

P R O G R A M M E

24th Medieval Studies Day, Leiden, 30 November 2018

Morning session. Location: Law Faculty, Kamerlingh Onnes building (Steenschuur 25, continuation of Rapenburg), Lorentzhall

10.00-11.00 Reception, Registration, Coffee/tea

11.00-11.10 Welcoming speech by Peter Hoppenbrouwers (Leiden University)

11.10-11.30 Opening by Catrien Santing, Director of the Dutch Research School for Medieval Studies

11.30-12.15 Keynote by Hilde de Weerd (Universiteit Leiden), 'Nations and Empires in Medieval Chinese History'.

12.15-13.00 Keynote by Peter Hoppenbrouwers (Universiteit Leiden), 'De mondialisering van de middeleeuwen' [in Dutch].

13.00-14.00 Lunch

Afternoon session. Location: P.J. Veth building (entrance at Hortus Botanicus between Rapenburg 71 en 73), two halls (please, follow signs). Optional: Bibliotheca Thysiana (Rapenburg 25)

15.00-17.00 two parallel sessions of 3 to 4 times 30 minutes each, with the following papers:

Session 1

- Leo Lousberg (Universiteit Utrecht, postdoc), 'Medieval Museemes: Sung Rhetorical Codes in Barbara Rosenwein's Emotional Communities?'

- Wannes Verstrepen (KU Leuven), 'Voorbij de scheiding tussen kerkelijke en wereldlijke bijeenkomsten. De rol en betekenis van concilies en bijeenkomsten in de lange tiende eeuw, West Francia en Lotharingen.' [in Dutch]

- Sander Stolk (Universiteit Leiden; PhD researcher), 'Evoke: A Platform for Historical Thesauri'

- [there is room for one other paper]

Session 2

- Joost van den Oever (Radbouduniversiteit Nijmegen; PhD researcher), 'Project Constantinople (1453 - ca. 1480): Its Providential Reconquest and Envisioned Management.'
- Jonathan Bos (Frysje Akademy/Universiteit Leiden; PhD Researcher), 'Spatial Rural History: Analysing the Frisian Medieval Power Scape In an Interdisciplinary Perspective'
- Bram Caers (U Leiden; postdoc), 'Tegendraadse meningen in tijden van censuur: uitingen van orangisme in Mechelen (1586-1621).' [in Dutch]
- [there is room for one other paper]

15.30-17.00 hrs

Optional: visit to the famous Bibliotheca Thysiana, where you will be taken round by one of the curators (Paul Hoftijzer and Wim van Anrooij). Visits start at 15.45 hrs, 16.15 hrs, and (with sufficient participants) 16.45 hrs. You can sign up for a visit on a list that will be put ready during the morning session. Per visit there is a maximum of 20 participants.

17.00-18.30 Drinks in the Faculty Club in the Academy building, Rapenburg 71.

Please, register for the day by sending an e-mail to ozsmed@rug.nl, preferably before November 15. There is an attendance fee of 10 euros, which will cover expenses for coffee/tea, lunch and drinks. You are requested to pay the fee before November 15 to the account NL89 ABNA 04 8871 1827, with the reference 'P.C.M. Hoppenbrouwers [inzake Middeleeuwse Geschiedenis], Doelensteeg 16, 2311 VL Leiden.'

There still is plenty of room for PhD students (also external candidates), postdocs or PI's of research projects to present their research(project) in a short paper of ca. 20 minutes, either in Dutch or English. Just send the title of your paper by e-mail to the organiser: p.c.m.hoppenbrouwers@hum.leidenuniv.nl.

Participating Research MA students who write a short paper obtain 1 ECTS. Please register via ozsmed@rug.nl. Information about the requirements of this paper will follow.