faculty of philosophy

Dear alumni,

On 21 April 2023, the Faculty of Philosophy is organizing an alumni day for all its former students. We are planning an interesting and engaging programme offered on this day. For example, you can once again take a seat in class to participate in a philosophy lecture, network with fellow alumni, take part in a STUFF activity and listen to inspiring speakers talk about their careers during the career morning. The event will also be attended by current students of the faculty. The alumni day will end with drinks in the canteen. And to top things off, we have discount tickets available for the Night of Philosophy 2023 that will take place during the evening in the Groningen Forum. You will receive more information about the programme at a later stage.

We would like to experience this day with you! Registration is possible in the link:
