ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS
One of my dreams is became true in Groningen. Be a PhD is now a reality!!! I am here, after four years of learning, blessings and efforts. I am really thankful with the life and with my angel to have the opportunity to live in Netherlands. I want to say thanks to the life by the gift to love my work and my scientific work fields (microbiology, environmental biotechnology and microbial ecology). First, I would like to say thanks to my supervisor (Professor Jan Dirk van Elsas). I am so proud and lucky to have a professor like you. Thanks Jan Dirk for all your support, scientific input and for teach me how to be a good scientist. Thanks for trust on me and for give me the opportunity to develop my research in excellent work environment. Your commitment and passion for the microbiology inspire me to continue working as a scientist. I will remember you (always) as one of the most famous microbiologists in the world.

I would like to thanks Professor Joana Falcao Salles for all the scientific comments during these four years and also for give me her valuable friendship. I would like to thanks our collaborators in the University of Copenhagen, Denmark (Julia, Stjepan and William). Thanks for open the doors of your lab and for the scientific support in the chapter 7 of this thesis. Thanks to “compatriotita” Dr. Diego Chaves for the help in all the bioinformatic work. Thanks to Professor Fernando Dini Andreote for always believing in me. Fernando, I started my scientific career with your backing. It was a blessing to meet you in 2008 in Mar del Plata (Argentina). I will never forget Piracicaba, the “Brazilian manguexais” and of course your support in difficult times. Also, thanks to my friend and my master supervisor “mi mentor” Dr. Jose Salvador Montaña. Jose, thanks for show me this incredible “metagenomic world”.

My special thanks to all my colleagues from the Microbial Ecology Department and the secretary Joukje. Thanks to all the first Brazilians (Francisco, Armando, Maju, Elisa, Michelita, Henrique, Simone and Layanne). I will never forget the orange house, our -go dance in the night- “baladas boas”, all the beers and dinners. Guys, you always made me feel like at home ... obrigado..., thanks to teach me how speak in Portuguese (mais o menos... kkkk). Of course, it was a pleasure to meet some more Brazilians in these four years (Mylenne, Pedro, Doroteia, Felipe, Deborah, Thais, Camila, Eder, Joelm, Rachel and Renata). Special thanks to my friends Irshad and Cyrus... guys, you are awesome persons, I will always remember you and also our squash matches. My office mate (Jolanda), thanks to be a kindly person, for help me and shared some moments of your life with me. Stemphanie J, thanks for your friendship and help in the first year... siempre me gustó tu acento Uruguyo. Thanks to my funny and friendly Chinese colleagues (Miaozhi, Miao Wang and Pu Yang). Too many people crossed by for our lab in these four years. However, I would like to thanks Mukil (my Be-Basic colleague), Larisa, Irene, Victor, Britt, Domen, Manoj and Silvia. Guys, thanks for being good colleagues. Pili and Maryam, I am so proud of being a Colombian when I see two beautiful and smart girls like both of you, thanks for your friendship and support in these last years.

Siempre me acordare de ustedes chicos... y por supuesto de nuestro mundial de futbol Brasil 2014, los sancochos, empanadas, ajiaco, lentejas y toda la pola que me he tomado con la familia Colombiana en Groninga... jejeje!!! Quiero también

Padre, lo amo... gracias por enseñarme a crecer como ser humano, por tu apoyo incondicional en estos últimos cuatro años, por mostrarme tu corazón y por confiar en mí. Por último, pero no menos importante. Quiero dar mis súper especiales agradecimientos a mi amor, mi compañera de vida, mi amiga, mi pareja, mi confidente, mi apoyo, mi ángel, mi luz, mi todo... Ana Cristina... Mi cielo, gracias por estar acá, gracias por brindarme todo de ti, gracias por ser ese ser especial que me apoyo siempre. Esta meta cumplida no sería igual sin estar tu a mi lado.
