Research impact

Total citations (Google Scholar): 6843

H-index: 34

i10-index: 52

Highest-cited paper: 2371

<https://scholar.google.nl/citations?user=EqJDnIoAAAAJ&hl=en>

The rankings provided by the RePEc/IDEAS project show that, as of August 2019, I rank in the top 5% of all 55118 economists worldwide, in particular on indicators of research impact, such as the h-index, the number of citations and the number of citing authors (<https://ideas.repec.org/e/pin7.html>).

I am one of the developers of the Penn World Table and the Maddison Project Database, both widely used databases in economic research and teaching. Both attract a wide audience; for example, since July 2013, the Penn World Table website has been visited over 200,000 times and the documentation paper has been cited 2069 times.

Teaching

I am the programme director of the MSc program Economic Development and Globalization, coordinating a major course, Economic Development. In addition, I coordinate and teach Growth & Development Economics in the Bachelor E&BE and Development Economics and Empirics of Growth in the Research Master. I have also implemented a peer feedback system in Country Studies to encourage students to critically reflect on the work of their fellow students as well as their own work.

International research networks

1. International research group on “Real GDP and PPP measurement”
 - Member since 2008. Annual (by invitation only) meetings have included Prof. Angus Deaton (Princeton U., Nobel laureate), Prof. Robert Feenstra (UC Davis), Prof. Erwin Diewert (U. of British Columbia), Prof. Peter Neary (Oxford U.), Prof. Orley Ashenfelter (Princeton U.), Prof. Alberto Cavallo (MIT), Prof. Ingvild Almås (NHH, Bergen), Prof. Prasada Rao (U. of Queensland) and Prof. Alan Heston (U. of Pennsylvania).
 - Co-organiser of the 2019 and 2011 meeting in Groningen and participant since 2008.
2. Society for Economic Measurement (SEM)

This society was founded in 2013 to promote research on economic measurement, using advanced tools from economic theory, econometrics, experimental economics, mathematics, and statistics. It is presided by Prof. Bill Barnett (U. of Kansas). For more information: <http://sem.society.cmu.edu/home.html>.

- Fellow and member of the advisory council. Other council members include Prof. Robert Feenstra (UC Davis), Prof. Jonathan Haskel (Imperial College), Prof. Charles Hulten (U. of Maryland) and Prof. Prasada Rao (U. of Queensland).
3. International Association of Research in Income and Wealth (IARIW)
- IARIW is a major professional network to advance education and knowledge in the general area of income and wealth by organizing conferences, for more information: <http://www.iariw.org/>.
- Member of the Council of IARIW, the governing body of the Association.
 - Member of the Editorial Board of the Review of Income and Wealth, the association's journal.
 - Member of the US sister network: The Conference on Research in Income and Wealth (CRIW).

Organisation of summer school, workshops and conferences

- Workshop of International research group on “Real GDP and PPP measurement”: Groningen, 2019.
- Conference on the 25th anniversary of the Groningen Growth and Development Centre (GGDC), Groningen, 2017.
- Summer School on Globalization and Inequality, Groningen, 2016.
- Session at the annual Society of Economic Measurement conferences, Paris, 2015 and Boston, 2017.
- Sessions at bi-annual meetings of IARIW (International Association of Research in Income and Wealth): Rotterdam, 2014, Dresden, 2016, and Copenhagen, 2018.
- Workshop of International research group on “Real GDP and PPP measurement”: Groningen, 2011.
- Workshop on Industry dynamics, firm productivity and economic growth: Groningen, 2010.

Policy and public debate contributions

Improving bank output measurement: In my academic publications, collaboration with ECB statisticians, and presentations, I have argued for better measures of bank output in the National Accounts. This has led to several high-level statistical taskforces, changes to US GDP methods, and the same call has most recently been taken up by the Bean (2015) review of UK economic statistics.

Improved cross-country relative prices: The relative price measures published by the World Bank under the heading of International Comparison Program (ICP) serve as the benchmark data for comparing the relative size of economies and determining the number of people living in absolute poverty. As a member of the ICP Technical Advisory Task Force, I have worked to make these data more reliable and comparable.

Productivity: Since June 2016, I am an academic partner at the Netherlands Bureau for Economic Policy Analysis (CPB), to contribute to their research agenda on productivity growth in the Netherlands.
