for academic year 2018-2019

Content:

- 1. General provisions
- 2. Admission
- 3. Content and structure of the degree programme
- 4. Tests and examinations of the degree programme
- 5. Transitional and final provisions

Section 1 General provisions

Article 1.1 – Applicability

These Regulations comprise two parts – Part A and Part B. This degree programme-specific Part B accompanies Part A, which contains general provisions which apply to the teaching, examinations and final assessments of the Master's degree programmes provided by the Faculty of Arts, hereinafter referred to as the Faculty. Part B contains degree programme-specific provisions which apply to the degree programmes in Classics and Ancient Civilizations, Literary Studies and History, hereinafter referred to as 'the degree programmes', and the Research Master's track in Classical Medieval and Early Modern Studies (CMEMS) hereinafter referred to as 'the Research Master's track'.

Section 2 Admission

Article 2.1 – Entry requirements

1. Students with a Dutch or foreign certificate of higher education that indicates that they have the following knowledge, understanding and skills shall be admitted to the degree programme and the specialization:
 - a) demonstrable knowledge of languages, cultures or history of Classical Antiquity, the Middle Ages, or the Early Modern period.
 - b) sufficient knowledge of English to be able to follow the degree programme successfully
 - c) sufficient knowledge, understanding and skills in the academic disciplines relevant to the degree programme and specialization¹
 - d) sufficient ability to follow the degree programme.

Article 2.2 – Language requirement for foreign certificates

1. Students who have been admitted to a degree programme on the basis of a foreign certificate or degree may be asked by the Admissions Board – before registration – to pass an English language test, to be administered by an agency stipulated by the Admissions Board.
2. The English language proficiency requirement will be met by passing an examination in English at the level of the VWO final exam with a mark of 6 or above, or by passing the TOEFL iBT with a score of at least 100, with a minimum score of 25 for writing or an IELTS score of 7, with a minimum score of 6.5 for all components.

Article 2.3 – Admission to Research Master's tracks

In addition to the provisions of Article 2.1, the following admission requirements apply to the various Research Master's tracks in this degree programme: n/a

Article 2.4 – Registering for the admissions procedure

Students register for the admissions procedure by submitting the following documents:

- a completed registration form
- a curriculum vitae
- an overview of the results achieved so far within the Bachelor's degree programme and/or other university degree programmes
- a letter outlining the prospective student's motivation for selecting the programme and Research Master's track, including his or her expectations and interests
- if possible, written results of previous research, such as academic articles or a Bachelor's thesis

¹ Sufficient knowledge, understanding and skills means that in the opinion of the Admissions Board, the student will be able to follow the programme without credit points having to be reserved to make up a shortfall in subject mix.

- two personal recommendations from relevant experts²
- other documents, if required, which in the opinion of prospective students will highlight their eligibility for the programme and Research Master's track .

Article 2.5 – Admissions procedure for the degree programme

1. Bearing in mind the admissions procedure for the degree programme and the Research Master's track within the meaning of Article 2.1.1, the Admissions Board will assess the knowledge and skills of the candidate. The Admissions Board will assess the written documentation and determine whether the prospective student can be admitted directly to the programme and the Research Master's track. In the event of doubt, the student will be invited to an admissions interview. The interview will be based on the submitted written documentation and may comprise an approx. 15-minute presentation on an academic subject related to the chosen programme.
2. If, on the basis of the submitted documentation, the Board is of the opinion that the student does not qualify for admission and that there is therefore no need for an interview, the student will be notified accordingly before 15 June. This is a provisional decision only. Prospective students may still request an interview, provided they do so within 15 working days after the postmark of the rejection letter. If prospective students do not avail themselves of this option, the provisional decision will become definitive. In the case of prospective students who are granted an interview, a formal decision will not be made until after the interview has taken place. Rejections will in all cases be substantiated in writing. Students who have been interviewed will be notified by 15 July whether or not they have been accepted.³
3. Students who have not yet obtained their Bachelor's degree at the time of the selection procedure but who can be expected to do so before the Research Master's degree programme begins may be granted provisional admission. This is based on the assumption that they a) obtain their Bachelor's degree in time and b) have written a BA thesis with the required level to follow the Research Master.
4. Students who already have a relevant university Master's degree may also apply for admission to the degree programme and the Research Master's track. The procedure as set out above will also apply to them. If they are admitted, the Board of Examiners will decide whether they can be granted exemptions on the basis of that Master's degree (up to a maximum of 60 ECTS credit points).

Article 2.6 – Entrance examination: times

1. The entrance examination will be held twice a year. Requests for admission to the degree programme and the Research Master's track starting in the first semester must be submitted to the Admissions Board before 1 May (non-EU students) or 1 May (EU students). Requests for admission starting in the second semester must be submitted to the Admissions Board before October 15.
2. The Admissions Board may decide to consider a request at a time other than that referred to in Article 2.6.1.
3. The Admissions Board will decide on admission before 15 June, or 15 December for a start in the second semester. Admission will be on condition that the candidate has satisfied the requirements set out in Article 2.4 concerning knowledge and skills by the starting date of the degree programme at the latest, supported by certificates from the degree programmes followed. The written admission statement will include information for the student about the possibility of an appeal to the Board of Appeal for Examinations.

² These are written reports from people recognized as experts by the Admissions Board that present a useful and reliable picture of the student's eligibility for the degree programme.

³ Proof of admission is discussed in Article 7.30b of the Higher Education and Research Act.

Section 3 Content and structure of the degree programme

Article 3.1 – Student workload

1. The degree programme has a student workload of 120 ECTS.
2. The student workload is expressed in whole ECTS credit points.

Article 3.2 – Learning outcomes of the degree programme

Description of Master's level according to the Dublin Descriptors	Learning outcomes of the Research Master's Programme in CMEMS (see below)
Knowledge and understanding Students have demonstrable knowledge and understanding that is founded upon and extends and/or enhances that typically associated with Bachelor's level, and that provides a basis or opportunity for originality in developing and/or applying ideas, often within a research context.	1.1 Students have a thorough and up-to-date knowledge of one of the CMEMS areas of specialization, its historical development and structure; they must be able to grasp the relationships between its various branches. 1.2 Students are familiar with the formulation of theories, with the interpretations, methodologies and techniques of their area of specialization and are able to evaluate these critically. 1.3 Students have at least a working knowledge of the primary sources relevant to the specialization chosen. 1.4 Students have knowledge and understanding of the meaning and function of premodern and early modern texts and artefacts, in their historical and contemporary context.
Applying knowledge and understanding Students can apply their knowledge and understanding, and problem-solving abilities in new or unfamiliar environments within broader (or multidisciplinary) contexts related to their field of study; have the ability to integrate knowledge and handle complexity.	2.1 Students have the skills to apply methodologies and techniques when conducting independent research and to use research results in order to develop advanced ideas and practical applications. 2.2 Students are able to make use of and critically evaluate research carried out by others and to critically evaluate methods and theories, methodologies and techniques relevant for their area of specialization. 2.3 Students are familiar with the development of theory in the humanities, as well as with the various academic schools and traditions. This includes the ability to recognize the characteristics of a wider intellectual tendency in individual publications as well as form scholarly opinions on the application of theories. 2.4 Students are able to develop an understanding of the hermeneutics of classical, medieval and early modern studies, and their foundation in intellectual integrity, coupled with an awareness of the following central tenets of scientific ethics: universalism, public debate, disinterestedness and systematic scepticism.
Making judgements Students have the ability to integrate knowledge and handle complexity, and formulate judgements with incomplete or limited information, but that include reflections on social and ethical responsibilities	3.1 Students are able to critically evaluate the interpretations, methodologies and techniques of their specialization in relation to other disciplines. 3.2 Students are able to make an original contribution to knowledge (albeit limited in scope) in at

linked to the application of their knowledge and judgements.	least one branch of the specialization chosen, assessed by means of the MA thesis. 3.3 Students are able to analyse and formulate an academic problem independently, and in so doing, to select, apply and where necessary adapt an adequate theoretical framework and one or more relevant research methods. 3.4 Students are able to make connections between their own specialist knowledge of the area chosen and related other disciplines, in the field of pre-modern studies e.g. archaeology, art history, law, religion, philosophy.
Communication Students can communicate their conclusions, and the knowledge and rationale underpinning these, to specialist and non-specialist audiences clearly and unambiguously.	4.1 Students are able to participate actively and creatively in a research group working on an academic project. 4.2 Students are able to participate in academic debate in the chosen area of specialization and to present a scientific problem convincingly in appropriate English, both orally and in writing. 4.3 Students are able to develop a research project in an explicit multidisciplinary and cross-disciplinary context. 4.4 Students are able to convincingly present their expert knowledge in various academic and other professional settings in which such knowledge is required.
Learning skills Students have the learning skills to allow them to continue to study in a manner that may be largely self-directed or autonomous.	5.1 Students are able to keep abreast of the latest developments in their specialization and broaden and deepen their knowledge and understanding 5.2 Students are able to independently formulate a research proposal and critically evaluate their own research.

See appendix 1 for the Matrix of realized learning outcomes / course units in the degree programme.

Article 3.3 - Language of instruction

1. The degree programme is taught in English.
2. The thesis/final assignment is normally written in English. A thesis/final assignment may only be written in a language other than English if the Board of Examiners has given permission to do so, e.g. when a student specialises in another modern language.

Article 3.4 – Specializations

The Research Master's track has the following specializations

No.	Specialization
1	Classics and Ancient Civilizations,
2	History
3	Literary Studies

Article 3.5 – Content of the curriculum

1. The Research Master's track comprises the following course units with their student workloads:

No.	Course unit	Student workload in ECTS
	Year 1

1	Approaches to Antiquity, Middle Ages and Early Modern Times	10 ECTS
2	CMEMS - Seminar	10 ECTS
3	Digital Approaches to the Premodern World	5 ECTS
4	Research Seminar I and/or Course(s) at a National Research School*	35 ECTS
5	Research Seminar II
6	Research Seminar III
For Research Seminar I-III, students must select courses from the following options:
	- research seminars from the offer of the regular master History
	- research seminars from the offer of the regular master Classics
	- one of the interdisciplinary research seminars
	- course Greek Epigraphy (within the Classics specialization)
	- course Landscape and Memory (within the Classics specialization)

	Year 2
7	CMEMS: Specialization I	10 ECTS
8	CMEMS: Specialization II	10 ECTS
9	CMEMS: Specialization III	5 ECTS
10	Careers in Research and Society	5 ECTS
11	ReMa Thesis in CMEMS, including thesis class	30 ECTS

* Students must choose at least 10 ECTS worth of course units offered by a National Research School. In case the courses on offer by the National Research Schools do not suffice or are incompatible with the student's research orientation, students can choose a research seminar from the options mentioned in the table above, always in consultation with the Director of Studies.

All course units are listed in the online course catalogue OCASYS.

- The modes of instruction and assessment for the course units listed above are set out in the syllabus of each individual course unit and the assessment plan of the degree programme.

SECTION 4 Tests and examinations of the degree programme

Article 4.1 – Compulsory order

The examinations for the course units listed below may not be taken before the examinations for the associated course units have been passed:

No.	Course unit	No.	After passing course unit
11	- ReMa Thesis in CMEMS, including the- sis class	1-3, 10	- Approaches to Antiquity, Middle Ages and Early Modern Times - CMEMS – Seminar - Digital Approaches to the Premodern World - Careers in Research and Society

SECTION 5 TRANSITIONAL AND FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 5.1 – Amendments

1. Any amendments to part A of these Regulations will, after discussion with and where necessary approval from the Faculty Council, be confirmed by the Faculty Board in a separate decree.
2. Any amendments to part B of these Regulations will, after the Departmental Board has put its case, following the recommendation by and/or upon the approval of the Programme Committee and the Faculty Council, be confirmed by the Faculty Board in a separate decree.
3. Any amendments to these Regulations will not apply to the current academic year, unless it may reasonably be assumed that the amendment in question will not harm the interests of students.
4. In addition, an amendment may not influence any other decision concerning a student taken by the Board of Examiners under these Regulations to the disadvantage of students.

Article 5.2 – Publication

1. The Faculty Board shall duly publish these Regulations, any rules and guidelines formulated by the Board of Examiners, and any amendments to these documents.
2. Copies of the documents referred to in Article 5.2.1 are available from the Faculty Office. These documents can also be found on the Faculty website via 'My University'.

Article 5.3 – Date of commencement

These Regulations shall take effect on 1 September 2018.

These Regulations were decreed by the Board of the Faculty of Arts on 28 August 2018 and approved by the Faculty Council and the Programme Committee where required.
