

The evolution of responsive strategies

WEDNESDAY 20 MAY

LOCATION: HET 006 (5171.0415)

1:00 PM Piet van den Berg

Individual differences in social learning strategies and their effect on social behavior

1:30 PM Andrés Quiñones

Negotiation and appeasement can be more effective drivers of sociality than kin selection

2:00 PM Ido Pen

When is incomplete epigenetic resetting in germ cells favored by natural selection?

2:30 PM Coffee

3:00 PM Stefany Moreno

Quorum sensing integrates information on cell density, cell history and the environment: The example of pneumococcal competence

3:30 PM Jordi van Gestel

The evolution of sporulation: Informational redundancy leads to a high diversity of responsive strategies

4:00 PM Monique de Jager

Local dispersal evolves through the interplay of environmental stress, local facilitation, and limited long-range dispersal

4:30 PM Snacks & Drinks