Curriculum Vitae

Joanka van der Laan (Eindhoven, 24 maart 1990) obtained her vwo diploma in 2007 at Greijdanus College in Zwolle. She went on to study English Language and Culture at the University of Groningen, where she obtained her Bachelor of Arts degree in 2010. In 2012 she embarked on the M. Litt programme Mediaeval Studies at the University of St Andrews (UK), which she completed with distinction in 2013. As part of her studies she conducted research on the manuscript prayer book of Mary of Guelders. In 2014 she continued this research, made possible because she obtained a Gerard Brom Culture, Religion, and Memory Humanities Grant from the Radboud University in Nijmegen. In January 2015 she began her PhD research as part of the research project Cities of Readers: Religious Literacies in the Long Fifteenth Century, funded by the Dutch Research Council (NWO), and led by prof. Sabrina Corbellini and prof. Bart Ramakers. Under their supervision, she has conducted interdisciplinary research, presented results at international academic conferences, and published in the peer-reviewed journals Ons Geestelijke Erf and Queeste.
