Assessment Plan

Master International Relations

1 / Vision of teaching and assessment

2 / How to follow the assessment cycle (from design to evaluation and optimization)

3 / Assessment dossier

a. The assessment dossier

The requirements of the assessment dossier are set out in §4 of the 'Protocol for Quality Assurance in the Assessment of Course Units' drawn up by the Board of Examiners.

All the examiners of a degree programme must provide the Board of Examiners with an 'assessment dossier' containing the following:

- The course guide
- For exams:
 - Questions
 - Distribution of points across exam questions
 - Model answers; in case of essay questions in the exam: two filled-in assessment forms, or, if no such forms are used, two assessments (e.g. comments on the margin or any other justification of assigned points). These two examples should include one with a stronger and one with a weaker result.
 - Document confirming peer review with the names of (at least) two examiners from within the department
 - If available: statistical analysis of exam (usually provided by ESI) and info on any adjustments to the exam in light this analysis (e.g. multiple choice question that was not counted).
- For assessments other than exams (in particular papers and presentations):
 - Any instructions and assessment criteria not mentioned in the course guide that have been communicated to students separately
 - Two filled-in assessment forms, or, if no such forms are used, two assessments (e.g. margin comments or any other justification of assigned grade). These two examples should include one with a stronger and one with a weaker result.
- The list of all partial and final grades
- Any other documents requested by the Board of Examiners/Expertiseteam International Studies.

b. Parties involved

The following parties are involved in fulfilling duties related to the assessment dossier:

- Examiners: provide the Board of Examiners with the assessment dossiers.
- Secretariat: collects and manages assessment dossiers.

- Board of Examiners: oversees assessment dossiers.

4 / Assessment timetable

Overview of learning outcomes of the degree programme + matrix	Appendix 1
Schematic overview of time periods intended for assessment, modes of assessment used and, if relevant, learning pathways	Appendix 2
Overview of the intended learning outcomes of the course units and their modes of assessment	Appendix 3
Additional regulations for the graduation dossier	Appendix 4

The objectives of the degree programme, set out in the learning outcomes of the degree programme (Appendix 1), form the guiding principles. All course units together fulfil a role in working towards these learning outcomes. This is reflected in a coherent curriculum with a transparent structure. The matrix of learning outcomes (Appendix 1) defines the course units that include summative assessments and distinguishes between a) course units with assessments that lead up to the attainment level set out in the programme-level learning outcomes and b) course units with assessments at this attainment level (in the latter case the learning outcomes of the course unit are thus identical to the programme-level learning outcomes of the degree programme). This distinction is expressed as follows:

‘x’, i.e. underlined, is used for summative¹ assessments at the level specified in the programme-level learning outcomes

‘x’ for summative assessments at lower performance levels

‘fx’ for formative² evaluations at lower performance levels

In parallel with the curriculum, the assessment programme (Appendix 2) offers a balanced, well-structured overview of modes of assessment and exam periods. Course units taught within one learning pathway may be given matching visual markings in the overview.

In order to gain insight at the programme level into whether the chosen modes of assessment tie in with the learning outcomes of the course units and create a balanced mix in the run-up to the programme-level learning outcomes of the degree programme, the intended learning outcomes of the course units are related to their modes of assessment (Appendix 3).

¹ Summative assessment aims to assess a student’s knowledge and skills. Such assessments are usually awarded a mark, accompanied by a justification of the mark (adapted from Toetsen in het hoger onderwijs (2017)).

² Formative evaluation relates to the process of searching, aggregating and interpreting information, which students and lecturers can then use to determine how students are doing in their learning process, what they should work towards and how this can be most effectively done (adapted from Toetsen in het hoger onderwijs (2017)).

Specific rules may apply to certain components of the graduation dossier (e.g. for the thesis: approval of the thesis proposal, amount of supervision, resit). These rules are set out in Appendix 4.

5 / Safeguarding of assessment quality by the Board of Examiners

The Board of Examiners is responsible for safeguarding the quality of assessment at both the degree programme level and the level of individual course units.

a. Safeguarding of assessment quality at degree programme level

The Board of Examiners annually issues advice on each degree programme's draft assessment plan for the coming academic year.

b. Safeguarding of assessment quality at course unit level

The Board of Examiners aims to evaluate the assessments for all course units in a degree programme in a three-year cycle – in other words, to examine each course unit's assessment at least once every three years, bearing in mind the position of the course unit in the curriculum and in a specific learning pathway. In addition, a substantiated selection of theses is also evaluated.

6 / Archiving

Assessment dossiers are stored on the course's Brightspace page.

7 / List of documents relevant to assessment

Faculty vision of teaching and assessment – see

<https://myuniversity.rug.nl/infonet/medewerkers/let/onderwijs/vision-for-education>.

Rules and Regulations – the internal regulations of the Board of Examiners.

Teaching and Examination Regulations (TER = OER; Onderwijs- en examenregeling) – a legally binding document that applies to the entire cohort of students who start a degree programme in a certain academic year. The TER may also contain transitional arrangements for previous cohorts.

Matrix of learning outcomes – an appendix to the Assessment Plan that specifies the course units with summative assessment leading up to or at the level specified in the programme-level learning outcomes and the course units with formative assessment.

Placement manual – a manual for the placement course unit.

Syllabus – a document that sets out the details of the TER and the Assessment Plan at course unit level in accordance with the information in Ocasys.

Assessment Plan – a document that is enclosed as an appendix with the TER and is therefore legally binding.

Assessment programme – a schematic overview of time periods intended for assessment, modes of assessment used and, if relevant, learning pathways (previously known as the ‘assessment plan’).

Assessment protocol – the implementation of the TER, Part A, Section 4.
