“Quiquid Bono Conedes, Des Partem Tibi”
Diversity ≠ University
Am I privileged?
Social Capital
Diversity Matters has become a structural part of the European Union, and many countries have adopted it. However, diversity is a complex issue, often fraught with challenges, but also with opportunities. By Ilia Sekhunia

Diversity Matters: Raising awareness for National Coming Out Day

As I write this column, Rainbow Week (Croatia 2018) has just started. Croatia, a country known for its rich history and culture, has been home to many diverse communities, including the LGBTQ+ community. With the slogan “We are FEB,” the municipality of Grigioni has been organizing a rainbow week for the past couple of years. As part of Rainbow Week, the municipality of Grigioni organizes a variety of events, such as concerts, lectures, and social gatherings. These events are designed to raise awareness about the LGBTQ+ community and to promote tolerance and acceptance. By Ilia Sekhunia
Bilingual, with an eye for inclusion
Culturally Inclusive

Inclusive culture
Needs for Inclusive Culture

- Taboo
- Own up to mistakes
- More elements of diversity
- Attention for minorities and majorities
- Connections
- Intersections

→ Requires cultural change

→ Diversity officer(s) to work in inclusive culture, questions?

e.r.sebamalai@rug.nl