Acknowledgments

This thesis has been a five year project in a foreign country. In this time, I have received the help and support of many people that made its completion possible, in a direct or indirect way.

First I want to thank my promotor, who walked next to me along this thesis. Koen helped a lot since I first came to Groningen, and has always have a special talent to lift my mood when I was seeing everything black at work. He also poured some of his brightness onto this research, for which I am grateful. Renzo has taught me most of what I know about radio observation and analysis, and has patiently corrected my English over and over again. I am most grateful to him for all the work he did in the last months of this thesis, and for letting me taste how great homemade Italian food tastes like. I would also like to thank my co-promotor John Dubinski, for helping me survive in the world of N-body simulations.

At the Institute, the long conversations and discussions with Jorge while we smoked in his room have been of great help and motivation. I also received ample help from several other people at work: Thijs van der Hulst, Roelof Bottema and Rob Swaters always had some time for my questions and I owe them much. Kor, Wim and Eite were most helpful and saved me from computer trouble many times, while Martin Vogelaar and Hans Terlow listened and answered my continuous questions about GIPSY. I would also like to thank the secretaries; especially Greta, that helped me to be able to swim across the pile of bureaucracy papers I sometimes had to deal with. George was always most helpful in library (and in dentist !) matters.

I also would like to thank the members of the reading committee (Frank, Bob and Tjeerd) for careful reading of the manuscript.

I have had a series of roommates during my five years at the Kapteyn. At first, I shared the office with several Dutch students, briefly with Remco (whose defense party I will always remember) and Rolf, and later with Henk and Leon, with whom I had great fun and long discussions. Later on, I have been enjoying the company of César and the many discussions we have had; as well as with Eric, to whom I am very grateful for translating the Dutch Summary for me. Jan and Els have been true friends for a long time, and showed me, among other things, how good Belgium night-life and beer is. The parties with Jean Philippe and Janis were most memorable. I thank Jacque for her friendship and for saving my life several times in Bjoeks every week. The rest of the PhD and postdocs have always been there like a family, and I thank them all for the great parties and laughs. I would like to especially mention Stephanie, Willem, Laura, Jelte, Jane, Leti, Hans, Diah, Mercedes, Enzo, Jocelyn, Hanadi, Michiel and Joris.

Pero también me gustaría extender mi gratitud a muchísimas personas fuera del Instituto, gente que me hizo llorar y reír, sentirme vivo, gente que hizo que Groningen fuera mi casa. Durante mi primer año en Holanda, la comunidad española de estudiantes Erasmus fue realmente especial (incluso llegamos a celebrar el día de San Sebastián y el Carnaval en Groningen!). Aquel año queda en mi memoria como uno de los más felices de mi vida, todo gracias a Agnès, Esti, Ana, Monika, Kroketo, Dani, Natalia Mari y Javi. Poco después, tuve la suerte de conocer a Salva y Pepe, en un año lleno de guitarra, Sabina, visitas al Zolder, y fumadas: un año también inolvidable.

Algo más tarde Jero y Emilio entraron en mi vida, y juntos hemos patrullado sin descanso la zona de bares de Groningen (con especial mención al Storm), y hasta hemos bailado salsa juntos. Gracias por todo, no lo hubiera podido conseguir sin vosotros dos!! También me siento afortunado de haber conocido a un grupo muy especial de holandesas, que se han convertido en verdaderas amigas a lo largo de los últimos años: Christine, Doutsen, Wendy, Natasja y Ottla.

Quiero agradecer a Jorge y a Isa su amistad, y las múltiples ocasiones en que me invitaron a cenas exquisitas en su casa. ¡Echaré de menos esas largas partidas a la marrana! También he sido afortunado por haber conocido a César y a Lulú, y compartir muchos momentos agradables con ellos.

Y a Txema, que me visitó en Groningen varias veces a lo largo de estos cinco años, y cuya amistad es uno de mis tesoros más preciados: muchas gracias por estar ahí, tío.

Mi housemates also deserve my gratitude. I enjoyed very much those breakfasts with Casper where we talked about philosophy and astronomy. To Mark, thanks for having always an open door for me. I also had many laughs with de Koning, Fritz and Martijn: thanks guys.

I would like to warmly thank Herman for all the sound advice he gave me over the years, it really helped me.

I also would like to thank The Netherlands as a country. It took me in its arms and made life much easier than Spain would have done with a foreigner. Its magic of bikes, architecture and tranquility have conquered a place in my heart, and I will always remember it with joy.

I am very grateful to NWO for funding my PhD research, and to the Kapteyn Institute, LKBF fonds and the University Library for financing the printing of this thesis.
