TABLE OF CONTENTS

CH1 P9

General introduction

CH2 P18

The relationship between serum potassium, potassium variability and in-hospital mortality in critically ill patients and a before-after analysis on the impact of computer-assisted potassium control

CH3 P36

Computer-guided normal-low versus normal-high potassium control after cardiac surgery: no impact on atrial fibrillation or atrial flutter

CH4 P52

Postoperative fluid retention after heart surgery is accompanied by a strongly positive sodium balance and a negative potassium balance

CH5 P70

Opposite acute potassium and sodium shifts during transplantation of hypothermic machine perfused donor livers

CH6 P88

Hypothesis: angiotensin and aldosterone inhibitors help improve outcome in chronic heart failure because potassium sparing preserves skeletal muscle mass

CH7 P96

Long-term changes in dysnatremia incidence in the ICU: a shift from hyponatremia to hypernatremia

CH8 P116

Estimation of sodium and chloride storage in critically ill patients: a balance study

CH9 P136

Urinary creatinine excretion is related to short-term and long-term mortality in critically ill patients

CH10 P176

Time courses of urinary creatinine excretion, measured creatinine clearance and estimated glomerular filtration rate over 30 days of ICU admission

CH11 P196
