

Courses for exchange students
 Faculty of Arts
 2018-2019

No rights can be derived from this list.

Please check the website and online catalogue from time to time to see if there are any changes to this overview.

Important Dates and deadlines
1 November 2018	Submit online application
19 November 2018	Timetables semester 2 available, exam dates will be added later!
10 January 2019	Deadline for adding courses to your course selection. Exceptions are only made in case of timetable changes announced after this date which cause problems in your own schedule. Course changes can also be discussed during the Introduction Week.
28 January - 1 february 2019	INTRODUCTION WEEK EXCHANGE STUDENTS: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Faculty Introduction ✓ Open office hours, incl. seminar group enrolment ✓ Lecture Academic Skills and studying in the Netherlands. Attendance compulsory. ✓ Dates and times to be announced.

How do I choose courses for semester 2?

1. Go to the overview below and choose courses from the field(s) of study you're interested in and that will be accepted by your home university as well. Make sure to read the course descriptions.
2. Course descriptions can be found in the online catalogue Ocasys \(switch to English and year 18-19 at the top right of the main page\)
 - ✓ Check the schedule by following the link in the course description or go to:
 - ✓ rooster.rug.nl and type the course code
3. The minimum number of credits you have to take depends on the requirements of your home university. The Faculty of Arts recommends 25-30 ECTS per semester, but this is not compulsory. Always choose one or two extra courses as back up. The standard workload for a semester in the ECT system is 30 ECTS.

4. Semesters and blocks: Check whether the course is in the right semester. Many courses are only taught in one block of semester II, so II-a or II-b. Try to divide the workload over both blocks, appr. 15 ECTS per block. A small number of courses are taught throughout both blocks. A quick example:

	workload in Block I a	workload in Block I b
course 1, 5 ECTS, taught in block I a	5	x
course 2, 10 ECTS, taught in semester I	5	5
course 3, 5 ECTS, taught in block I b	x	5
course 3, 5 ECTS, taught in semester I	2,5	2,5
Course 4, 5 ECTS, taught in semester I	2,5	2,5
30 ECTS in total:	15	15

5. Language requirements:

- ✓ In all courses a high level of English proficiency is required: at least CEF B2/C1 or TOEFL 92 (internet based), 580 (paper based) or IELTS 6.5 (with a minimum of 6.0 for each section). More advanced courses would of course require a higher level of English, especially in writing.
- ✓ In some courses students are expected to have a level of CEF C1/C2 or TOEFL internet based 105, paper based 620, or IELTS 7. This is the case for all Master level courses.
- ✓ Make sure the language of instruction is right for you. When the description says that a course is taught in English and Dutch, part of the course may be in Dutch, in which case arrangements can be made for exchange students to take the full number of credits, e.g. by extra assignments, in order to earn the required number of credits. Note that some Dutch taught courses do use literature and articles written in English.

6. Students of Dutch can also find courses taught in Dutch that are open to them in the list below. For other courses not taught in English, always consult with the study adviser for exchange students. You can only be admitted to courses taught in Dutch if your level of Dutch or your level in another language of instruction is adequate (>C1 CEFR). Dutch (and other) language courses can also be taken at the Language Centre.

7. Course levels:

- ✓ Introductory means that there are no specific entry requirements. You don't need any previous knowledge in that field of study (although it won't harm you either).
- ✓ Intermediate means that you need basic knowledge in that field of study. This must be visible on your transcript of records.
- ✓ Advanced means that you can only be admitted to the course if your degree programme or major is in that field of study.
- ✓ MA means that you need a Bachelor's degree in that field of study. Do not apply unless you have a BA in the relevant field of study. The study adviser will always check your admittance with the department.
- ✓ Always check in Ocasys if there are any other specific entry requirements.

8. Courses in other faculties: are possible in some cases, go to the list of faculty exchanges to see what is on offer in the other faculties. Exchange students in the Faculty of Arts are allowed to take a maximum of two courses in other faculties, which you can include on your Course Selection form. Do not contact the other faculty yourself, the study adviser will do that for you.

Exam weeks in other faculties may be different from those in the Arts Faculty and most faculties do not allow proctoring resit exams abroad.

9. Writing your BA/ MA thesis while you are here: Unless your university coordinator has made previous arrangements with a member of the teaching staff at the Faculty of Arts in Groningen, it is not possible to receive supervision for writing your BA or MA thesis during your exchange period. You can work on your thesis while you are here, of course, but your home university has to provide supervision.

The admission procedure

Before you send your course selection to the Mobility Office, make sure you get provisional permission from your home university, so that the credits you will earn can be transferred.

After you have chosen courses and submitted your learning agreement with your other application documents to the Mobility Office, the study adviser for exchange students will let you know whether you can be admitted to the courses of your choice and give you advice if necessary. Sometimes you cannot be admitted to courses on the grounds that you don't meet the entry requirement(s) or your level of English proficiency is inadequate. Another reason may be that the course is full. In that case you will have to find an alternative course. Check again with your coordinator at home whether your new course selection is acceptable.

If you have questions about courses, write to the study adviser (int.studyadvice.let@rug.nl). Please do not write to individual lecturers about course admittance!

Timetables

Unfortunately, the timetables are not yet known by the time you have made your initial course selection. If it turns out that there are clashes in your timetable, you'll have to drop a course and choose another one. This is why we advise you to choose one or two extra courses right at the beginning.

If you want to draw up your own customized schedule, you can add course codes to the schedule generator. The schedule can be viewed in different formats. Note that a course may have different seminar groups times (you'll see gr. 1, gr.2, gr. 3 etc. in the schedule), in that case you only need to attend one of those group times each week.

Course and seminar enrolment

The Mobility Office will enrol you in all your approved courses. However, for some types of courses you have to enrol yourself in a seminar (work group) as well. Seminars are small groups (usually around 20 students) in which students take an active part, do presentations, assignments, etc. In lectures, the teacher speaks while the students listen and take notes. Lectures often take place in a big hall with many students. Some courses are a combination of both, with lectures for a large group, and seminars in smaller groups.

Note that course enrolment means that you are taking this course for the entire block or semester, we do not have a period where you can try out different courses and decide later if you are definitely taking this course!

You can enrol yourself for seminar groups through the online Student portal. You can access the Student Portal before arrival when you receive your student number.

If this doesn't yet work, or you don't know how to do it, we can help you sign up for seminars during the Introduction week!
