcomes

A Knowledge

PhD graduates are able to:

- A.1 identify important contemporary issues in their area of specialization to develop a broad overview of the field
- A.2 explain theoretical models in economics and/or business and to link research questions to theories of economics and business
- A.3 identify and apply theories and research results in an original way to policy and scientific issues in the context of both a disciplinary and societal framework

B Independent research

PhD graduates are able to:

- B.1 indicate suitable and feasible research designs and methods of data collection in different types of research
- B.2 evaluate the adequacy, applicability and factual application of research designs and methods of data collection
- B.3 choose and apply appropriate research methodologies, methods and statistical techniques
- B.4 find and retrieve information; to document and archive data according to general scientific standards
- B.5 critically and efficiently evaluate the literature in their field of specialisation and have a realistic time management
- B.6 report research results and evaluate them critically
- B.7 develop a clearly formulated research problem that is firmly supported by the relevant literature in the field and is innovative, while building on the state of the art in a field of economics and business
- B.8 integrate theory and empirical research and to participate in the full process of research, which is reflected in a dissertation that either contains at least three publishable research papers or forms an integrated piece of research

PhD graduates are able to:

- C.1 present scientific results for specialist and non-specialist audiences both written and orally
- C.2 communicate the underpinnings as well as the limitations of their conclusions
- C.3 write at an academic level
- C.4 conduct research in a self-directed or autonomous manner

Article 3.3 Language of instruction

The degree programme is taught in English.

Article 3.4 Student workload

1. The student workload for the degree programme is 120, 180 or 240 ECTS for a two, three or four-year PhD programme respectively. In certain cases, the Faculty Board may agree to deviate from this rule.
2. The educational programme followed by the PhD scholarship student and described in the TSP, with a student workload of 40 ECTS, is part of the degree programme mentioned in 3.1.
3. The student workload is expressed in whole ECTS credit points.

Article 3.5 Conduct research

1. Students who conduct research in the context of the degree programme do so in accordance with relevant legislation, the Dutch code of conduct for academic integrity, and the requirements of ethically sound research.
2. Throughout the entire research process, the student will adhere to the applicable policies and procedures, which are based on the Faculty's data management policy.
3. Prior to the period of research, the student, together with their supervisor, can draw up a data management plan. This is then stored, in accordance with the faculty's data policy. At a minimum, this plan will address:
 - a) the student's responsibilities concerning the processing of personal data;
 - b) the data storage measures (including security measures) used in the course of the research;
 - c) the archiving and retention period;
 - d) the responsibility for reusing data after the research has been completed.
4. In general, the student holds the copyright on any theses or other independently written assignments that are intended to test their knowledge, understanding, and skills. If anyone else wishes to use the student's thesis or written work, the student must first give permission for them to do so. The University must be free to perform these procedures unconditionally if it is to archive theses and written assignments (whether or not these are under embargo) and to process them in accordance with the rules of the Dutch Inspectorate of Education and the Act. All students are obliged to give their unconditional consent to the aforementioned procedures.

Section 4 Final assessment of the PhD programme, general provisions

Article 4.1 Board of Examiners and examiners

1. The Board of Examiners is the independent body that determines whether the individual PhD scholarship student has met the corresponding learning outcomes (as stated in Article 3.1) including the 40 EC educational programme, defined in the TSP.
2. Notwithstanding the provisions of Article 4.1.1, the authority to award a PhD degree in line with the PhD Regulations of the University of Groningen lies with the PhD Examining Committee.
3. The Faculty Board appoints the members of the Board of Examiners on the basis of their expertise in the field of the programme.
4. The Board of Examiners must comprise at least one member who is a professor attached to the programme and one member from outside the degree programme.
5. Members of the Faculty Board, the Director of the Graduate School or other people who - have financial responsibilities within the institution may not be appointed as members of the Board of Examiners.

- The independent and expert functioning of the Board of Examiners must be guaranteed by the Faculty Board.

Article 4.2 Thesis

To be awarded the title of 'Doctor', PhD scholarship students must write and defend a thesis in line with the provisions of Chapter 4 of the PhD Regulations of the University of Groningen.

Article 4.3 Educational programme

Students who successfully complete the educational programme taught by the Graduate School Economics & Business, as arranged in the TSP, including the Career Perspectives learning pathway (or part thereof), will be awarded a certificate signed by the Board of Examiners and the Director of the Graduate School.

Article 4.4 Degree and certificate

PhD scholarship students who successfully defend their thesis will be awarded a PhD degree in line with the provisions of Article 7.18 of the WHW. The PhD certificate will record the degree awarded.

Article 4.5 Honours ('judicium')

A PhD can be awarded with honours ('cum laude') if the student satisfies the requirements laid down in Chapter 9 of the PhD Regulations of the University of Groningen.

Article 4.6 Academic integrity

- Students must comply with the integrity codes for academic research, as stipulated in the Netherlands Code of Conduct for Academic Practice and the University's own Regulations for the Protection of Academic Integrity.
- If a student commits fraud, the Board of Examiners can declare the educational component concerned invalid or take other measures.
- In the event of serious fraud, the Board of Examiners may advise the Board of the University to terminate the PhD scholarship student's registration definitively and withdraw the right to a PhD from the University of Groningen.
- Decisions taken on the basis of Articles 4.2 and 4.3 shall be sent to the PhD student in writing, stating the reasons. The PhD student in question will be informed about the possibility of lodging an appeal to the University of Groningen Disputes Committee.

Section 5 Study progress supervision

Article 5.1 Study progress administration

The Graduate School, mandated in this by the Faculty Board, registers the individual study results of PhD scholarship students in Hora Finita.

Article 5.2 Study progress supervision

The Graduate School, mandated in this by the Faculty Board, is responsible for the introduction and monitoring study progress of PhD scholarship students registered for the degree programme, also regarding potential study options within and outside the degree programme.

Article 5.3 Termination of participation in the PhD Scholarship Programme

- In the TSP, agreements are made about the PhD student's training and study progress.
- If the PhD student does not keep to the agreements made regarding study progress as laid down in the TSP, this can lead to the termination of the PhD programme and therefore the PhD track by the Dean of Faculty. Before proceeding, the Dean of Faculty shall offer the PhD student at least once the opportunity to fulfil the agreements made within a reasonable period of time. This deadline is confirmed in a letter.

Section 6 Dispute settlement procedure

Article 6.1 Disputes

The current complaints and disputes regulations of the University of Groningen will apply to all complaints and disputes concerning admission and other decisions. These regulations are published on the University of Groningen website.

Section 7 Transitional and Final Provisions

Article 7.1 Amendments

1. Any amendments to these Teaching and Examination Regulations will, after due consultation with and, if necessary, upon the approval of the Programme Committee and the Faculty Council be confirmed by the Faculty Board in a separate decree.
2. Any amendments to these Teaching and Examination Regulations will not apply to the current academic year, unless it may be reasonably assumed that the amendment in question will not harm the interests of PhD scholarship students.
3. In addition, an amendment may not disadvantage PhD scholarship students with regard to approval granted within the meaning of Article 2.1 and Article 2.2 and/or any other decision taken within the meaning of these Teaching and Examination Regulations concerning an individual PhD scholarship student.

Article 7.2 Publication

1. The Faculty Board will duly publish these Teaching and Examination Regulations, any rules and guidelines concerning admission to the PhD programme, and any amendments to these documents.
2. These Teaching and Examination Regulations are only available in the English language and therefore not published in the Dutch language.

Article 7.3 Date of commencement

These Teaching and Examination Regulations shall take effect on 1 September 2022.
Approved by the Programme Committee and Faculty Council on the legally determined parts on or before 31 August 2022.

VI Student Charter

The Student Charter provides an overview of the rights and obligations of both students and the university. The Student Charter is based on national legislation and regulations, (in particular the Higher Education and Research Act (WHW), supplemented by regulations that are specific to the University of Groningen. The Student Charter is divided into two sections. The main section describes the rights and obligations that apply to the university as a whole. The rest describes the rights and obligations that apply to specific degree programmes and which differ from one programme to another, as well as from one faculty to another. The complete Student Charter can be found at: <https://www.rug.nl/about-ug/organization/rules-and-regulations/education/studentenstatuut/>
