Completion of this thesis was a challenging, mostly exciting, inevitably frustrating, and eventually rewarding journey. It was a journey of six years, during which I experienced many ups and downs. More accurately, several overwhelming “downs” preceded several thrilling “ups”, which was succeeded by another overwhelming “down”. For me, this journey is a perfect illustration of one of my mottos used in the high-school period: no pains, no gains; although I am not completely convinced that my gains are sweet enough to justify all the bitter pains that agonized me in the past six years. By no means do I believe in hedonism, but I do believe in the value of having a balanced life, in which gains can somehow outweigh pains. Finally, having scrambled out of this suffocating tunnel, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the people and organizations that helped me, directly and/or indirectly, for the completion of this thesis.

First and foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervision team: Prof. Dr. Dirk Pieter van Donk, Prof. Dr. Taco van der Vaart, and Dr. Miriam Wilhelm for their continuous support, motivation, and immense knowledge. I first met Taco back in the autumn of 2011, during the “job interview”. A Chinese proverb says that 千裡馬常有，而伯樂不常有 (Swift horses are usually found but not the same as ‘Pak Lok’, the person who has good judgment to spot swift horses). Taco has been my Pak Lok, who has shown consistent support from the very beginning, although I am far from being a “swift horse”. All through these years, his immense knowledge, network skills, and negotiation skills have greatly contributed to the completion of all three projects. Thank you, Taco, for introducing me to our case company and introducing me to a broader academic network. Taco and Dirk Pieter formed my supervision team in September of 2012, when I officially kicked off my PhD project in Groningen. Many thanks go to Dirk Pieter for his substantial support which came in many forms: detailed, critical, and constructive comments, which helped me to improve my academic writing skills substantially; expansive thinking, which provided gleams of sun shines when my knowledge and creativity seemed to have failed me; high academic standards, which prevented the papers from being sent out prematurely, etc. Miriam started to act as my daily supervisor shortly before the summer of 2013, which further increased the strength of the supervision team. Her immense knowledge, skillful guidance, and consistent support have contributed significantly to the completion of my thesis. Miriam and I have been working on four projects, but only one of them is included in this thesis. As such, this thesis is just a partial reflection of Miriam's contribution to my academic improvement. Without her participation, my PhD journey would have been very different. I feel extremely lucky and gratitude to have such a wonderful supervision team.

Second, many thanks go to the SOM, which has provided the logistical support for completing this thesis. Ellen is always ready to help: course registrations, travel application and reimbursements, etc. Arthur has prepared more than a dozen of letters for me: Visa applications, ID extensions, conference registrations, etc. Rina has been so generous that I was always given adequate travelling budgets to attend one or sometimes even two international conferences each year. Special thanks go to Rina, Taco, and Dirk Pieter for extending my scholarship for a period of 6 months in 2016. Last but not least, many thanks go to the PhD coordinators, Linda, Justin, Jasper, and Kristian, for their kind support at different phases of this journey. The secretaries of Operations Department, Durkje, Marjo, Renny, Linda, Ellen, Heleen, and Irene, also provided valuable support during the past years.

One of the most exciting, enjoyable, and memorable parts of this journey was the field study for data collection. I was very lucky to have received significant support from our case company COSMOS. Many thanks go to Emile, Zhihai, Steven, Ellen, Jenny, Amy, Carl, Tommy, Ann, Tao Jian, and Yolanda. With their support, I could have access to the ten suppliers and did comprehensive and interesting interviews with more than 60 interviewees. Many thanks go to all my interviewees from COSMOS and the ten suppliers for their time, hospitality, and interesting and insightful stories.

Special thanks go to my assessment committee, Prof. Dr. Christian Busse (University of Oldenburg), Prof. Dr. Mark Pagell (University College Dublin), and Prof. Dr. Jordi Surroca (University of Groningen), for their time and efforts put in assessing my thesis. Thank you all for your positive assessment and constructive comments.

Besides these people and organizations, I would also like to express my sincere gratitude to several groups of people that have helped me in many ways in the past six years. First, my sincere thanks go to my UCAS Group: Yanping Zhao (赵艳平), Xin Fan (范昕), Yuwan Duan (段玉婉), Quanrun Chen (陈全润), Xuan Zhang (张璇), Ye Liu (刘 晔), Suxiao Li (李苏骁), Binqian Yan (闫冰倩), Qiubin Huang (黄秋彬) & Jenny (翁健莉), Yan Yan (闫岩) & Jingjing Zhang (张晶晶), Jiyuan Wang (王吉元) & Ya Gao (高雅), Kailan Tian (田开兰), Huan Liu (刘欢), and Chenming Peng (彭晨明). Inevitably, this is a very dynamic group, but it has shown extraordinary cohesion and solidarity all through these years. Special thanks go to Yanping, Quanrun, and Yuwan for helping me to settle down in Groningen back in 2012. Ye Liu has provided timely and professional methodological support, which helped me to finish the first two chapters of the thesis.

Many thanks go to my fellow PhD students in the OPERA Group: Oskar, Nick (Ziengs), Nick (van Beest), Monique, Minou, Sarah, Nonhlanhla, Robert-Jan, Hendryk, Bart, Aline, Sabine, Roel, Anne, Lisanne, Mitchel, and Lisa..... Thank you, Oskar, for your sweets and melatonin. Thank you, Monique, for helping me to identify and report the BSN fraud to the Belasting Dienst. Thank you, Hendryk, for the BBQs and for helping me to move out of the student house. Thank you, Aline, for providing me with first aid by the side of Neuchatel Lake. Thank you, Bart, for your skates. Thank you, Lisa, for taking over the premaster workshops when I was busy with taking care of my daughter and wife... Special thanks go to my office mate Robert-Jan. It has been a great pleasure to share Dui-651 with you in the past three years. We had a lot of interesting conversations, and you have provided me with many helps. Special thanks go to Bart and Robert-Jan for helping me to finish the last mile of the Marathon, namely preparing the Dutch summary (Samenvatting) included at the end of the thesis.

Many thanks go to my Badminton Group in Groningen: Zhe Sun (孙哲), Jieqiang Wei (韦杰强), Qibing Xie (谢其兵), Yanping Zhao (赵艳平), Shuhai Zhang (张书海), Suping Peng (彭素萍), Lu Zhang (张璐), Ning Ding (丁宁) & Lefon Ching (陈乐方), Xuewen Zhang (张学文) & Min Wu (武敏), Chenglong Deng (邓成龙), Huatang Cao (曹华堂), Miaozhen Huang (黄妙珍), Shili Chen (陈仕莉), Yi Yu (余意), and Yueyang Sun (孙月阳). Thank you, Dut Van Vo, for playing with me and training me in 2013. Special thanks go to our great trainer, Rik Wilbers, for his professional and patient instructions and trainings all through the years.

I would also like to express my sincere gratitude to the following friends who have made my time at Groningen enjoyable and memorable: Tao Yuan (袁涛), Jiquan Wu (吴继全) & Zhonghong Ma (马忠洪), Weiguo Xia (夏卫国), Jonanathan Gray, Qingkai Yang (杨庆凯) & Yuhan Wang (王煜涵), Binqi Tang (唐滨琪) & Shili Chen (陈仕莉), Yan Shao (邵闫) & Fan Wang (王帆), Shuai Feng (冯帅), Cong Duan (段丛), and Aobo Jiang (姜奥博). Thank you, Tao, for taking good care of me for years. Your hospitality and delicious foods constantly made me indebted. Thank you, Jiquan and Zhonghong, for providing a shelter for me in 2014 and 2015. Special thanks go to Qingkai for taking care of my mother-in-law at Martini Ziekenhuis. Special thanks go to Mengmeng for taking good care of my wife and daughter while I was teaching in Sri Lanka. Special thanks go to Shili for taking care of Li and Sofie at UMCG, and Binqi for preparing the delicious and nutritional food for us when Sofie was born. Special thanks go to Fan and Yan for your delicious food and great cares... A friend in need is a friend indeed!

I would also like to express my sincere gratitude to several friends for their consistent support all through the years beyond my PhD journey: Zelin Hao (郝泽林), Jian Chen (陈剑), Long Liu (刘龙), Chuzhao Wang (王初照), Shaoyong Wang (王少永), and Jiajia Wu (吴嘉佳).

Special thanks go to Dr. Qian Wang (王谦) for her generous and consistent support in the past ten years. I am very lucky to have you as the supervisor for my master's program at UCAS.

Last but not least, my sincere gratitude goes to my wife Li Jiang. Your consistent and timely encouragement, among others, has prevented me from being overly complacent and motivated me to aspire for a higher goal. Your talents in organizing and calm personality are a great complement to me. Special thanks go to Li for transcribing basically all my interviews in 2014. Moreover, special thanks go to Li for taking great care of our daughter Sofie.
