Curriculum vitae

Karlijn Becking

Karlijn Becking was born on the 8th of May in 1990 in Delft. In 2007 she received her Gymnasium diploma at the Dalton in The Hague. She started her medical study in Groningen in 2008 and graduated in 2017. During her scientific internship, she examined the immune system in relation to manic symptoms in a group of depressed patients. This resulted in her first published article, and enrollment in the MD-PhD program. During this MD-PhD program she has presented results of her studies on multiple national and international conferences, including in Germany, Switzerland and the United States. For this last conference, she received the Van Walree scholarship for promising medical students, awarded by the Royal Netherlands Academy of Sciences. Currently she is working as a doctor in pediatrics in the Jeroen Bosch Hospital in 's Hertogenbosch.
